BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—Agreements providing for prosecution of the war to the complete subjugation of Germany and Japan, and for an eventual league of nations to enforce peace were signed by the foreign secretaries of the United States, Great Britain, Russia, and China at the Moscow conference. The agreements were made public today in Washington, London, and Moscow.

Attention in Washington was riveted upon the post-war peace plan, which at once became a factor in the forthcoming action of the senate on the Connally resolution.

Avoiding resort to an international police force to police the world, the agreement provides for the preservation of peace by the four big powers employing their armies and navies in concert without surrender of sovereignty or freedom of action.

Set Up Advisory Commission.

In addition, the conferees agreed to establish in London an advisory commission to study "European questions arising as the war develops," and to make recommendations to the three governments. Another advisory council to discuss matters relating to Italy, in which the French National Liberation committee, Greece and Jugo-Slavia also will be represented, is also to be set up.

Specifically the United States, Great Britain, Russia, and China bound themselves to fight Germany to unconditional surrender, thus counteracting the implications of recent Russian official propaganda addressed to the Germans that they could make a separate peace with the soviet union on better terms than with Great Britain and America.

Bound Selves to Fight Japan.

Likewise the United States, Great Britain, and China bound themselves to fight Japan to unconditional surrender, thus carrying out Prime Minister Churchill's offer at the Casablanca conference to put the British pledge in treaty form. President Roosevelt rejected the offer at that time, saying a gentleman's word was sufficient. Russia, being at peace with Japan, did not join in this agreement.

Apparently what happened at the Moscow conference was that Great Britain and the United States gave assurances satisfactory to Russia on the question of establishing a second front, and Russia gave acceptable assurances that she will not make a separate peace with the Nazis.

The question of Stalin's plans to annex or sovietize Poland and other adjoining nations was postponed for later consideration.

Committed to Second Front.

Britain and America were already committed to the second front as soon as feasible, and Stalin had promised in the Anglo-Russian treaty of 1942 not to make a separate peace.

In sum, therefore, the accomplishment of the conference was an agreement by Stalin to participate in a post-war collective security program in consideration of the waiver by the western allies of immediate objections to his annexation plans.

The Moscow agreements were embodied in five documents, the outstanding features of which were:

1. Continuance of hostilities until the axis powers "have laid down their arms on the basis of unconditional surrender."

2. Continuance of united action of

King Must Go to Save Italy, Badoglio Says

SOMEWHERE IN SOUTHERN ITALY, Nov. 1 (AP).—Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio told aged King Victor Emmanuel today that he could not form a representative government while the king remained in power.

Thus Badoglio, who had just returned after an air tour of southern Italy, including Naples where he conferred with political leaders, handed the king his toughest problem in the 43 years of his reign—whether to abdicate or allow Italy to tear herself apart by political strife.

Sforza Won't Support King.

In Naples, Badoglio had conferred with Count Carlo Sforza and Benedetto Croce, the Italian philosopher, among others.

Sforza, anti-Fascist leader who is outstanding among Italian political figures, is said to have told Badoglio he never would join the government so long as the king retained the throne. He was reported backed by Croce and the entire national liberation front, which includes Italy's six political parties.

No Opposition to Prince.

While the national liberation front prefers a republic, Sforza and other leaders let it be known that they would not oppose a regency for the Prince of Naples—the six-year old son of Crown Prince Umberto.

They told Badoglio, however, that the regent would have to be selected with care, and that they would decline flatly to consider Umberto or the duke of Aosta.

It has been suggested by those close to Sforza that Badoglio might be acceptable as a regent.

MOSCOW STYLE POST-WAR PLAN PUT TO SENATE

Held Up as Model for U. S. Policy.

BY JOHNSON KANADY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—Two senate factions—those who favor the generally worded Connally statement of post-war aims and those headed by Sen. Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] who want to "strengthen" the resolution immediately—cited the action at Moscow today as proving their cases.

Then, as the senate post-war planning debate over which case the Moscow action comes nearest to proving reached its peak, Sen. Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.], who thus far has avoided becoming involved in the debate, tossed in the suggestion that the senate adopt the Moscow declaration as its own declaration of post-war plans.

Lucas did not make his suggestion in the form of a formal motion.

Hesitate to Introduce It.

Following today's session, Sen. Pepper and Sen. Carl A. Hatch [D., N. M.], leaders in the move to "strengthen" the Connally resolution, said that while they would vote for a resolution embodying the Moscow agreement if it were introduced formally, they do not plan to make the substitution themselves.

Sen. Tom Connally [D., Tex.] sprang up in objection to the Pepper-Hatch proposal, saying that his resolution, which calls for "international authority with power to prevent aggression and to preserve the peace" actually "is in substantial conformity" with the Moscow declaration.

Sen. Robert A. Taft [R., O.] sided with Connally, declaring that the four power agreement "says nothing whatsoever" about a military force to keep the peace.

Atlantic Charter Absent.

Commenting on that portion of the Moscow agreement on unconditional surrender of the enemy, Connally said it should "silence those who have been expressing fears that Russia might conclude a separate peace with Germany."

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], who seldom approves of the administration's foreign policy, agreed with Connally on this. He added, however, "I note no mention was made of the Atlantic Charter—I wonder why?"

The Pepper group fears that if the Moscow declaration becomes the issue, those who oppose the senate taking any definite post-war stand while the war continues could question whether senate approval of the Moscow statement might not in effect amount to ratification of a treaty.

This fear is viewed by some as an extension of the argument advanced by those who oppose the passage of any resolution now—namely, that if the senate should declare a policy, the executive might consider it a "blank check" to make any agreements which, by the executive's interpretation, could fall under the terms of the declaration.

Sen. John A. Chandler [R., Conn.] has advanced this argument in seek-

NAPLES' LIGHTS GO ON WITHOUT SETTING OFF HIDDEN ENEMY MINES

NAPLES, Italy, Nov. 1 (AP).—Electric current switches were thrown in one section of Naples today, and jittery residents were greatly relieved when the lights went on and nothing else happened.

A thoro search had been made of the zone for mines the Germans might have left wired to explode when the current was restored, and residents of the section were warned so the more fearful ones might evacuate their homes.

The AMG [allied military government] transportation, communications and public utilities section is working with the army to restore the electric system damaged by the Germans before they retreated.

TRAP GERMAN ARMY IN CRIMEA

LONDON, Nov. 2 [Tuesday]—(AP).—The Red army trapped tens of thousands of Germans in the Crimea yesterday by cutting the Perekop isthmus. Early today Moscow announced that one fleeing enemy group north of the peninsula had been surrounded, losing 2,000 men killed and 6,000 captured in a continuing battle of annihilation.

Nearly 5,000 Germans also were killed and scores of tanks, guns and trucks were captured or destroyed in fresh Russian gains inside the Dnieper river bend, Moscow said, as the Red army continued its pursuit of demoralized German troops, thousands of whom have perished on the Nogaisk steppe.

Move Across Isthmus.

In sealing off the Crimea the Russians captured Perekop, on the isthmus of that name, and smashed five miles beyond across the narrow land bridge toward the Crimea. The Russians cracked the old Tartar wall fortification in this advance. The Red army also moved ahead five miles on another corridor leading into the Crimea from the mainland. This thrust was made at Novo-Aleksyevka northeast of the peninsula.

"Thus the ways of retreat by land for the enemy forces in the Crimea have been cut by our troops," the Russians said.

Other Army 15 Miles Away.

On the other side of the peninsula the Red army was 15 miles from the Crimea after taking Salkovo, another point on a railway at the edge of the causeway leading into the Crimea.

The Germans faced one of their greatest disasters since Stalingrad where Field Marshal Gen. Friedrich von Paulas' 6th army of 350,000 men was lost.

The German Crimean forces are believed to number less than that, since some of them have evacuated, according to Berlin. The Russians themselves were said to have had only 200,000 troops in Crimea when they lost it during the 1941-'42 fighting.

The Germans' only hope of escape is by sea and air. Moscow dispatches said the Russian fleet in the Black sea and the Red air force were ready to smash any such attempts.

Strikes Anger Draft Board; Coast Deferments Rapped

Halt Inductions

Little Falls, Minn., Nov. 1 [Special].—Aroused by the current coal strike, the Morrison county draft board today announced it would refuse to process any more men for induction until all strikes are settled "for the duration."

After reaching this decision at today's meeting, the four man board made clear its stand in a statement forwarded to state selective headquarters at St. Paul, President Roosevelt, United States Sen. Joseph H. Ball [R., Minn.], and Rep. Harold Knutson [R., Minn.].

"We, the members of the Morrison county board," the statement read, "wish to go on record as refusing to process any more men for induction until all strikes are settled for the duration.

"Who'll Support Soldiers?"

"If a million men can go on strike, who is going to support the soldiers already in the armed forces? Why put more men into the service if we cannot take care of those already in?"

The board's decision that it might as well go on strike, too, if others continue to do so in great numbers was prompted entirely by the national labor situation, the members said. They asserted that there are no strikes or other labor disturbances in this agricultural area.

Their action was said to have been motivated by resentment based on the belief that other parts of the country, especially those in which the strikes are taking place, are unwilling to give the same coöperation in fighting the war as does this district, which continues sending men to the front without impeding their efforts with strikes.

Home of Veteran Units.

Because of the large number of men from here who have been fighting in long campaigns, this community is deeply war conscious. Many of the men from here were members of a National Guard unit sworn into the army as a group. They have been fighting with the 34th division thru the African, Sicilian, and Italian campaigns.

The draft board appeared undecided about the group of men whom it had notified last week to leave within a few days for their preliminary examinations at Fort Snelling, Minneapolis. Altho the members said they were not in favor of sending even this last group, no notice of recall has been issued.

Members of the board are Adolph Peterson, a retired road contractor; A. L. Christianson, retired creamery man; George W. Merkling, and John H. Hanfler, farmers.

Slackers Protested

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 1 [Special].—Joseph E. Hoeft, chairman of Glendale selective service board 184, today submitted his resignation to Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, protesting the drafting of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers, while "thousands of young men have been allowed to become draft dodgers and slackers."

In a message to Hershey, Hoeft said, "It seems a waste of time and effort to remain on a board which will have the dubious responsibility or satisfaction of inducting pre-Pearl Harbor fathers, of whom you state there will be 1,000,000 inducted in the next year, when thousands of young men have been allowed to become slackers and draft dodgers merely because of their employment in defense plants irrespective of their real ability or past experience, because of the method of handling these employees by industry."

Says Plants Run Draft.

Announcing his resignation Hoeft said, "Under the statement released by Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes together with present regulations, it is very evident that the defense plants of this area, together with governmental agencies, will be just about running the selective service of this area in spite of the fact that Mr. Byrnes stated that the local boards would be autonomous."

Speaking of difficulties encountered by local board members in filling quotas Hoeft said, "With all the effort being made by defense plants in southern California to spread the story of lack of help, there never has been an investigation to check their waste and inefficient use of man power.

Criticizes Confusion.

"Surely such conditions should not be allowed to exist when we are drafting fathers who have tried to be good American citizens and provide the proper security for themselves and their families.

"While news releases from Washington are given out to so confuse fathers that they will leave their present employment to go into war plants, nothing has been done to use the tremendous amount of man power thru the use of men who have been rejected and placed in 4-F.

"I deeply regret resigning from this needed work," Hoeft said, "but under the existing confusion from the various government agencies, each with a hand in the draft pie, and the pressure to draft heads of families when so much man power is not efficiently used, I can come to no other decision."

Calls on Men to Begin Work by Tomorrow

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—President Roosevelt, confronted with another general coal strike, tonight seized the mines a second time and authorized Secretary Harold L. Ickes to conclude bargaining contracts with the miners, subject to the approval of the war labor board.

Rejecting the alternative of waiting another day or more for the United Mine Workers' leadership to act, the President announced his order 2 hours and 15 minutes after the union's policy committee had adjourned for the day without reaching a decision on sending the miners back to work.

A survey showed virtually a complete shutdown in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Illinois, and several other coal states spreading west to Montana and Washington as the President called on the miners to be at their posts Wednesday morning.

Ickes Signs Decree.

Ickes immediately signed an order seizing all coal mines producing 50 tons or more daily where a work stoppage has taken place or is threatened. Presidents of the various coal companies affected by the order were designated as operating managers.

The President's seizure order differed from that of last May in that Ickes may work out agreements with the miners.

The new arrangement offers the miners the advantage of negotiating with one man on a nation-wide basis instead of with different groups of operators who do not agree among themselves.

Lewis Silent.

John L. Lewis, UMW chieftain, had nothing to say publicly about the President's order.

In compliance with the labor disputes act, the order provides for terminating possession of the mines not more than 60 days after the restoration of "productive efficiency."

If the miners in the meantime negotiate agreements with Ickes, the operators would have the choice of accepting the agreements or probably losing control of their properties for the duration of the war because the fulfilment of the condition "productive efficiency" lies largely with the United Mine Workers.

In a statement issued at the same time as the executive order taking possession of the mines, the President declared "for some time we have not been producing the coal which we need to fight the war."

Protection Provided.

"As President of the United States and as commander in chief of the armed forces," he went on. "I call upon every miner to return without a day's delay to the mines."

The President authorized Ickes to appeal to Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson for any action "he may deem necessary or desirable to provide protection" to returning miners.

UMW LEADERS URGE COAL MINE STRIKERS TO VOTE REPUBLICAN

Uniontown, Pa., Nov. 1 (AP).—An appeal to striking coal miners to register a protest against their failure to get a contract with the operators by "voting Republican" at the polls tomorrow was made tonight in a circular signed by presidents of two United Mine Workers locals.

"Fellow miners, it's time to protest," urged the circulars, which were signed by Edwin Hill, head of Crawford local, No. 6561, and Larry Jackson, Grindstone local, No. 7915. Both said they were registered Democrats.

"We have no contract," the circulars said. "Why? Politics. They are out to wreck our union and our leaders. They think we will vote the Democratic ticket because we like President Roosevelt.

"Let us protest now and show we are free Americans. The way to protest is to vote for the Republicans."

BOUGAINVILLE ISLAND INVADED BY MacARTHUR

Challenges Japs' Fleet to Fight.

ALLIED HDQ. IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Nov. 1 [Tuesday] (AP).—American ground forces captured Empress Augusta bay in a bold invasion of Bougainville Island in the Solomons at dawn Monday, and Gen. MacArthur challenged the Japanese navy to come out and fight.

Cognizant that this big move threatened to unhinge the entire Japanese position in the Southwest Pacific, and that the enemy must consider strong counter-measures, Gen. MacArthur said:

"If the Jap fleet comes out I will welcome it. I will throw everything we have, including all my heavy bombers, against it."

By-Pass Big Jap Bases.

This invasion of Bougainville, 260 miles from the Jap base at Rabaul, translating into air, naval and amphibious action strategy planned by Gen. MacArthur, Adm. Halsey and other high officials, moved the allies 200 miles from the scene of their recent victories in the central Solomons.

The attacking force achieved its initial landings with such surprise that little opposition was encountered.

Six Raids on Rabaul.

"Exploiting to the full our recent comprehensive air sweeps at Rabaul and in the Solomons, our right wing under Adm. Halsey was thrown forward approximately 200 miles into central Bougainville on the morning of Nov. 1," headquarters said.

The air strikes referred to were six raids in October on Rabaul, during which more than 500 planes were destroyed or rendered unfit for flying, and the dropping of more than 1,000 tons of bombs recently which rendered unusable Bougainville's main air bases.

The Japanese were estimated at one time to have approximately 40,000 troops on Bougainville. By moving around the Bougainville shore instead of attacking frontally, the allies by-passed the bombed-out air bases of Kahili and Kara near Buin and Ballale in the Shortlands.

Explaining the strategy and objectives of the operation at a special conference, Gen. MacArthur said repeated heavy air strikes "had neutralized Rabaul, but had not prevented the Japanese from syphoning in reënforcements."

"Losing Cocksureness."

After his strategy conferences, Gen. MacArthur said on the eve of the Bougainville invasion, "If my luck and weather are right, Halsey should be able to land without serious losses."

He explained that the by-passing move, in addition to cutting enemy supply and communication lines in the sector would afford the allies air fields from which fighters could provide cover for bombers raiding Rabaul.

"The Jap has been badly beaten and is beginning to lose some of his cocksureness," the general said, but he quickly added:

"The Jap is tough in body, tough in soul. Where will we strike next? I'll tell you about that another time."

Convoy Unmolested.

The extent to which the enemy's air potential around Rabaul was neutralized was borne out by failure of the Japanese air force to hit the allied convoys moving northwestward Sunday night. Neither did the enemy air force impede American troops swarming from landing craft on the beaches at Empress Augusta bay early yesterday morning.

Bougainville is second only to New Britain as a strongly occupied island in the area northeast of Australia.

Participating in the conferences with MacArthur and Halsey were Lt. Gen. Millard Harmon, commanding general in the South Pacific, and Maj. Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift, who led the invasion of the Solomons at Guadalcanal on Aug.

7. Gen. Vandegrift only recently returned to the South Pacific to lead the marine forces.

Prepare for Naval Action.

Preliminary reports from Adm. Halsey's headquarters did not refer to any enemy naval challenge, but leaders directing the flanking move were prepared for a possible Japanese naval thrust in waters northwest of Bougainville.

The Bougainville invasion followed preliminary landings last Wednesday on the two tiny islands of the Treasury group, 30 miles south of Bougainville, and seaborne American paratroop landings on Choiseul, to the southeast, Thursday.

Fighter-escorted Avenger torpedo bombers and Dauntless dive bombers turned their attention to Kieta, on Bougainville's east coast directly across from the invasion scene. The raiders scored hits on the runway, buildings and bivouac areas.

Buka Air Field Hit.

Liberators and Mitchells, with an escort, also went back to Buka, where 200 Japanese were surprised and killed recently by strafing allied raiders as they were building a new air strip. Encountering no interception, the raiders went after Buka's main air field, covering the runways, revetments and ground installations with bomb hits. One Japanese bomber was destroyed on the ground and seven others damaged. Later, Mitchells returned and bombed the airdrome after dark.

On Choiseul, the paratroops pushed the Japanese southeastward toward the barge depot of Sangigai.

On Treasury, while the American and New Zealand troops were seizing enemy weapons, a single Japanese plane tried a night raid. Antiaircraft shot it down.

In the Finschhafen area of New Guinea, where there have been flurries of ground fighting as the Japanese strove to extricate themselves from jungle positions hard to supply, the bulletin said Australians have destroyed an enemy strongpoint near Ziwowaning. Nipponese supply points in the area were pounded by allied dive bombers.

STUDDED WITH AIR FIELDS.

Bougainville is 115 miles long, studded with enemy airdromes, complete with surfaced runways and dispersal areas. But the cleverness of MacArthur's strategy is apparent in the landing of American amphibious forces at Empress Augusta bay, for it flanks all of Japan's airdromes on the southern portion of the island.

Empress Augusta bay has a wide sandy beach, intersected by small streams. Across the island from Empress Augusta bay lies Kieta peninsula and Pok Pok Island [Bakawar] which form an anchorage 1 mile by 1½ miles for one of the most protected harbors in the northern Solomons.

Bougainville is covered with a dense tropical undergrowth and thick jungles. Bougainville, taking its name from its 18th century French discoverer, was German owned until its surrender under terms of the Versailles treaty. Since 1920 it has been administered by the Austrailia commonwealth.

LOST CHICAGO FLYER FOUND IN GUINEA JUNGLE

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Nov. 1 (AP).—All 10 members of a Liberator bomber crew which had been lost on a flight to Rabaul today were together again at their home base after the last four of them were found in the New Guinea jungles. All had bailed out when their plane was thrown off course by a thunderstorm.

The four army flyers found yesterday and brought to this 5th air force base were Lieutenants John W. Taylor, Nashville, Tenn., pilot; P. J. Freeman, Chicago, co-pilot; Sergeants Lewis D. Ball, Akron, Ind., and Robert E. Fitzgerald, Quincy, Mass.

Lt. Freeman had a hectic experience after bailing out. His parachute caught in the branches of four trees. The Chicago flyer cut himself free and fell 50 feet to the ground.

1,300 JAPS SLAIN BY CHINESE IN BATTLE FOR CITY

Jap Colonel Is Among the Victims.

CHUNGKING, China, Nov. 1 (AP).—Japanese forces attempting a new two-pronged drive from above Lake Tungting, apparently in another effort to conquer China's Hunan province "rice bowl," have been checked or thrown back, altho fierce fighting is still raging, the Chinese high command announced tonight.

The Japanese drives southwestward and westward from their Yangtze valley bases at Owchihkow and Hwajung were first reported yesterday. They were the first Hunan offensives since last May, when Japanese attempts to drive down Lake Tungting into the rich farming belt and toward the important city of Changsha were thrown back with heavy enemy losses.

Japs Leave 1,300 Dead.

Today's bulletin gave the first details on the battle of Siaofeng, in northwest Chekiang on China's eastern front. It said the Japanese left 1,300 dead, including the colonel commanding the Siaofeng sector, on the battlefield when they retreated from the city Thursday, but had begun a counter-attack Friday after receiving reënforcements and air support.

No Change on Border.

It announced an unchanged situation on the Yunnan-Burma border front, where other enemy forces are attempting to seal off Salween river crossings against any possible supply movement to China thru Burma.

[American and British announcements from New Delhi said that allied planes kept up their relentless pounding of Japanese supply and communication centers over the week-end. American heavy Liberators, medium Mitchells, and dive-bombers struck at river bridges, railway yards and rolling stock, airdromes and barracks. Mogaung, the Lashio airdrome, and the Swebo area were among the targets hammered. The railway junction of Myingyan, enemy positions and villages, and rail and river communications were struck by R. A. F. Wellingtons, dive bombers, and fighter planes.]

Siam to Move Capital from Bangkok, Jap Radio Says

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—The Japanese radio said today that the Thailand [Siam] government was moving its capital to the "naturally fortified" city of Petchabun [Bejraburana], 190 miles north of Bangkok, the present capital. The broadcast, recorded by the federal communications commission, said the move was expected to be completed by next June.

ALERT PEARL HARBOR SURE VENGEANCE FOR JAP ATTACK NEARS

BY HAROLD SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 1.—These once peaceful islands have seen much pugnacious activity since the Japs' treachery at nearby Pearl Harbor almost two years ago, but it appeared to this newcomer today that the next two months are likely to be the busiest of the year.

Pearl Harbor may have been caught napping Dec. 7, 1941, but now she is wide awake to the threat of any new aggression and to the possibilities of swiftly growing superiority over an enemy who must henceforth spend a waning energy to guard an ever increasing number of vulnerable spots.

With the clearing away of the last vestiges of the Jap sneak attack defensive psychology on the islands has been replaced by a supreme confidence that vengeance is no longer a hope, but a certainty. Here, even more than on the nation's mainland, Pearl Harbor stands as a symbol of national revenge upon an unscrupulous foe. Popular hope is high that from these islands will come the blow that will bring Japan to its knees and soften it for the knockout punch.

FBI AIDS INQUIRY INTO BAD CHECK PASSER'S CAREER

Erroll Johnson Shaller, 40 years old, who said he supported himself sumptuously when not in prison by cashing an average of $3,000 monthly in fraudulent checks, was being held by police yesterday while officers investigated a charge that he sought to defraud a Chicago woman of $4,000 by pretending aid for her imprisoned son. The FBI joined in the investigation when Shaller boasted that he obtained tire and gasoline permits from various rationing boards by telling them he was a war veteran en route to a government hospital. Shaller was arrested Sunday. He said he had spent 19 years in Texas and Georgia prisons.

Request Branded Effort to Influence Elections.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—President Roosevelt today sent to congress the longest message of his career—a 12,000 word statement asking continuation of his program of maintaining and controling food prices thru the payment of federal subsidies.

He said government payments to make up the difference between variable costs of production and fixed retail prices on food, and payments to maintain farm prices to encourage production, are vital to the attainment of the 1944 food production goal, which is the largest in history.

The President declared that to abandon the administration food program "would increase the cost of living, bring about demands for increased wages which would then be justifiable, and might well start a serious and dangerous cycle of inflation."

Termed Weapon for Victory.

He asserted the program now employed not only would provide the allied nations with "one of their most potent weapons to shorten the war and win a lasting peace" but also would make possible fulfilment of the pledge to the farmers that the administration would guard against spiraling prices and then a collapse such as occurred after the last war.

The message evoked sharp criticism in congress on the ground Mr. Roosevelt failed to outline a definite food program. It also brought charges by two senators that its delivery today was a political move to influence tomorrow's elections in seven states.

The President did not say how much money would be required to finance his program. He said operation of the Commodity Credit corporation, government agency financing production subsidies and intended for use in effecting other subsidy programs, had cost the government 350 million dollars in 1943. He said the reduction of meat and butter prices at wholesale and retail levels without changing producer prices, a program which went into effect last June, costs another 450 millions a year.

Sum Termed Moderate.

"This expenditure of 800 million dollars per year is a moderate sum to pay in order to accomplish the objectives we have in mind—greater production and lower consumer prices—for a whole year," Mr. Roosevelt said. "In fact, it is about equal to the cost to us of waging this war for three days.

"Every nation now in the war has used some form of government equalization payments in order to hold down the cost of living and at the same time to allow a fair return to the farmers.

"A good part of the great success of the stabilization program in both Canada and Britain is due to the effective use of government funds in this way."

Message Refers to Taxes.

Evidently referring to the house ways and means committee rejection last week of the administration's 10½ billion dollar program of additional taxes, the President added:

"Altho this [the subsidy] program cannot hold the line without the enforcement of a firm price control and without an adequate tax and savings program to absorb excess purchasing power, nevertheless it is equally true that the firmest price control and the wisest fiscal policy cannot do the job themselves without the use of price supports.

"When properly used they have three important advantages: first, they stimulate production of certain necessary and select crops. Second, by preventing price increases, they eliminate inflationary tendencies. Third, they encourage the distribution of food thru normal legitimate channels instead of black market operators, who are willing to pay higher prices to farmers with the expectation of selling above ceiling prices.

"When effectively used, this program not only performs this necessary function in stabilization of the cost of living, but it also results in great savings to the government and to consumers. The expenditure of very small sums makes it possible to avoid pyramiding price increases all down the line—from the producer thru the processors, wholesalers, jobbers, and retailers—the cost of which runs to extremely large amounts."

Mr. Roosevelt said that in the case of food the money spent by the government not only has assured increased production but "directly and indirectly has saved the government and consumers billions of dollars."

"The agencies charged with responsibility for stabilizing the cost of living will, from time to time, place before the congress programs necessary to hold the line," he said. "These will require money. I strongly urge the congress to give serious consideration to their requests. I am confident that the executive and legislative branches of the government can pull in harness to get the job done."

Explains Program in Detail.

Mr. Roosevelt went into detail in the 19 page message and four page supplement to explain his farm and food policies since the start of the war. He asserted food was as much of a weapon of war as airplanes, tanks, guns, and ships, and that it was a potent psychological and morale weapon to use in the countries overrun by the axis.

He said that to provide for this greater need for food, the war food administration has "raised its sights" for 1944, calling for the planting of 380 million acres of food crops as compared with 364 million in 1943. He said virtually all acreage restrictions of former years would be removed, with only limitations on tobacco marketing to be retained.

Opposes First "Shot."

Concerning proposals to permit retail prices to rise sufficiently to cover higher costs of production, the President asserted the nation cannot afford to try even "a little inflation." He said, "A little leads to more," and added:

"I am unalterably opposed to taking the first shot by congressional or by any other action. The nation cannot afford to acquire the habit. We have children to think of.

"Those who are advocating an inflation course will have to be ready to accept responsibility for the results. We have so far been following a tried path and are getting along fairly well. This is no time to start wandering into an untried field of uncontroled and uncontrolable prices and wages."

To those who have argued that the WFA and the office of price administration should be put under one food czar, Mr. Roosevelt replied the administrators of the two agencies have such divergent tasks that to combine them would be unwise.

The charge that the President had failed to outline a definite food program in his message was made by Rep. Jesse Wolcott [R., Mich.], ranking minority member of the house banking and currency committee, which has reported out a bill outlawing all subsidies except those paid to encourage production.

Effort to Confuse Charged.

Wolcott, who charged in a statement that the President attempts to lump all subsidies together "to confuse the public," declared "no one in congress wants to stop the payment of subsidies to farmers to get maximum production."

"The question is whether we should use taxes to pay part of the grocery bill of people who are financially able to pay their own bills now more than ever before, or let them pay them themselves," Wolcott said. "I frankly, am disappointed the President didn't lay out a definite food program. To my mind, the President failed in that respect."

Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel [D., Tex.], who opposes the New Deal, declared the President "sowed a lot of words to try to reap a lot of votes."

DRIVES HIS BULLDOZER OVER FOE'S PILLBOX; BURIES JAPS ALIVE

GUADALCANAL, Oct. 30 [Delayed]—(AP).—An American bulldozer doubling in an emergency as an offensive weapon knocked out a Japanese machine gun nest during the landing on the Treasury Islands, it was reported here today.

A New Zealand officer, whose men were held up a few yards from shore by machine gun fire, saw an unidentified American drive his giant bulldozer from a landing craft.

"The light of battle came into the American's eye," the officer said. "With blade uplifted as a shield he barged thru the undergrowth and then as he reached the enemy pillbox he dropped the blade, scooping up earth on the Japs and burying them. Halfway over the hole he swerved his improvised tank around and then pulled away, leaving a flat, smooth area and no trace of the Japs."

TRAIN SOLDIERS IN THE JUNGLE, GOWRAN URGES

TribuneWriter Describes Grim War in Tropics.

Green American troops sent to fight the Japanese in the South Pacific should be given intensive training in the island jungles, under live machine gun and sniper fire closely simulating combat conditions, Clay Gowran, Chicago Tribune war correspondent, who was with United States forces on Guadalcanal, declared yesterday.

Floyd E. Thompson, chairman of the public affairs committee, presided. He introduced Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, who in turn introduced Gowran to the audience of nearly 500 that filled the grand ballroom of the hotel.

"Those men destined for combat in the jungle islands, upon their arrival in the Pacific areas, should be given further and intensive training in jungle warfare," Gowran said.

Solomon Islands Available.

"A high army officer on New Georgia explained a simple, easy way of doing this. There are several of the Solomon islands that could be used.

"Send the green men in small patrols of not more than a dozen into the jungle for perhaps two or three weeks at a time. Give them short rations, make them find their own water. With each group send a man who has gone thru the hell of jungle warfare, and knows what it is.

"Most important, provide a simulated enemy who has all the skill at jungle fighting that the Japs have. We have exactly the right men for that job, a battalion of Fijian scouts, who have lived in the bush all their lives. Have our patrols go up against real machine gun and sniper fire. Have them get used to night attacks, to infiltration, to the continual harassing which wears down the green soldier.

Prepared to Fight Japs.

"That way, our men will be better prepared to carry the fight to the Japs. They will be able to offer the little yellow men a handicap and beat them at their own game.

Gowran was with troops on Rendova and on New Georgia from about July 10 to Aug. 5, and witnessed the Americans' attempt to drive thru the jungles and take the Munda airfield.

"The Japs had established a defensive line which looked as tho it never would crack," he said. "A lot of ammunition was used, a lot of men were hurt or killed, but we weren't getting any place. The main thing, I think, that held up our men during those early days of the New Georgia campaign was their lack of knowledge of the true character of jungle fighting.

New Kind of Fighting.

"They fought as hard as men can fight, they threw themselves again and again against those Japanese, but their trouble was this: Here at home we train our men according to the theory of mass movement—great bodies of men striking simultaneously against an objective. That was the type of fighting in World War I, and it is the kind going on in Italy now.

"But what happens when men trained this way hit the beaches of New Georgia and move into the bush? The jungles are dense tangles of matted, interwoven underbrush. A weird greenish light filters thru tall trees.

"Imagine you are a rifleman on the Munda front. You can hear the twang of bullets over your head. But you can't begin to locate the sniper or machine-gun, and the sound seems to come from three directions at once. Mortar shells explode all around you. Where are the others of your squad?

Alone in the Jungle.

"In the middle of this hell of jungle battle you are alone. A lizard rustles in the underbrush. Something plops onto your back, and you jump, expecting a Jap bayonet, but it's a landcrab which has stumbled into your foxhole.

"The jungle is black at night, so black that you men here couldn't imagine it. Then come the Jap patrols, to keep you awake. They speak English perfectly. They call to you, 'Look out, the Japs are coming!' and they throw dirt and grenades at you.

"One of them cries that he is an American being knifed, and implores you to rescue him. Any American who leaves his foxhole is a dead man, of course.

"Day after day, night after night, this goes on. You've been without sleep for 100 hours. Suddenly you no longer are a fighting man. You are a bundle of shaking, screaming nerves, ready for the hospital.

Special Training Required.

"There is where we have missed in our training. It is fine and right to train men to fight as regiments, corps, and armies. But men who go to the Pacific to fight should be trained to fight in jungles."

The troops who went in first "learned jungle warfare the hard way," Gowran said, and he recalled the feats of a few of these Yank heroes, such as Pvt. Florian J. Bartoscewicz, 130 pounds, wounded in both shoulders, who picked up his hot light machine gun in his bare hands and walked into a nest of Japanese and killed four of them.

And Gowran disclosed a few incidents from his own experiences as a Tribune war correspondent, such as the time he slipped away from the other correspondents and their routine work to join a band of marine raiders who were set ashore behind the Jap lines of New Georgia.

He marched with them thru 40 miles of jungle and swamps, and saw them put out of condition the heavy Jap guns commanding Viru harbor. They went into the battle against picked imperial Japanese marines after going without water for 36 hours.

COL. M'CORMICK URGES REFORM IN CENSORSHIP

Asks Press Services to Unite in Demand.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 2 [Tuesday].—The demand for censorship reform made yesterday in Chicago by Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, was mentioned in three newspapers in London today. Under the heading "United States Censors Attacked—Completely Political," the Daily Mail devoted three paragraphs to a report from its New York correspondent. The Daily Express carried a paragraph headed "Reform Censorship," while the Stars and Stripes, United States army newspaper, printed 16 lines datelined Chicago and headed "Demands End of Censorship."

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, yesterday urged the major news distribution services to unite in a demand for reform of censorship regulations. Col. McCormick made the plea while introducing Clay Gowran, a Tribune correspondent recently returned from the South Pacific, at a luncheon of the Chicago Association of Commerce in the La Salle hotel.

"In the Civil war there was no censorship," Col. McCormick said. "The navy which was fortunate enough to start the war under command of a naval genius—Farragut—never had any complaint of the press.

"The army started out and continued for a long time under the command of incompetents.

"It was newspaper criticism that drove them from office, and permitted the rise of Grant, Sheridan, and Sherman to win the war which otherwise would have been lost.

"Naturally this great host of military incompetents hated being exposed.

Saved Army from Fever.

"In the Spanish-American war, and in the Philippine war, there was no censorship. It was the press that got the army out of Cuba before it died of fever. It was the press that secured sufficient reënforcements for the Philippines when the true state of affairs was being concealed by the army in the interest of President McKinley's reëlection.

"Censorship came in the World war where our officers at first were anxious to imitate their fashionable European comrades. That the censorship was not successful is shown by a letter which I will now read to you. This was addressed to me in the spring of 1918:

"'You may be interested in knowing that last week we sent a cablegram to the United States urging that the newspaper correspondents here be permitted to indulge in proper criticisms of supply departments, when the criticisms were well founded, on the theory that the public was entitled to the information. The reply from the war department is not favorable to the idea.

"'Yours sincerely,
"'J. G. Harbord,
"'Maj. Gen., Chief of Staff,
A. E. F.'

"Narrow censorship prevented the American people from learning the tremendous achievement of their army in winning the war.

Hits Political Censorship.

"European propaganda succeeded in concealing that from the world.

"In this war, as we learned from speeches by Sen. Russell and other senators made in the senate, our censorship has been military, of course, to conceal from the enemy any news of value to him, also to conceal from the American people any shortcomings of our war conduct. Furthermore, it has become a complete political censorship to control public opinion.

"That the newspapers have yielded to this pressure is not the fault of the correspondents but of the proprietors and managers of the great news services. No single one of them can resist this coercion alone. It will take the combined demands of all of them to obtain the truth for the American people, now so completely withheld from them.

"I take the occasion presented to me today to ask the Associated Press, the United Press, the International News Service, and the New York Times News Service, to join with The Chicago Tribune-New York News Press Service to demand in unison a reform of the dangerous and dishonest censorship under which we are operating."

Decision in AP Case Called Path to Nazi Press in U. S.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—Elisha Hanson, general counsel for the American Newspaper Publishers' association, warned today against the establishment of a controled press in the United States such as that in Germany.

Hanson said the majority opinion of the New York federal District court in the Associated Press case, if sustained and carried to its logical conclusion, would present the problem of such a controled press to the people of the United States.

Hanson is a Washington attorney widely known for his defense of the freedom of the press in court suits in which he has represented various newspapers. He gave his views a few hours after Gilbert H. Montague, New York legal specialist in anti-trust and federal trade commission litigation, had challenged the authority of the courts to "legislate" in matters whereon authorized law making bodies had refrained from legislating.

Ordered By-Laws Changed.

Both attorneys were discussing the District court decision of Oct. 6, which legal experts say in effect directed the Associated Press to change its by-laws so that newspaper members would be prevented from raising any obstacle against the election of an applicant for membership in the same field and the same region.

The majority opinion was written by Judge Learned Hand on behalf of himself and his cousin, Judge Augustus N. Hand. Judge Thomas W. Swan dissented. Lawyers have expressed the belief that the judges of the majority were actually "legislating" in a problem on which law making bodies had refrained from legislating.

"Courts are absolutely without legislative power," Hanson said today.

Charges Such Action.

"Yet this is exactly what Judge Hand did in the Associated Press case when he ordered that the Associated Press should so change its rules as to make available to any one who seeks them the news dispatches it gathers for its member publishers.

"The first amendment to the Constitution provides that congress shall make no law abridging the freedom of the press. The attempt by the New York federal court to tell the Associated Press how to handle its news dispatches violates the constitutional guaranty."

Hanson said the controling issue is whether persons gathering news for dissemination in printed form by the press are engaged in a business which public interest demands shall be regulated for the public good.

Not Like Stock Exchange.

"Neither congress nor any court," he commented, "has the power to determine that the press or any agency of the press, such as the Associated Press, is so affected with a public interest that it is subject to control for the public good.

"Judge Learned Hand, in the majority opinion for the District court, stated that the effect of the court's judgment was to compel members of the Associated Press to make their news dispatches accessible to others. If the judgment of the court be sustained and Judge Hand's opinion be carried to its logical conclusion, then the people of the United States today are confronted with a government controled press."

Hanson asserted that the press is not like a stock exchange, commodity exchange, stockyard, railroad, or public utility that can be required to obtain a license and procure a certificate of convenience.

PLOT TO UNLOAD BRITISH DEBTS ON U. S. CHARGED

World Bank Assailed as Harmful to America.

BY LAURENCE BURD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—Rep. Frederick C. Smith [R., O.] warned the house today the administration's proposal for a five billion dollar post-war international stablization fund is a plot to give Great Britain control of our gold stock and unload upon the United States huge debts owed by Britain to other countries.

Rep. Frederick C. Smith.

The Ohio congressman, in an hour long speech on the house floor, analyzed Secretary Henry Morgenthau's latest proposal for the stabilization fund, and compared it with British proposals for similar machinery.

He concluded that an earlier treasury plan has been revised to the point where it is essentially the same as the British program. The entire scheme, he charged, is chiefly the work of British experts and economists, who, he said, are spearheaded by John Maynard Keynes, who recently conferred here with treasury officials and is sometimes referred to as "the Englishman who rules America."

Makes Other Charges.

Smith, in addition to warning that United States gold would be used to bail out Britain's international debts, charged adoption of the "Keynes-Morgenthau" plan would:

1. Require the United States to put up in gold 65 per cent of the five billion dollar fund but give this country only 20 per cent of the voting control, whereas the British Empire would contribute only 16.6 per cent of the gold but would have 19 per cent of the votes.

2. Bind the United States to commit its entire gold reserve of 22 billion dollars to the plan, because, Smith said, the five billions would be only a starter. It would, he said, "be our total gold resources and our international record of integrity and trustworthiness that would in the long run be relied upon to make the scheme work."

Assumes Congress' Power.

3. Grant to the stabilization board the power to regulate the value of United States dollars, which, Smith said, the Constitution specifically vests in congress. This power, Smith declared, is the power to set the price of every day's labor, service and commodity, and to reduce the value of Americans' dollars in banks, war bonds, and elsewhere to 50 cents or 5 cents, as the board may choose.

4. Substitute for the present international yardstick—gold—an "arbitrary paper unit of exchange, variable in value in subject to political manipulation by those who operate the scheme."

5. Permit member countries participating in the plan to borrow from the fund billions of dollars in interest-free loans for which no maturity is specified.

Smith charged that the "plot" to use United States gold to pay off British debts is exposed in a portion of the plan which sets up machinery for liquidating so-called "blocked war balances of member countries with money from the international fund."

World Bank Idea

(Story in adjoining column.)

Comparison of American and British outlay and authority in proposed post-war international stabilization fund.

Simply National Debts.

"Just what are these blocked foreign balances which seem to be of such great concern to the British?" Smith asked. "In plain English they are simply debts owed by one nation to another, but it so happens that Britain is the one country that is seriously concerned with these balances. She owes a large amount of debts in the form of sterling balances to her colonies, dominions, and the Scandinavian as well as to many South American countries.

"These debts, or blocked balances, which Britain owes to Canada, India, etc., were created thru the purchases of goods by Britain from those countries, some before the war and some since the war began. The word 'blocked' simply means that Britain told the countries to whom she owed the debts that she was unable to pay them at the present time. It was impossible for her to pay them in either gold or goods."

Smith then described how the balances would be liquidated under the proposal, and described the method as "so complicated as to be almost uncanny."

Payment in Unitas.

The international fund, Smith said, would first buy the unpaid balances from the nation owning them—for example: Canada—which would receive payment in unitas [the proposed international currency].

Three years after the purchase, under the plan, the creditor country [Canada] and the debtor [Great Britain] would start repurchasing the blocked balances from the fund at the rate of 2 per cent a year for each country for 20 years. This, Smith said, would make the repurchase total 80 per cent at the end of 23 years, and no provision, he added, is made for repurchase of the remaining 20 per cent.

"Like the remainder of the proposals of the scheme," Smith said, "the matter of blocked war balances is wholly a British problem. The United States holds no blocked foreign balances [of the type referred to in this plan]. Britain holds such balances in an amount of 4 billion dollars, with prospects of reaching in excess of 5 billions by the end of the war. . . .

No Limit on "Loans."

"Except for the first two years of its operation, there is no limit placed on the amount of blocked balances the 'fund' may purchase. Regardless of the fact that the United States would contribute by far the greatest amount of gold to the fund she would not be able to exercise any control or veto as to the liability that might be assumed.

"Only a majority vote would be required to indicate the proportion of blocked balances which the board considers the fund can appropriately purchase. In a world of reality, it is not hard to envision how the debtor and creditor countries involved in the blocked balances would vote—how, in fact, it would be to their interests to vote.

"If the proposal [VII-8] in the revised draft were adopted, the United States would be morally and perhaps legally bound to contribute additional gold to the fund for the purchase of whatever amount of blocked balances it had decided to acquire. The section places, in my opinion, an unlimited liability upon the United States to carry out whatever the 'fund' might undertake to do."

Ask to "Bleed U. S."

Commenting on the treasury's request that congress adopt "appropriate legislation" to carry out its undertakings to the fund, Smith said, "The promoters of this ingenious contrivance are simply asking for a free hand to bleed the United States white.

"It is idle to talk about writing safeguards into legislation that would protect our interests," Smith said. "An anomaly like this could not be controled by statutory law."

"A whole congeries of 'vested' international interests would quickly spring up and concurrently the protective mechanism for maintaining them. The plan starts off with nonmaturing loans that could run into the billions and other pecuniary contracts extending indefinitely into the future. Lend-lease started off with 7 billion dollars and within 27 months reached the immeasurably high figure of more than 60 billions.

"Should we ever become enmeshed in this scheme, we should be fully prepared to continue—to complete exhaustion—to pour our gold into the European bottomless pit of debt.

"There should be no question in any one's mind now why this scheme was born and reared in the darkest secrecy. It was conceived in the matrix of a British problem and is being nurtured and promoted to solve that problem. I can see in it no promise or hope for a single concrete good for our country. I see in it only a grave threat to our economy and to our national existence. I want to solemnly warn the congress and my countrymen of this danger."

NEW NEWSPRINT CUT POSTPONED INTO NEXT YEAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—The war production board has decided against ordering additional reductions in the use of newsprint by American newspapers at this time, officials reported tonight. They said sharp cuts will be ordered for 1944.

The WPB is expected to issue an order in the next day or two accepting the recommendation of the newspaper industry advisory committee which will permit newspaper publishers to dip into their newsprint inventories to meet the 16 per cent deficit in current newsprint output.

A 5 per cent cut in newsprint use had already been ordered by WPB for October, November, and December, and a further cut was urged by WPB officials when newsprint supplies continued to drop below demand.

WPB officials said the forthcoming newsprint order may adopt a suggestion of the publishers to permit use of paper in 1944 which they save from their November and December quotas.

ARBITRARY OPA DISMISSAL IRKS BOARD; IT QUITS

'Sharply Worded' Letter Sent to Burocrat.

Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 1 [Special].—Morgan county was without a rationing board today as its 17 members quit their jobs in a mass resignation protesting what they termed arbitrary action of OPA district officials in dismissing a girl clerk in the board's office.

A sharply worded letter of resignation was sent to Carter Jenkins, Illinois OPA director, by Byron Armstrong, retiring chairman of the local board.

Fired Without Hearing.

"The board feels that one of the first objectives for which the war is being fought is the preservation of the democratic way of life," Armstrong's letter stated, "and that this principle should not be sacrificed thru the arbitrary administrative procedure of dismissing an employe without a hearing, without apparent cause, and in apparent disregard of the applicable law and regulations."

The girl, whose name was not disclosed, was dismissed last week on order of M. H. Sinnott, board operations executive in the OPA district office, it was said. The dismissal followed a controversy resulting from a burglary of the board's office Oct. 26, in which district OPA officials charged the board with having more coupons and stamps on hand than permitted by regulations.

Deny Violation.

Armstrong and other resigning members of the board have taken the position that no regulations were violated, it was said, and have been particularly irked by the contention of the district office that the girl should be held responsible.

FALL FROM 6TH FLOOR FAILS TO KILL WOMAN, 21

Mrs. Jean Hurst Polk, 21 years old, a check room girl and estranged wife of a Detroit physician, suffered a broken back last night in a fall from her room on the sixth floor of the Plaza hotel, 1553 North Clark street, to a second floor balcony.

After regaining consciousness in Henrotin hospital Mrs. Polk told Police Lt. John Canning she fell when she attempted to prop up the window screen with a valise to get more air. She said she had been ill for about 10 days and was under a physician's care.

Mrs. Polk added that she had been employed in a loop tavern since she and her husband, Dr. Harry Polk, separated six months ago.

SCHOOL LUNCHES GET NEW U. S. MENU BALANCING

Chicago public schools went off the cafeteria standard and adopted a table d'hote menu yesterday. The change came at the insistence of the federal government, which, by offering subsidies of up to 9 cents a meal, has become part proprietor of the lunch program and was able to demand compliance with its rules or deny the subsidy.

A board of education spokesman explained that the government's idea is to get children to eat complete, well balanced meals which will tend to make them healthy and to discourage children choosing their own food at random and often in bad balance.

One irate mother was disturbed because her youngster had been refused a bowl of soup unless he also bought one of the regular meals, which range from 10 cents to 32 cents in price. High school pupils may choose from a "daily dime" special, another 10 cent lunch, a plate at 18 cents and others at 15 cents, 20 cents and 32 cents.

ACTING SHERIFF BRODIE OUSTS NINE POLICEMEN

Suspends Those Indicted by Grand Jury.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

All nine county highway policemen indicted Saturday, including Chief Hugh McCarthy, were suspended last night by Coroner A. L. Brodie, who is acting sheriff pending selection by local Democratic bosses of a successor to Sheriff Peter B. Carey, who died early Sunday morning.

Sgt. Max Ramelow was put in charge of the Willow Springs police station in place of Lt. Joseph Polacek, one of the men indicted Saturday by the anti-gambling grand jury. The jury spent a month proving the relationship of the Guzik gambling syndicate to city and county police.

No announcement was made of a successor for Chief McCarthy, who was indicted on charges of malfeasance in office and conspiracy along with numerous gambling gangsters. Lt. Polacek and Sgts. David L. Berkson and Peter Krukowski, others of the sheriff's staff who were among those indicted, gave bail during the day. No bail was proffered in behalf of McCarthy, for whose arrest a capias was issued.

Malone Furnishes Bail.

Capt. Frank Malone of the Chicago Lawn police station, and his chief plain clothes policeman, Detective George Gore, both of whom were suspended after they were indicted earlier last week, furnished bail. Malone put up $2,000 in cash.

Chief Bailiff Joseph Lelivelt said he had 38 capiases on hand in the morning to serve on policemen and gangsters indicted by the grand jury, which ended its labors Saturday.

Police Commissioner Allman, who promised the October grand jury he was going to have a house cleaning in his department, did not announce any more suspensions yesterday. He said, however, that two former captains and three former sergeants were dropped from the rolls.

Pensioned as Policemen.

They had been carried as investigators after they were pensioned as policemen. They are Willard L. Malone and Martin J. O'Malley, ex-captains who had been paid $4,000 a year; and William F. Bowler, William J. Burns and John J. Downy, ex-sergeants who had been receiving $3,192 in their new jobs.

Brodie was busy all day. He visited State's Atty. Courtney, whom he calls his lawyer, in the morning and learned he was the acting sheriff due to the death of Mr. Carey. He said he would accept the responsibility and would do whatever had to be done.

Whether Brodie would be sheriff for more than one day was uncertain, politicians said. It was understood Mayor Kelly and his advisers have met to select a successor to Mr. Carey and that the choice might become known today. The county board will be in session again this afternoon, so it may act if the mayor makes a decision.

Meanwhile State's Attorney Courtney was preparing to launch a new drive against the powerful gangsters thru the November grand jury. For the first time in the history of the county women predominate on the grand jury. The jury impaneled yesterday by Chief Justice Benjamin P. Epstein of the Criminal court consists of 13 women and 10 men.

The foreman is John M. Deering, 3608 North Kimball avenue. He is a real estate agent with offices at 1369 Fullerton avenue. He was foreman of a federal grand jury in 1938.

The first trial resulting from the gambling probe started by the September grand jury began yesterday. The defendants are Myles McDonough of the county highway police, Policeman Philip Schwartz of the same force, Ercole Liberatore, alleged owner or lessee of the building at 7466 Irving Park road, where a pretentious gambling house was operated under the name of The Dome, and William Bennett, supposed manager of the gaming rooms. McDonough and Schwartz were indicted as the result of the disappearance of seven roulette wheels seized in a raid on the Dome.

When the defendants appeared before Judge Rudolph Desort, Atty. Charles Bellows, representing Liberatore, asked the court for a continuance of 60 days.

"What's this?" demanded Alexander Napoli, assistant state's attorney. "The last time these defendants were in court they were shouting for an immediate trial. We are ready for trial today."

"We're going to make several motions," said Atty. George Bieber, representing Bennett. "We are going to ask that the evidence be suppressed because of the illegal entry of the police at the time the arrests were made."

Judge Desort said he wanted all motions filed by Nov. 15 and that the trial would continue without further excuses on Nov. 22.

DEFENSE AGREES MARIGNY MADE FINGER PRINT

NASSAU, Bahamas, Nov. 1 (AP).—The defense agreed today that Alfred de Marigny made the finger print being used in an effort to convict him of the murder of Harry Oakes, rich British baronet.

Frank Conway.

But attorneys for the handsome defendant continued a vigorous fight against the contention that the print in evidence was found on a bed screen in the room where his father-in-law was slugged and burned last July.

Frank Conway, New York police identification expert, took the witness stand in the Bahamas Supreme court to testify that the finger print in the record—exhibit J—is identical with the impression of De Marigny's right little finger.

Jury Views Photographs.

He showed the jury photographs of exhibit J and of an impression of the little finger made after the accused man was arrested.

"My conclusion is that they are identical, and were made by the same person," the witness declared.

Chief Justice Oscar Bedford Daly turned to Chief Defense Counsel Godfrey Higgs.

"Is the defense contesting that these are the accused's finger prints?" he asked.

"No, sir. We are not contesting them," Higgs replied.

Higgs charged Saturday that two Miami police officers — Captains James O. Barker and E. W. Melchen—had faked the finger print by obtaining it from an object touched by De Marigny after Oakes' slaying was being investigated.

Testified Print Was Lifted.

Barker had testified that he lifted the print from the bed screen onto the piece of adhesive rubber introduced in evidence, but admitted that he could not designate the exact spot from which it came. He vehemently denied Higgs' accusation.

Following up today, Associate Defense Counsel W. E. A. Callender sought in a lengthy cross-examination of Conway to show that Barker had erred in lifting the print instead of leaving it on the original surface for exhibition to the jury.

"You never were in a case where a lifted print was offered in evidence?" Callender asked Conway.

"No."

"This is the first such case in which you have testified?"

Recalls Previous Cases.

"It is. All the others were settled before reaching trial."

Conway recalled that lifted finger prints had been used about 1930 in a "McCauley or McCormick" murder case in St. Louis.

Higgs tried unsuccessfully last week to have the finger print thrown out, contending that a lifted print is not proper evidence.

But the crown, anticipating the line the cross-examination of Conway would take, had set the stage to its own liking.

"Absolutely, it is good practice," Conway replied.

"No Damage to Print."

"A good technician would lift the print or photograph it, and sit at his ease and process it," Conway said. "This does not damage the original latent print.

"If it is left on the object, there is a chance of damaging it by touching it with a glass.

"It is awkward to look at a print on an object and then turn to examine the rolled impression for comparison."

the four powers after the war "for the organization and maintenance of peace and security."

3. United action "in all matters relating to the surrender and disarmament" of Germany and Japan.

4. Adoption of all necessary measures to enforce the terms imposed on the enemy.

5. Establishment as soon as possible of "a general international organization, based on the principle of the sovereign equality of all peace-loving states, and open to membership by all such states, large and small, for the maintenance of international peace and security."

Joint Action to Maintain Peace.

6. Consultation of the four powers and associated nations on joint action to maintain peace between the end of hostilities and the "inauguration of a system of general security."

7. Pledge of the four powers that after the termination of hostilities they will not employ military forces in the territories of other nations except "after joint consultation" for the purpose of maintaining peace and security and enforcing terms imposed on the enemy.

8. Coöperation to bring about a general international agreement on regulation of armaments after war.

A move to encourage the revolt of Austrians against the Nazi yoke was embodied in a declaration that Britain, America, and Russia are agreed that Austria, "the first free country to fall a victim to Hitlerite aggressions, shall be liberated from German domination."

Pronounce Austria Seizure Void.

The three powers pronounced the annexation of Austria by Hitler null and void and declared they are not bound by any changes subsequently effected in Austria.

In a declaration on Italy the foreign secretaries said the three powers are agreed that fascism shall be completely destroyed and the Italian people given every opportunity to establish a democratic government. To that end they decreed that the present Italian government should be made more democratic by inclusion of anti-Fascists, and also commanded restoration of freedom of speech, press, worship, political belief, and public assemblage.

The foreign secretaries also made public a joint statement of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill, and Premier Stalin concerning the atrocities perpetrated by the Germans, particularly in the Russian territory from which they are now being expelled and in the Nazi occupied countries.

The chiefs of state gave warning that when an armistice is granted to "any government which may be set up in Germany," German officers and enlisted men and members of the Nazi party responsible for consenting to such "monstrous crimes" will be sent to the countries in which the deeds were done to be judged and punished according to the laws of those countries.

2d Front Not Mentioned.

Without mentioning the second front, the foreign secretaries in their statement on the work of the conference said that "there were frank and exhaustive discussions of the measures to be taken to shorten the war against Germany and her satellites in Europe."

The question of Stalin's post-war annexation program which has been denounced as heatedly by Americans of Polish, Baltic, and Balkan extraction as it has been defended by American Communists and their fellow travelers, was one of the matters presumably referred to in the provision for setting up machinery for ensuring coöperation between the three governments in the examination of European questions arising as the war develops.

The state department made public the text of a joint statement summing up the results of the parley, which added the information that "advantage was taken of the presence of military advisers representing the respective chiefs of staff in order to discuss definite military operations with regard to which decisions had been taken, and which are already being prepared in order to create a basis for the closest military coöperation in the future between the three countries.

Will Insure Closest Coöperation.

"The conference agreed to set up machinery for insuring the closest coöperation between the three governments in the examination of European questions arising as the war develops. For this purpose the conference decided to establish in London a European advisory commission to study these questions and to make joint recommendations to the three governments.

"The conference also agreed to establish an advisory council for matters relating to Italy, to be composed in the first instance of representatives of their three governments and of the French Committee of National Liberation. Provision is made for addition to this council of representatives of Greece and Jugo-Slavia in view of their special interests arising out of aggressions of Fascist Italy upon their territory during the present war. This council will deal with day to day questions other than military preparations and will make recommendations designed to coördinate allied policy with regard to Italy."

Text of Agreements Reached at Moscow 4-Power Parley

JOINT 4-NATION DECLARATION.

The governments of the United States of America, United Kingdom, the Soviet Union, and China:

United in their determination, in accordance with the declaration by the united nations of Jan. 1, 1942, and subsequent declarations, to continue hostilities against those axis powers with which they respectively are at war until such powers have laid down their arms on the basis of unconditional surrender;

Conscious of their responsibility to secure the liberation of themselves and the peoples allied with them from the menace of aggression;

Recognizing the necessity of ensuring a rapid and orderly transition from war to peace and of establishing and maintaining international peace and security with the least diversion of the world's human and economic resources for armaments;

Jointly declare:

1. That their united action, pledged for the prosecution of the war against their respective enemies, will be continued for the organization and maintenance of peace and security.

Will Act Together.

2. That those of them at war with a common enemy will act together in all matters relating to the surrender and disarmament of that enemy.

3. That they will take all measures deemed by them to be necessary to provide against any violation of the terms imposed upon the enemy.

4. That they recognize the necessity of establishing at the earliest practicable date a general international organization, based on the principle of the sovereign equality of all peace-loving states, and open to membership by all such states, large and small, for the maintenance of international peace and security.

5. That for the purpose of maintaining international peace and security pending the reestablishment of law and order and the inauguration of a system of general security, they will consult with one another and as occasion requires with other members of the united nations with a view to joint action on behalf of the community of nations.

6. That after the termination of hostilities they will not employ their military forces within the territories of other states except for the purposes envisaged in this declaration and after joint consultation.

7. That they will confer and coöperate with one another and with other members of the united nations to bring about a practicable general agreement with respect to the regulation of armaments in the post-war period.

DECLARATION REGARDING ITALY.

The foreign secretaries of the United States, United Kingdom and Soviet Union have established that their three governments are in complete agreement that allied policy towards Italy must be based upon the fundamental principle that fascism and all its evil influence and configuration shall be completely destroyed, and that the Italian people shall be given every opportunity to establish governmental and other institutions based upon democratic principles.

The foreign secretaries of the United States and United Kingdom declare that the action of their governments from the inception of the invasion of Italian territory, in so far as paramount military requirements have permitted, has been based upon this policy.

In furtherance of this policy in the future the foreign secretaries of the three governments are agreed that the following measures are important and should be put into effect:

1. It is essential that the Italian government should be made more democratic by inclusion of representatives of those sections of the Italian people who have always opposed Fascism.

2. Freedom of speech, of religious worship, of political belief, of press and of public meeting shall be restored in full measure to the Italian people, who shall also be entitled to form anti-fascist political groups.

3. All institutions and organizations created by the Fascist regime shall be suppressed.

4. All Fascist or pro-Fascist elements shall be removed from the administration and from institutions and organizations of a public character.

5. All political prisoners of the Fascist regime shall be released and accorded full amnesty.

Demand War Criminals.

6. Democratic organs of local government shall be created.

7. Fascist chiefs and army generals known or suspected to be war criminals shall be arrested and handed over to justice.

In making this declaration the three foreign secretaries recognize that so long as active military operations continue in Italy, the time at which it is possible to give full effect to the principles stated above will be determined by the commander-in-chief on the basis of instructions received thru the combined chiefs of staff.

The three governments, parties to this declaration, will, at the request of any one of them, consult on this matter. It is further understood that nothing in this resolution is to operate against the right of the Italian people ultimately to choose their own form of government.

DECLARATION ON AUSTRIA.

The governments of the United Kingdom, the Soviet Union, and the United States of America are agreed that Austria, the first free country to fall a victim to Hitlerite aggression, shall be liberated from German domination.

They regard the annexation imposed on Austria by Germany on March 15, 1938, as null and void. They consider themselves as in no way bound by any changes effected in Austria since that date. They declare that they wish to see reëstablished a free and independent Austria and thereby to open the way for the Austrian people themselves as well as those neighboring states which will be faced with similar problems, to find that political and economic security which is the only basis for lasting peace.

Austria is reminded, however, that she has a responsibility, which she cannot evade, for participation in the war at the side of Hitlerite Germany, and that in the final settlement account will inevitably be taken of her own contribution to her liberation.

Statement Signed by President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill, and Premier Stalin Regarding Atrocities.

The United Kingdom, the United States, and the Soviet Union have received from many quarters evidence of atrocities, massacres, and cold blooded mass executions which are being perpetrated by Hitlerite forces in many of the countries they have overrun and from which they are now being steadily expelled. The brutalities of Nazi domination are no new thing and all peoples or territories in their grip have suffered from the worst form of government by terror. What is new is that many of these territories are now being redeemed by the advancing armies of the liberating powers and that in their desperation, the recoiling Hitlerites and Huns are redoubling their ruthless cruelties. This is now evidenced with particular clearness by monstrous crimes on the territory of the Soviet Union which is being liberated from Hitlerites, and on French and Italian territory.

Send Criminals Back.

Accordingly, the aforesaid three allied powers, speaking in the interests of the 32 united nations, hereby solemnly declare and give full warning of their declaration as follows:

At the time of granting of any armistice to any government which may be set up in Germany, those German officers and men and members of the Nazi party who have been responsible for or have taken a consenting part in the above atrocities, massacres, and executions will be sent back to the countries in which their abominable deeds were done in order that they may be judged and punished according to the laws of these liberated countries and of the free governments which will be erected therein. Lists will be compiled in all possible detail from all these countries, having regard especially to invaded parts of the Soviet Union, to Poland and Czecho-Slovakia, to Jugo-Slavia, and Greece, including Crete and other islands, to Norway, Denmark, Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, France, and Italy.

Thus, Germans who take part in wholesale shooting of Polish officers or in the execution of French, Dutch, Belgian, or Norwegian hostages or of Cretan peasants, or who have shared in slaughters inflicted on the people of Poland or in territories of the Soviet Union which are now being swept clear of the enemy, will know they will be brought back to the scene of their crimes and judged on the spot by the people whom they have outraged.

Let those who have hitherto not imbrued their hands with innocent blood beware lest they join the ranks of the guilty, for most assuredly the three allied powers will pursue them to the uttermost ends of the earth and will deliver them to their accusers in order that justice may be done.

The above declaration is without prejudice to the case of German criminals whose offenses have no particular geographical localization and who will be punished by joint decision of the governments of the allies.

GERMANS FEAR U. S. BOMB RAIDS FROM RED BASES

MADRID, Spain, Nov. 1 (AP).—A report that Russian front air bases are to be made available to United States bombers for daylight attacks against eastern Germany were current in Berlin tonight.

Spanish correspondents in Berlin, who have repeatedly said that what worried the average Germans more than any battle front was the bombing from the west, now report that the Germans fear the Moscow conference may bring raids from the east too.

Such a decision, it was recognized in Berlin, would bring Germany's eastern heavy industries under the pounding of Flying Fortresses.

U. S. AND RUSSIA BETTER FRIENDS NOW, SAYS HULL

Secretary Pays High Tribute to Stalin.

MOSCOW, Nov. 1 (AP).—Secretary of State Cordell Hull is pleased with the results of the tri-power conference concluded here today; there is no doubt about it.

After the conclusion of the conferences with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov, Hull sat in the official residence of Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and talked about what he thought about the world before the war, what he thought about the world before he came to Russia, and what he thought about it now.

The secretary thinks things are going to be a lot better between the allies. He thinks we have made big steps toward winning the peace and he thinks the United States and Russia are better friends.

Some one asked Hull what he thought about Stalin.

The secretary said he thought Stalin was a very remarkable person, a man of unusual ability, fine judgment, and a broad, practical grasp of the subjects which come to his attention. He added that Stalin was one of the three leaders today who have a responsibility such as no other three people will have for perhaps another five centuries.

Eden, whose vitality has been at a high point thruout the conference, smiled but looked tired after it was all over.

TURKISH PRESIDENT PLACES REPUBLIC ON 'FREE NATIONS' SIDE

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 1 (AP).—President Ismet Inonu, opening the grand national assembly [Turkish parliament], today placed the Turkish republic on the side of nations working for order "based on the sincere coöperation of all free nations, large and small."

Altho the president did not mention the Moscow tripartite conference directly, he added significantly:

"At a moment when the outlines of the future aspects of the world are evolving, we believe not in a spirit of domination which always is doomed to collapse, but in institutions of order. We have maintained this conviction even when every one despaired."

Now U. S. Can Shoot Rifles Without Firing a Shot!

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 1 (AP).—Col. D. N. Hauseman, chief of the Philadelphia ordnance district, announced today the development of a new optical instrument which permits test sighting of Garand rifles with mirrors without actually firing a shot. Hauseman said 13 rounds of ammunition, formerly used in testing each Garand, will be saved by the new "dry firing" method.

STEAL TWO COATS FROM AUTO.

MOSCOW PACT HINTS REVOLT IN AUSTRIA IS NEAR

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—A hint that Austria may be nearing open rebellion against the Germans is seen in the Moscow declaration.

While there is no Austrian government, either on the continent or in exile, it is believed the foreign ministers in Moscow may have had some information leading them to think the Austrian people are about to consolidate their opposition to the Nazis.

The Moscow declaration contained a reminder that the three powers are watching closely the steps Austria takes to speed her liberation—and this reminder is believed to apply also to Bulgaria, Hungary, and Rumania. Frequent reports of growing dissatisfaction have come from these satellites. Tacit approval of some kind of Danubian federation also was seen.

Churchill and Stalin Exchange 100 Messages

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP).—More than 100 personal messages have been exchanged between Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Josef Stalin during the last 14 months, it was disclosed at the prime minister's office today. The announcement was made to deny a rumor that Churchill sent Stalin a special report on the military situation for the latest Moscow conference and that this was the first personal message he had sent the soviet premier since his visit to Moscow in August, 1942.

ALLIED ADVISORY BOARD EXPECTED TO GATHER SOON

Sumner Welles May Be U. S. Representative.

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The European Advisory Commission will start work soon on the way in which civil affairs are to be handled in France, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Norway after an invasion of the continent, it was learned tonight.

The question of the point at which the allied commander in chief will turn control of civil affairs over to their governments has been in the process of negotiations with the British and the American governments for some time, but it is understood these questions will now be submitted to the commission, authorized in the "Pact of Moscow" announced today.

Welles May Represent U. S.

Presumably this commission will also recommend to the three governments the way in which the French Committee of National Liberation is to operate in France, and also lay down principles for Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, Greece, and Jugo-Slavia, where claims of conflicting groups inside those countries complicate this problem.

It is generally assumed that Vice Commissar Andrey Vyshinsky will sit on the commission for Russia. Richard Law or Robert Cecil, known as Lord Cranborne, will represent Britain, and there is some talk that Sumner Welles will represent the United States.

Most Important Decision.

"By far the most important operative decision of the conference," the Times says, "is that which establishes an European advisory commission of three powers with its seat in London. This is the first real political organ to be established by the united nations, and the step is timely and significant."

The need for some body which would define, discuss, and recommend a joint policy to the three governments on the solution of political problems had been felt for months, and in view of the fact that this commission grew out of a suggestion by Marshal Stalin himself, there is growing confidence in London that thru constant discussion a new, more effective, if less idealistic, world authority can be built.

CANADA GIVES PACT APPROVAL, SAYS PREMIER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 1.—Canada, having been consulted about the terms of the four power declaration in Moscow, approves of its provisions, Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King said today. "I welcome this announcement most warmly," he said. "It makes clear the determination of the British, soviet, United States and Chinese governments that their wartime coöperation will continue, not only until victory has been achieved and the enemy has been defeated and disarmed, but indefinitely thereafter within a general international organization."

"The declaration brings the assurance that the largest powers among the united nations are pledged to a joint endeavor to devise in concert with other countries effective means of ending the blight of war and establishing freedom from fear thruout the world."

London Press and Exiles Acclaim Vows of Allies; Then Note Their Exceptions

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP).—The war and post-war vows of the United States, Britain, Russia, and China, as set forth by the Moscow conference, won general acclaim here tonight—but raised a few complicated questions and much speculation.

Even representatives of Poland, the only refugee government not having diplomatic relations with Russia, expressed satisfaction with the declarations of the parley announced today, altho such matters as Polish-Russian relations and Polish post-war boundaries were not mentioned.

Reservations were expressed by both Poles and Frenchmen on the proposed European advisory commission, on which no provision has been made for Polish and French representation, altho it may handle issues which they regard as their special interests.

But for the most part representatives of European governments in exile were heartened by the diplomatic prospect of a partnership for small nations in allied peacemaking.

Hopeful for Austria.

Czecho-Slovakians particularly welcomed the plan to liberate Austria, one of them saying it raised the hope that Austria would become a partner in the European security system, rather than a menace. Greeks here, altho awaiting official word from their government in Cairo, said they were pleased that Greece was given a place on the commission for Italy.

A spokesman close to the Jugo-Slav government, which also operates in Cairo, hailed the declaration as another step justifying "our confidence in our allies."

Most speculation and doubt seemed based on the questions on which only "decisions of principle were taken" or views exchanged. Such issues as the future of the Baltic states and Russian influence in the Balkans, along with the Russian-Polish boundary question, were not mentioned directly and presumably were on this list.

"What About Badoglio?"

The declaration on the punishment of war criminals also evoked potential problems. It was noted that Itailan Generals Vitorio Ambrosio and Mario Roatta, close aides of Premier Marshal Badoglio, have been charged by the Jugo-Slavs with war crimes. Asked "what about Badoglio?" one commentator pointed out that the atrocity declaration named specifically "German officers and men and members of the Nazi party" as those subject to trial in countries where the crimes were committed.

Another question causing wonderment was how China might participate with Russia in security aims when they had no common enemy. To this a spokesman said, "I think the wording of the declaration will make that clear."

Meanwhile, the London press said editorially that President Roosevelt's description of the Moscow parley as a great success was no exaggeration, and that now any prospect of distrust among the allies had been wiped out, thus dashing Hitler's big hope.

"Russia Will Collaborate."

They cheered the announcement that China had joined the signatories in the declaration of general security. Lord Privy Seal Beaverbrook's Express said that while "it does not mean that Russia goes to war in the east . . . it means that Russia will collaborate in the victory in the east."

The News Chronicle welcomed the results as "infinitely more favorable than most people dared to anticipate when the delegates met," but said also that failure to include France in the European advisory council was a "grave defect."

The Daily Mail, devoting virtually an entire editorial to an "appeal to Austria," said it "should not go unheeded, for this country is the soft spot of Hitler's Germany, center of war-weariness which we should be able to turn to good account."

The Daily Herald said "our hopes are realized. The shape of things to come grows clearer. But if the splendid promise of Moscow is to be realized, the work of collaboration must go on henceforth at an ever-increasing pace."

"Framework Virtually Completed."

The Daily Telegraph felt that "the sweep and scope of the conclusions were such that the framework of the system of coöperation in war and in peace seems virtually completed."

"Hitler's only hope," said the Daily Express, "was the prospect of distrust between the allies. That bogey has been laid for good."

The United States army newspaper Stars and Stripes said it "marked a blackout of all axis hopes for disunity among the nations that have pledged themselves to smashing the axis machine."

Stalin Winner: Nazis

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP).—The first German reaction to the published results of the tri-power conference in Moscow was a declaration broadcast over the Berlin radio tonight that the United States and Britain had made basic concessions to the "dictator of the Kremlin" to act according to Premier Josef Stalin's wishes wherever Russia is concerned.

Dr. Siegfried Horn, diplomatic correspondent of the Nazi news agency DNB, said further: "Military questions were in the forefront of the negotiations but nothing precise has been published about the intentions of the allies in this field.

"The so-called political questions are obscured in the communique by a flood of phrases concerning the post-war policy, recalling the league of nations idea of unhappy memory. German political circles conclude that Stalin refused any discussion of questions which he regards as touching his sphere of interest and that his partners agreed to postpone the discussion of these questions to a more favorable moment."

[Dr. Paul Schmidt, German foreign office spokesman, told a press conference that the tripartite meeting meant "a formal signing and confirming of Europe's surrender to Moscow by the Anglo-Saxon powers," the OWI reported.]

SENATE IS URGED TO FOLLOW LINE OF MOSCOW PACT

2 Senate Factions Say It Proves Their Case.

ing acceptance of his amendment to the Connally resolution, which, by use of definitions of words and phrases, would place specific limits within which the President would be authorized to act in negotiating post-war agreements.

Sen. Danaher's amendment would include the Atlantic Charter's terms in the post-war resolution.

Today, two other senators—Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.] and Edwin C. Johnson [D., Colo.]—joined Danaher in spirit, introducing amendments of their own which not only would include the charter's terms but go further, specifying by name various nations which should have their freedom and boundaries restored.

Sen. Johnson called not only for the pre-war independence and territorial integrity of Finland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland, Hungary, and Czecho-Slovakia, but also asked that dominion status be given India, that Corea and the Philippines be immediately freed, and that all nations withdraw from the occupation of Chinese territory.

The Johnson resolution proposes that the United States enter into a world peace organization only after the specified provisions had been met by this country and other nations.

"If the Atlantic Charter means what it says and if our ideals of justice and freedom, which on every occasion we exploit and proclaim in loud voice, are not flim-flam, then my resolution is in order and timely," Johnson said.

"My resolution puts the ideals of the Atlantic Charter into concrete and definite form. I realize that many will shrink from its blunt provisions respecting the basic problems facing the world. Many will say it will offend Churchill and it will offend Stalin and it will cause endless and bitter controversy at a time when we need unity to destroy the common enemy.

Calls U. S. Too Modest.

"If that be so, the United States has no business in this war. If that be so we ought to keep our mouths shut forever about freedom and aggression and imperialism and exploitation and subjugation of weaker peoples. If that be so, we ought to keep our signature off such documents as the Atlantic Charter."

Johnson said this nation is too modest about its influence in the world.

"If we insist upon the recognition of our ideals; the justice of our cause and the strength of our position will convince the determined Churchill and the iron-willed Stalin, and we will accomplish something worthwhile."

Swiss Socialists Win More Parliament Seats

BERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 1 (AP).—Swiss Socialists won a few additional seats in a parliamentary election Sunday but on the basis of incomplete returns, not enough to make likely any governmental changes. The best estimate was that they had collected 55 seats, a gain of 10. If they had gained 60, or approximately one-third of the total national council membership, there would have been a chance for the party to win at least one cabinet post.

RAILROADS HELP STRETCH PRECIOUS RATION POINTS

YOU have heard a good deal about the Illinois Central's performance in moving men and munitions toward Victory. But all the while this vital military movement is going on, essential "service of supply" to the home front continues uninterrupted.

With so many staple items and fresh meats rationed, the service of railroads in delivering unrationed fresh foods becomes increasingly important in the daily shopping of every housewife. This service helps balance wartime menus, helps stretch precious ration points.

By reason of its fortunate location, the Illinois Central taps not only the Gulf of Mexico, but also a full climatic range of farming regions. It carries unrationed foods from farms and groves, from ports and fishing wharves, to the waiting tables of hungry families all along the line.

Citrus fruits and bananas—coffee, cereals and vegetables—poultry and an extensive variety of seafoods—all are familiar items of Illinois Central traffic.

It is our hope that your Thanksgiving dinner table may be more bountifully laden because of the Illinois Central's part in bringing you these and many other good things.

YANKS WIN TOWN FLANKING NAZI COASTAL ANCHOR

Push Thru Mud and Rain; Allies Take 21 Towns.

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Nov. 1 (AP). —The allied 5th and 8th armies, laboring forward in mud and rain, have captured 21 more Italian towns and villages, including Teano, in grim fighting at the approaches to the Germans' massive new trans-peninsula defense barrier.

Teano, important road junction 10 miles northeast of and flanking the enemy's towering Mount Massico stronghold, fell to Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's American 5th army after a one mile uphill fight against elements of the crack Hermann Goering division, a headquarters bulletin announced today.

In another spectacular thrust, American troops advanced five miles thru downpours and up mountain slopes to take Valleagricola, perched on a 2,000 foot hill. In the two advances Clark's men also enveloped the villages of Anfitica, Otello, Mancanello, and Neviere.

Win Possession of Roads.

The capture of Teano gave the 5th army possession of a valuable network of roads for the impending drive to pierce the formidable Massico ridge line at the southwestern extremity of the front. Captured documents showed that the Germans had attached great importance to holding Teano.

[Monday's German war bulletin said: "Our troops repulsed strong Anglo-Saxon attacks aiming at a breakthru on both sides of the Volturno. Our troops now are occupying mountain positions between the Italian west coast and northwest of the Matese mountains." (The German central anchors of Venafro and Isernia are northwest of the Matese mountains.) "While the enemy in the Volturno sector immediately pushed forward, he followed our movements farther westward hesitatingly only," the Nazi bulletin said.]

Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's British 8th army was pinned down by heavy rain and stiff Nazi resistance along the Trigno river near the Adriatic end of the battle line, but in the mountainous interior his forces smashed thru 15 towns and villages to within nine miles of the big communications junction of Isernia, central pivot of the German line.

British Occupy High Ground.

In slugging thru bitter resistance to win high ground on both sides of the broad Foggia-Isernia-Rome highway, Montgomery's warriors engulfed Cantalupo—the town of the Singing Wolf—and Macchiagodena, both nine miles southeast of Isernia; Frosolone, Cerasito, Collecarrisi, Gentile, San Matteo, Mazzone, Ferrigiro, Campodiciello, Gronelari, Campitello, Le Finciere, De Salvia, and San Gregorio.

Flying Fortresses carried the air offensive into southern France from Mediterranean bases for the second time in the war, bombing the important road and railway viaduct on the coastal route five miles southwest of Cannes.

The Fortresses, unescorted to the French Riviera, scored at least four hits at both ends of the 500 foot span across the Siagne river and rendered it impassable. They also put out of commission a 40 car train at its edge. This is on the main route between Marseilles and Genoa for German troops and supply movements.

Strike in Rome Area.

The first raid on France from this theater was in mid-August when the Fortresses hit Marseilles airfields.

In Italy American medium bombers attacked Civitavecchia and Anzio, the two main harbors of the Rome area, where they caught numerous vessels, large and small, scoring direct hits on some, and raining 1,000 ton explosives on docks, tracks, and oil storages.

Official figures for October disclosed that 161 German planes were shot down in the Mediterranean area in that period, against an allied loss of 66 craft. Many more Nazi planes were destroyed on the ground.

Allied Armies Unable to Trace Larry Allen in Italy

ALLIED HDQ., ALGIERS, Nov. 1 (AP).—Allied armies in Italy have found no trace of Larry Allen, Associated Press correspondent captured by the Italians on Sept. 13, 1942, who was reported last night to have arrived in southern Italy after escaping from a German camp. All indications were that the report was incorrect. A person in Naples who saw Allen a month ago said he believed that the war correspondent had been moved by the Nazis to a camp in southern France.

3,000 Trucking Company Workers Granted a Raise

More than 400 trucking concerns in the Chicago area have agreed to wage increases for their approximately 3,000 dock men or loaders, Frank Schmitt, recording secretary of local 10 of the International teamsters' union, said yesterday. The agreement calling for wages of 77½ cents per hour, an eight hour day and a 48 hour work week, will be sent to the national war labor board for approval, Schmitt said. The agreement also stipulates time-and-one-half pay for overtime.

REVEAL ITALIAN LIBERALS MADE APPEAL TO KING

Urged in June to Seek Peace, Avoid Ruin.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NAPLES, Italy, Oct. 31 [Delayed]. —The contents of a dramatically outspoken letter, written late in June to King Victor Emmanuel pleading with him to seek peace for Italy as the only means of avoiding ruin, were disclosed today.

The document, unprecedented in Italy's history, was presented by Adm. Thaon di Revel, member of an old Italian family and hereditary duke of the sea. It was signed by Di Revel and a group of Liberals who were consistent advocates of monarchy.

The king never replied, but it was about a month later that Benito Mussolini fell from power and six weeks after that came the armistice.

No Chance for Success.

"Examine the data of the opposing forces and the possibilities of the enemy as compared with ours," said the letter. "And, since from this examination the conviction will arise that it is impossible for Italy to win this war, seek peace before the military defeat in Africa swells to a national catastrophe without equal in our history, without limits, and without remedy.

"It would mean little to tell you that if our appeal falls into a void we would separate ourselves from you to seek in other ways the future of the nation. This appeal is not directed to you by one party or a group in the name of its particular ideals.

"It is directed to you—and its voice is louder than the cry of sorrow of a wounded country—by the history of a Christian and European civilization which could not continue on its way by passing over the body of Italy."

The letter declared that the supreme hour of the house of Savoy had arrived, that full responsibility rested on the king, and royal action in Italy would found a dynasty a second time and be a testimony to all the thrones of all dynasties.

Losing Respect of People.

Victor Emmanuel further was warned that he was losing the love and respect of his people, that the blood of the air raid victims was on his head, and was asked, "What recourse to the irresponsibility of the throne can get you absolution from the dying who see you pass before them in the hospitals?"

The blame for Fascist crimes also was placed on the king.

"Even if all the people desired to continue the war, it is up to you to stop them," this letter added. "Their blindness, however mad or generous it may be, would not justify yours. We Italian Liberals can accept perishing with our cities and beside our constrained or deluded brothers, serene in the knowledge that our cause will survive. But you have the duty of cold, courageous realism."

CIANO ARRESTED IN ITALY, SAYS GERMAN RADIO

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP).—The Berlin radio said today that Count Galeazzo Ciano, former Italian foreign minister and Benito Mussolini's son-in-law, had been arrested and imprisoned at Verona.

Mussolini's republican Fascist regime was reported by Berlin yesterday to have demanded the death penalty for Ciano for his part in Mussolini's downfall, along with King Victor Emmanuel, Premier Badoglio, generals and admirals who coöperated with Badoglio, and other members of the Fascist grand council who voted to oust the former premier.

The broadcast did not say whether Mussolini attended the meeting at which death was demanded for his son-in-law.

TWO PLAYMATES IMPRISONED BY RESPECTIVE FOES

Kankakee, Ill., Nov. 1 [Special].— Two Kankakee boys, playmates until one was taken back to Germany by his parents nine years ago, today are in prison camps of their respective enemies. The boy who was taken to Germany is Gerhart Zeisler, now 24 years old. He flew in the German Luftwaffe four years and was captured when the allies invaded Sicily. He has written friends here that he is now in a prison at Camp Bowie, Texas. Zeisler's boyhood chum, Lt. Paul Flickinger, an American bomber pilot, was shot down over Europe several months ago and is in a Nazi prison at Dresden, Germany, where Zeisler's parents now reside.

ALLIED STRATEGY IN ITALY SPOILED BY ALERT NAZIS

Quick Moves Threw Plan Awry, Lanza Says.

BY COL. CONRAD H. LANZA.

In THE TRIBUNE recently, this writer expressed the idea that time and lives might have been saved by landing the attacking army at, or close to, Naples, rather than at Salerno, from where it was necessary to fight a way across difficult mountains.

Correspondents at allied headquarters had explained that Salerno had been selected, as it was the farthest location from Sicilian air fields from which proper air protection could be had. This writer suggested that as the distance from Sicily to Naples is only some 15 miles more than it is to Salerno, that the reason given was probably not the only one.

It is now known that this wasn't the reason. Gen. Harold R. L. G. Alexander gave an interview at his headquarters on Oct. 23. This general commands the 15th army group, which includes the American 5th army, which is partly British, and the British 8th army, which includes Canadians.

Not Sent to Seize Naples.

Alexander stated that the 5th army wasn't sent to capture Naples. The plan was to establish a line quickly eastwards over the Apennines, all the way to the Adriatic, and cut off two or three German divisions which were believed to be opposing the 8th army, then far to the south.

This plan failed to work.

Alexander said: "The Germans were too quick for us."

They had their 16th panzer division facing the beach when the 5th army arrived, and they held on long enough to spoil the plan.

The 8th army had been a bait. It landed on Sept. 3, at the toe of Italy and then advanced northwards. In order not to alarm the Germans, announcement of the armistice with Italy was withheld until the afternoon of Sept. 8. And the 5th army didn't sail until time had been given the Germans to send their divisions southwards to oppose the 8th army.

Germans Dodge the Trap.

It seems to have been believed that the Germans would not be suspicious, and would rush troops south to oppose the 8th army, after which the 5th army would land in the rear of them at Salerno, rapidly bar all roads, and catch the Germans in a trap.

If the Germans really had sent troops southwards, this plan could have succeeded only if Salerno were found unguarded, and the subsequent march across the Apennines was unopposed. None of these things happened.

The Germans knew about how many divisions the allies had, and that only a few of these landed in south Italy, and no American ones. They knew that just a month earlier the allies had used 3,000 ships to invade Sicily. Those ships were still available, and only a few were off south Italy.

Nazis Watch for Ships.

So the German air force watched for ships and troops that hadn't landed in south Italy, and they did not rush troops to that area, where they might be cut off by the allies landing in their rear.

The 8th army was opposed by the German 1st parachute division, which appears to have been already on the ground. This was the smallest and weakest division the Germans had, probably not over 7,000 men. They did not fight the 8th army. They blew up bridges and did what they could to delay the British, and were reasonably successful as to this.

During Sept. 8, German planes discovered the invasion fleet bearing the 5th army at sea. Its course, if continued, would bring it to Salerno that night. Would the course be changed, say after dark? Allied minesweepers were noted in the Gulf of Salerno, busy as beavers, removing mines. No minesweepers were in the Bay of Naples, or elsewhere. The Germans concluded that the allies would land at Salerno.

Move Into Salerno Area.

The main German force had been near Naples, which it seemed might be the point of attack. When it was found that the invaders were heading for Salerno, the Germans moved down—about a 25 to 30 mile drive. As Gen. Alexander stated, one division faced the beach, while the others fixed up a position in the neighboring hills, from which they later put up a stiff fight.

On Oct. 20, Marshal Badoglio in an interview given to American papers, stated that the Italians had played their part in the Salerno expedition. They had kept two German divisions near Rome, from going on to Salerno. There were two Italian divisions at Rome, who weren't disarmed until mid-October. It is doubtful whether the two German divisions would have left Rome anyway. Outside of watching that great city, it would have been dangerous to allow the coast near Rome to be unguarded. For in that case, the allied expedition could have gone direct to Rome, and cut off all German troops to the south. The Germans just had to guard the coast near Rome, as long as they had troops beyond.

Whether Marshal Badoglio had any other part in the Salerno campaign isn't yet known. Neither is it known whose plan this was, or who ordered it. But the capture of Naples by a round about and difficult way is now explained. After the original plan "was spoilt" by the Germans being too quick, the advance toward Naples was the next best thing to do.

WORKMAN HURT IN FALL.

Elmer Johnson, a tuck pointer, 5713 Henderson street, suffered internal injuries yesterday when he fell 13 feet to the pavement from a scaffold at 245 East Grand avenue. A truck driven by Mahlor King, 1814 Larrabee street, jarred the scaffold.

GERMANS OPEN DRIVE ON 50,000 GREEK PATRIOTS

Seek to Smash Guerrilla Armed Resistance.

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 1 (AP).—Already confronted by chaotic guerrilla warfare in Jugo-Slavia, the Germans have opened a fullfledged offensive against 50,000 Greeks banded in disputing camps. The Germans obviously are seeking to take advantage of patriot dissension and put down armed resistance before it gets out of hand.

The German campaign, according to reliable information received here today, is being directed against the ELAS group of patriots of Col. Seraenhis in Thessaly, and the rival EDES army of Col. Napoleon Zervas in Epirus.

[Presumably; the German drive was launched to clean up guerrilla bands endangering the road thru the Pindus mountains, an essential route for transporting supplies from east and northwestern Greece and considered of the utmost importance to the Germans in the event of any allied attack on the Balkans.]

Dispute over King George.

Investigation from widespread sources indicates the real root of the Greek internal conflict is a disagreement over whether King George II. should be allowed to return to his throne and if so under what conditions.

The ELAS [also known as the Ellas Andarts], estimated at about 30,000 fighters, are the military forces of the national Greek political organization called AEM [national liberation front] which has opposed the king's return.

AEM political leaders are reported to have sent an envoy to Cairo recently with the message to the Greek government in exile that their support for the king could be secured only if George returned to his country immediately, joined the ELAS in their mountain hideouts and personally led the resistance movement.

Obey British General's Orders.

According to independent information here, the British supported the AEM and its subsidiary ELAS up to the time their demands regarding the king became so definite. According to some reports, the AEM tends to be communist.

The EDES are believed to number about 20,000, and are purely a military outfit, unquestioningly following the orders and directives of Gen. Henry Maitland Wilson, allied middle east commander at Cairo.

Aloof from both the ELAS and EDES groups is Greece's committee of party leaders, which has been the mainspring of resistance since shortly after the German occupation and which favors a plebiscite to precede the king's return.

While leaning toward the AEM this committee is reported to have largely withdrawn its support in order to bring the two warring groups into line.

Germans Occupy Island.

BODRUM, Turkey, Nov. 1 (AP).—The Germans have occupied the tiny Dodecanese island of Symi which is just north of Rhodes, after having been repulsed in an attempt to take it last month, an informant from the neighboring Turkish coast said today.

Details of the capture were not available. A delayed report yesterday had said the allies still were in possession, but the later information said the Germans finally succeeded in taking it, suffering heavy casualties.

R. A. F. AND NAZIS TRADE BLOWS IN RAIDS ON COASTS

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP).—Low flying R. A. F. fighters swept across the Strait of Dover in bad weather late today to rake the French coast near Calais. Eight German planes paid a return visit, dropping a few bombs on widely separated places. Two of the German raiders were destroyed. The German attack caused some casualties and damage.

One of the two raiders shot down was bagged by an R. A. F. Mosquisto, the crew of which were prisoners of war in Algeria before being liberated by allied landings.

GIRAUD, DE GAULLE JOIN IN MEMORIAL SERVICE TO JEWS

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

ALGIERS, Nov. 1. — Generals Charles De Gaulle and Henri Honore Giraud visited a Jewish cemetery here today to honor the dead of the last war and to attend a memorial service for Dr. Samuel Charles Aboulker, distinguished Algerian physician.

The Rev. Dr. Maurice Eisenbeth, chief rabbi of Algiers, officiated in the presence of 1st Lt. Henry Tavel of Wilmington, Del., a United States army Jewish chaplain.

Gen. Giraud's presence was extremely gratifying to Algerian Jews, some of whom had not forgotten that it was he who last March revoked the Cremieux decree, giving Jews the right to vote, which was declared again in effect as of Oct. 21.

Report Austrian Troops Aided Badoglio's Men

PORT BOU, Spain, Nov. 1 (AP).—A division of Austrian Alpinists ordered to rout about 10,000 Italian troops loyal to Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio from the French Maritime Alps fraternized with them instead and even supplied them munitions, a border dispatch said today. The Austrians were reported to have been replaced by two Nazi regiments.

ADMIT CHETNIKS OFFICER SLAIN BY PARTISAN ARMY

Jugo-Slavs Drive on Bulgarian Garrison.

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 1 (AP).—The Jugo-Slav information office confirmed today a Jugo-Slav Partisan guerrilla announcement that Gen. Milo Djukanovic, a Chetnik guerrilla leader, had been killed by Partisan forces in Montenegro.

Gen. Josip [Tito] Broz's Partisans announced last week that Djukanovic had died of wounds received while fighting alongside the Germans against the Partisans. Both the Partisans and the Chetnik forces of Gen. Draja Mihailovitch have accused each other of assisting the Germans.

Gen. Djukanovic participated in the coup d'etat of March 27, 1941, when Jugo-Slavia sided with Britain against Germany, and was appointed governor of Montenegro.

Attack Bulgarian Garrison.

Today's announcement said that Sima Ratich, mayor of Crni Lug in Bosnia, and holder of decorations for bravery from both the allied and Jugo-Slav armies, had been killed also by the Partisans.

Describing Chetnik activities, the information office said that Mihailovitch's forces were attacking the Bulgarian garrison in the town of Svrljig, 20 miles northeast of Nish near the Bulgarian border, and had destroyed the Nish-Knjazevac railway. In retaliation, the announcement said, the Bulgarians burned 24 Jugo-Slav villages in the Pirot pass area, burning aged persons and children alive and throwing their remains to the dogs.

[Tito's bulletin reported a new outbreak along the Serbian-Bosnian border between the Partisans, who wear red stars, and the Chetniks, combined with the puppet troops of Field Marshal Milan Nedic. Heavy German infantry attacks near Kolasin and Berani, near the Albanian border, and to the north in Croatia and Slovenia, were announced. A Stockholm dispatch said a German press report from the Jugo-Slav front asserted American weapons, trucks, "great amounts of gold pieces and United States dollars" and British uniforms, parachute material and radios had been seized by the Nazis in Jugo-Slavia.]

U. S. Planes Raid Tirana.

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Nov. 1 (AP).—American 12th air force planes have made another strike outside the limits of this theater with an attack by two waves of Lightning [P-38] fighters on the German air field at Tirana, Albanian capital, where parked aircraft and buildings were left blazing. Warhawks [P-40s] set a small tanker afire west of Solta [Sulet] Island off Split, Jugo-Slavia.

GRABS FOLDER WITH $532.

'INVADE' BRITAIN IN PRELUDE TO EUROPE ATTACK

Yanks Seize Beachhead; Shells Roar Overhead.

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Nov. 1.—In a quiet corner of this island, thousands of American soldiers are spending their days leaping from barges into the icy sea and swarming over beaches as they practice the tactics they will use in invading continental Europe.

Here, they are taking a post graduate course at an assault training center where artillery and mortars throw shells over their heads and the troops fire live ammunition from rifles and machine guns.

Selected as the spearhead of the eventful invasion, the men are being schooled in the use of new weapons and new tactics, which they will use in reducing fortifications and obstacles on enemy beaches in the first phase of the attack. Their job is to seize a beachhead and hold it, so that succeeding waves with heavier equipment and supplies can be landed.

On Great Scale.

"We're preparing for a landing on a scale which has never before been proposed," Col. Paul W. Thompson, 36 years old, commanding officer from Alliance, Neb., said.

The plans for the assault training course were drawn up in a 30 day meeting in London at which representatives of the American and British army, navy, and air services pooled their information on all amphibious operations conducted or observed in this war.

A group of war correspondents witnessed over the week-end the "graduation exercises" of one outfit which completed the assault training.

From far out to sea, scores of landing craft appeared thru the haze of dawn, each boat carrying a complete combat team. As the men leaped into the water and rushed onto the beach with their weapons, explosives previously planted in the sand were discharged to simulate enemy fire.

Bring Up Artillery.

After the infantrymen gained a foothold, later waves of barges brought in tanks, anti-tank guns, howitzers, and other weapons, some of which cannot be discussed.

Attack on 500 Yard Front.

In the afternoon, the correspondents saw an infantry assault battalion attack a fortified position on a front of 500 yards. This was similar to the earlier exercise but on a larger scale. The troops advanced with artillery and mortar shells whistling overhead and machine gun tracers ricocheting off pillboxes they were attacking. Lt. Col. Russel T. Finn of Peoria, Ill., was in command of the artillery. He is chief of the artillery section in the assault school. This exercise lasted three hours.

The troops' supplies came ashore in landing barges and "ducks" [amphibious trucks], in which the correspondents later splashed thru the surf and took a ride on the sea. Corp. Henry Krauczyk of 3168 South 40th street, Milwaukee, Wis., drove a duck in which I rode.

One of the men responsible for the maintenance of the land and amphibious vehicles is Lt. Raymond Born of 620 North Paulina street, Chicago. Col. Lucius P. Chase of Kohler, Wis., is chief of the amphibious training branch of the school.

$3,000 BASEMENT FIRE.

Files a Complaint

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—Mrs. Martha [Mickey] Devine Dodge, former "Vanities" showgirl, filed a sealed complaint today in Supreme court in her action for separation from Maj. Horace E. Dodge Jr., her auto heir husband. She seeks annual alimony of $60,000.

A summons in the separation action was served on Dodge Aug. 12, when he was a hospital patient.

On Aug. 16 Mrs. Dodge filed a formal charge with the complaint bureau of the district attorney's office seeking "some kind of prosecution" of her husband, whom she charged "forcibly took jewelry from her person."

The charge was withdrawn the following day, when Mrs. Dodge's attorney said "since the jewels have been returned to her from her husband, she does not desire to take any further procedure."

Mrs. Dodge is a native of Dorchester, Mass.

Nerves Frayed; People Dislike Restraints.

BY P. E. BRIQUET.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 1.—Living is fraught with many dangers in German occupied France today. Constant irritations fray the nerves of all, while hatred between those who would collaborate with and those who would resist the Nazis is fermenting rapidly.

Those who would remain aloof from the fray are suspected by both sides. Every one is subjected to the restraints of a foreign occupation.

Guard Railway Lines.

Frenchmen in groups of 40 to 50 are being drafted to guard railroad lines at night. The first watch starts early in the evening and is relieved by other guards at 1 a. m. Any one failing to perform guard duty is condemned to perform the task three nights running or is bound over for trial.

Many districts have been "punished" with a 7 p. m. curfew and residents must hurry home early, yet the night brings no rest. Automobiles patrol the streets and roads; planes are heard drumming their way toward wooded districts [presumably where guerrillas hide]; occasionally there are shots.

Germans Take Over Hotels.

Motion picture shows are closed, but a few open for matinees. The radio is the only pastime.

In the Haute-Savoie region there is a housing shortage. German soldiers and police have taken over practically all the hotels, so that the French had to move out on short notice. In many cases they were forced to rely on public or private charity. Many, however, could not find a place to stay and they crowded railroad stations where they slept on the cold wooden benches.

Sabotage continues and clever ruses are used. Amused German guards at a canal sluiceway saw two Frenchmen quarreling. They came to blows and rolled on the ground. One seized the other's suitcase and threw it into the canal. A few minutes later the suitcase exploded against the dam.

TURKS AND REDS SNIPE AT EACH OTHER IN PRESS

Republic Parades Army on 21st Birthday.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Nov. 1.—Turkey today began her 21st year as a republic with the country still at peace and hoping to remain so. Nevertheless, two knotty questions, the post-war fate of the Balkans and Turkey's relations with Russia, still are giving Turkish statesmen plenty to think about.

For three days the Turks have been celebrating the birthday of the republic. The climax came yesterday—the actual anniversary of the establishment of the republic—when picked units of the army paraded in Istanbul and Ankara with modern equipment. It was a good show and the city was decked out for it.

There is no doubt of the Turks' sincere desire to remain neutral. But the Russians, just as they are putting pressure on the allied nations to open a second front, are also pointing the finger of scorn at Turkish neutrality, saying it is a help to the Germans by protecting the German flank.

Take Digs at Each Other.

A certain amount of comment has been traded between the Russian paper, War and the Working Class, and Turkish editors. The latest shot was fired by one of the leading and most respected commentators in Turkey, Nedjmeddin Sadak, in reply to such an article.

Russian criticism of the Turks has been getting stronger and an article in the Russian paper was read three times on the radio. It said that whatever virtue Turkish neutrality may have had in the past in protecting the middle east it was no longer needed for that purpose.

"Even if Turkish neutrality is appraised today in the strictest fashion, it can only serve Germany," the article said.

Tied Up with Balkans.

Sadak's reply was to the effect that Turkish policy was determined by Turkey's needs and will follow the line she has chosen.

"Turkey would not have hesitated a minute to shed her blood and give her lives to maintain that policy," he said.

All this is tied up with the question of organizing the Balkans after the war. Turkey is vitally interested in what happens there and knows Russia is bound to have a big influence in such organizing. The Turks therefore are anxious to know whether this line of talk means Russia thinks they are not living up to their obligations and why it objects to a policy that suits Britain, who is Turkey's actual ally.

The Germans had put out trial balloons about "a Balkan confederation" organized and supported by Germany which would be set up even during the war. They wanted to organize the Albanians, the Croats, the Macedonians, the Serbs, and the Slovenes. The scheme fell thru because the Serb premier, Gen. Milan Neditch, refused to let the Serbs accept an equal footing with the lesser groups.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 1.—Germany has ordered mobilization of all Estonian males born between the years of 1902 and 1922 [from 21 to 41 years old], according to a re-report from Helsinki, Finland.

DIES AFTER FALL OFF LADDER.

Face Heavy Odds Tho Low in Gas and Bullets.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH ALLIED AIR FORCES IN ITALY, Oct. 29 [Delayed].—With little fuel and ammunition left after a long mission behind enemy lines, four American pilots in A-36 Invaders refused to quit in the face of heavy odds and won a stirring victory over a flight of 20 German ME-109s the other day.

The Americans, returning to their advanced base from a two hour strafing run, 75 miles north of Rome, found themselves in the midst of Nazi flyers in a valley south of Terni. In a 30 mile running fight at tree top level the flight leader was lost, but his comrades accounted for two ME-109s and probably a third.

Kenosha Pilot Scores.

Lt. Ray Schiller of 870 6th street, Kenosha, Wis., downed one German plane and was credited with the probable, tho three of his six .50 caliber machine guns were jammed. Lt. William Russell of Long Island, N. Y., had only one gun firing. Lt. Robert B. Fleming of Swan Valley, Idaho, had the use of all his guns and got one Nazi.

"We came on the MEs as we swung out over the plain from between two hills," Schiller related. "First there were only two, and then they were everywhere. There couldn't have been less than 20. We'd been flying abreast and pretty close together about 50 feet up. when they turned on us there wasn't Fights with Single Gun.

"I found only three guns working and knew there was little gas left. I thought I surely was done for, but got the first ME right away. I caught him sideways and saw the bullets chew his plane from tail to engine. He went into a spin and I saw him explode when he tried to crash land. Meanwhile, another German was on my tail and Bill [Russell] saved me by driving him off."

"I gave him a shot in the belly with my one gun," Russell added. "Guess that scared him. He didn't know the shape I was in. A couple more climbed on me and I rolled over on my back, dropped down, and then snapped out of it about five feet above the ground. Don't ask me how I did it. I woke up last night wondering myself."

The tall, broad shouldered Schiller resumed the story.

"I had started for the coast with one on each side of me, shooting tracers all around me, and that's when I shot another who had come in over me. I know I damaged him but I didn't see him go down. The Germans gave up when we got to the Mediterranean coast. I came in with five gallons of gas and only a few rounds."

LONDON, Nov. 1 (AP).—The body of Mrs. Reginald McKenna, widow of the British chancellor of the exchequer in 1915-'16, was found today on suburban railroad tracks at Wimbledon. She apparently fell from a train. A passenger noted a compartment door was open. Her husband died two months ago.

SOUND GUIDED TORPEDO MAY BE NEW NAZI DEVICE

Picks Up Ship's Propeller Noise, Expert Believes.

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE.
[Associated Press Science Editor.]

New York, Nov. 1.—The new torpedo reported to be in use by the Germans may be an ingenious and terrifying sea weapon which was invented by Capt. Karl Leon of the Swedish navy prior to the last war. This is the opinion of Edward F. Chandler, Brooklyn engineer and torpedo expert, who worked for a time with Leon on the device.

"Leon told me some years ago," Chandler said, "that he sold the rights to this torpedo to Germany. Apparently the weapon is at last coming into its own. The tactics employed, as described in recent reports of the running battle between two Canada bound convoys and packs of U-boats in the north Atlantic, parallel his predictions so closely that there would appear to be little doubt the Germans have perfected the device.

Steered by Gyroscope.

"The Leon weapon is a torpedo of the usual type, but it is provided with a sensitive wave response mechanism capable of picking up the underwater vibrations caused by the propellers of a ship. The general course of the torpedo is automatically steered toward the enemy ship by its gyroscopic gear, so that the torpedo may be launched against the target ship from a considerable and relatively safe distance astern."

The gyroscope has been the steering control of torpedoes since before the first World war.

"Traveling at an average speed of 35 knots," Chandler continued, "the weapon rapidly overtakes the ship, bringing the wave responsive apparatus of the torpedo within the influence of the propeller vibrations. The sonic mechanism then takes over, cutting out the gyro control, and steers the torpedo directly into the ship's propellers.

"Most Dangerous Weapon Yet."

"With the remarkable advances that have been made in electronics, it is quite evident that everything Leon proposed is now well within the realm of actuality. In fact, even from the meager reports so far received, I believe it is best to assume that the Leon torpedo is actually in use by the Germans and that it must be looked upon as probably the most dangerous and formidable weapon we have yet had to contend with."

A further point is the possible use by the Nazis of an electrically driven torpedo. The Germans have been said, in unconfirmed news reports, to use either an electrically driven weapon or one propelled by some other method which does not leave a wake of bubbles such as that left by the usual compressed air driven torpedo.

Chandler said a disadvantage of the electrical drive has been slower speed. This might be an advantage with a sound steered torpedo. The sound apparatus would need greater leeway in distance to get control and change the course.

GROUP EXPLAINS BACKING OF TWO FOR PRESIDENT

Issues Too Grave to Risk on One, Says McHarg.

A political phenomenon—an organization promoting two candidates for President—has puzzled Chicagoans for weeks. They have been seeing stickers bearing the engraved likenesses of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio.

Even Joseph P. Savage, leader of the MacArthur for President club, with headquarters here, was in the dark. The puzzle was solved yesterday. Savage traced the movement to the National Committee to Draft Bricker and MacArthur, New York City.

At the New York office, Ormsby McHarg said he is the eastern representative, and that the organization's Chicago spokesman is Col. Charles R. Vincent, 400 Deming place.

Taft and T. R. Booster.

McHarg resigned as assistant to the attorney general of the United States in 1908 to assist in the nomination of William H. Taft for President. He was general counsel of the Republican national committee in the 1908 campaign. In 1912 he organized the Theodore Roosevelt campaign for the Presidential nomination, but states that he remained a regular Republican. His business is the financing of chemical research.

Col. Vincent is in Washington and could not be reached, but a statement by McHarg seeks to explain the "twin promotion."

"If you ask us why we advance the cause of two men, instead of the customary one, in a Presidential contest," McHarg stated, "we answer you that our republican form of government—in fact, our very existence as a government—is at stake. We insist that the issues at this moment are too far reaching to risk their solution on the life and fortunes of any one man."

"Sound Political Strategy."

While the program is unprecedented, it is sound political strategy for the Republican party, under prevailing conditions, McHarg said.

"A failure to retire the present occupant of the Presidential office means a revolutionary change in our government," he continued. "Our property will be destroyed and our civil liberties will be lost."

Separate pamphlets on MacArthur and Bricker have been issued by the organization. McHarg promised that no favoritism will be shown in presenting the qualifications of either man.

"The outstanding problems of the nation for the next five years will be military," he said. "Common sense dictates that Gen. MacArthur, one of the great military strategists of the age should be in Washington to cope with them, and not in the Pacific southwest, subordinated to a British lord who never participated in a major battle on either land or sea."

Col. Vincent, a broker and banker, long has been active in Americanization work. He heads the Builders of America, composed of 28 nationality groups.

IOWA DEMOCRAT ADMITS TAKING TAX ACT 'FEES'

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 1 [Special].—Frank J. Comfort, Democratic national committeeman from Iowa, issued a statement here today admitting that he received payment in 1940 for what he termed "legal services" in obtaining an amendment to the 1940 revenue act.

The statement was a reply to charges made last week before a house naval affairs subcommittee that $30,000 went to Comfort from a $65,000 pool raised by the Brewster Aeronautical corporation and three other aircraft companies to finance a successful effort to obtain favorable tax legislation.

Comfort, who is a Des Moines attorney, said, "I was employed to attempt to have enacted an amendment to the 1940 revenue act which I thought both just and equitable. The amendment was enacted. I charged for my services and I have been paid."

TECHNICALITY FREES CURLEY IN FRAUD CASE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—The indictment charging Rep. James M. Curley [D., Mass.] and five others with mail fraud was voided on technical grounds today by decision of Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher of the United States District court for the District of Columbia.

Justice Eicher, ruling on a plea in abatement filed in behalf of James Barton Underwood, one of the defendants, held that the grand jury which returned the indictment "was illegally summoned."

The ruling was based on a finding that Justice James W. Morris, who signed the order authorizing the extra grand jury, was not chief justice of the court, or senior associate justice.

SEC. HUGHES MAY NOT ENTER 1944 POLITICAL RACES

Health Is a Barrier to Strong Campaign.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

To Democratic politicians who have long taken his candidacy for granted as a keystone in slate making, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes yesterday issued a soft spoken warning for 1944: He may not run for any office.

After more than a month of rest in Passavant hospital, Hughes is planning to leave for his Springfield home within a few days. His diet has been liberalized and Dr. Clifford Barborka is satisfied with his condition.

"I don't know that I'll run for any office next spring," said Secretary Hughes when asked about his political plans. "I've reached the point where I must do considerable thinking about my family. And I've had several flattering offers from private business."

Leading Vote Getter.

His decision is important because he is a leading vote getter for the Democratic ticket. In 1940 he alone survived the Republican landslide, emerging with a plurality of 133,000 over Justus L. Johnson, Republican.

In some circles it has been assumed that Hughes will be the Democratic nominee for governor in 1944. Several months ago a poll taken by William Vicars of Pontiac, minority leader of the Illinois house, showed an overwhelming preference for Hughes as the party candidate among downstaters.

If he does not care to go thru the necessarily strenuous campaign for governor, it is conceded by Democratic leaders that Hughes could go thru both the spring and fall campaigns for his present office without exerting himself.

Republicans Act Early.

Taking unusually early action, Republican ward committeemen of the 9th congressional district met yesterday and agreed to support Rep. Charles S. Dewey for renomination. The committeemen were: Paul C. Ross, 42d ward; James B. Waller, 43d ward; Richard A. Donnellan, 44th, and Max Landesman, 46th.

Special significance was attached to the action of the committeemen because some friends of Dewey have been talking about his running for higher office. Samuel Workman, who resigned recently as 42d ward committeeman, said he would like to see Dewey run for governor.

WAUKEGAN NETS $10,000 IN BUYING PARKING METERS

The city of Waukegan, which installed parking meters in February, 1942, yesterday made the last payment on them and reported a net profit of $10,000 on the deal. Mayor Frank Wallin said the meters had solved the city's parking problem.

John E. Bower, city collector, said the meters had yielded $44,000, of which $32,500 went to the Duncan Meter company of Chicago, and $11,500 to the city. Under the purchase agreement, the Duncan company received its money from the revenue taken in thru the meters. There are 424 meters in operation and 36 in reserve.

With the final payment of $400 to the meter company yesterday, the city now will retain all of the funds collected. The meters yielded an average of $550 a week when first installed but current receipts are averaging $375, Bower said. The parking fees are 1 cent for 12 minutes, 2 cents for 24 minutes, and 5 cents for 60 minutes.

1st Accident in Subway; 2 Injured on Escalator

The first accident in the new subway occurred yesterday when Mrs. Inez Lindsey, 72 years old, of Champaign, who walks with the aid of a crutch, attempted to use the ascending escalator in the station at Chicago avenue and State street. She slipped and toppled against her cousin, Mrs. Iris Michels, 52, of 4443 North Troy street, who also fell. The women were treated at Henrotin hospital for bruises and taken home.

BERWYN MAYOR LETS OCD KEEP RED SCHOOL AID

Mayor Fred J. Mraz of Berwyn yesterday issued an official statement sustaining the action of the local civilian defense board in retaining C. H. Coyle as OCD coordinator. The board on Oct. 28 had urged Mraz to keep Coyle in office despite the fact he is a director of the communistic Abraham Lincoln school, 30 West Washington street. The mayor did not explain what the illness was that kept him from the meeting at which the board took that action. Henry Suchan, president of the Berwyn Men's Civic club, had said that Coyle, as a director of the communistic school, "has no business in the OCD."

THIS is probably the most forthright advertisement ever published by a conservative financial House. And advisedly so.

The tempo of the day and the temper of industry's needs, under the lash of war, call for unvarnished words and shirt-sleeve facts.

Accordingly, we say that you can have our check for $500,000*... more, if you need more... less, if less is called for; on a basis that will solve rather than involve your problems. And you can have it in an incredibly short time—if there is a reasonable relationship between your worth and the amount of money required. And provided we can help you make money with reasonable safety to ourselves.

Whether you want to use this money to pay heavy taxes, purchase needed equipment, buy out a partner, handle more business with your present capital... or for any other vitally important purpose... you will be free to follow through with your plans without the need for repaying this money at the expense of your operation.

Under our plan of financing, current ratios are not the controlling factor. The cash you get from us, under ordinary conditions, will be at your disposal indefinitely. In effect, it serves as capital money.

ISSUES FOR 1944 ON SCALE TODAY IN 4 ELECTIONS

New Deal and G. O. P. Lines Closely Drawn.

Barometer readings on the nation's political thinking will be recorded in seven states today as voters go to the polls in off year elections, several of which are closely bound up with national issues touching the 1944 Presidential campaign.

The lieutenant governorship race in New York, the mayoralty contest in Philadelphia, and gubernatorial contests in New Jersey and Kentucky will hold the spotlight of national interest with clearly drawn battle lines between the New Deal administration and the Republican opposition.

Results in these contests are expected to furnish an answer as to whether the trend toward the Republican party, disclosed a year ago when the Republicans picked up nine seats in the senate, 45 in the house, and three governorships, is continuing. Two congressional vacancies are also at stake, one in New York's 32d district and the other in Pennsylvania's 23d.

Detroit Selects Mayor.

Voters in Mississippi will elect Democratic candidates for governor and other state officers, and state legislators will be selected in the Democratic stronghold of Virginia. In Detroit, a nonpartisan mayoralty race will end a campaign waged largely on local issues arising from recent race riots and labor troubles.

The popularity of President Roosevelt will get a direct test in the New York voting and in Philadelphia. The President has indorsed the candidacy of Lt. Gen. William N. Haskell, 65 year old retired army officer, for New York's lieutenant governorship, and has intervened directly in the Philadelphia mayoralty race to support William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to Russia and France.

Haskell, who has the backing of all Democratic factions in New York, is opposed by Joe R. Hanley, 67 year old state senator, who is supported by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Wendell Willkie. This election is to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Lt. Gov. Thomas W. Wallace, Republican, and its national significance is enhanced by the fact the winner will be in a position to succeed to the governorship in the event of Dewey's selection as 1944 Republican Presidential candidate.

Aurelio Up in New York.

Also of wide interest in the New York voting will be the bid of Thomas Aurelio, former magistrate for a Supreme court judgeship. Aurelio has the nomination of both the Democratic and Republican parties but was repudiated by both parties after a disclosure he pledged "undying loyalty" to Frankie Costello, slot machine racketeer, for aid in obtaining the Democratic nomination.

In Philadelphia, Bullitt is running against Acting Mayor Bernard Samuel, Republican. In his effort to end 62 years of Republican domination of the city hall, Bullitt has accused the city administration of "picking the pockets of service men" by its city tax of 1 per cent on wages.

Philadelphia's fight was climaxed today by a letter from President Roosevelt terming a "piece of dirty political falsification" a campaign pamphlet circulated against Bullitt.

Predict Edge Victory.

In New Jersey, Republicans are predicting that former Gov. Walter E. Edge, Republican, will be elected governor by a margin of 150,000 votes over Vincent J. Murphy, Democratic nominee and Newark mayor, who is supported by both retiring Gov. Charles Edison and Mayor Frank J. Hague of Jersey City.

A close race is anticipated in Kentucky, where J. Lyter Donaldson, former state highway commissioner, heads a Democratic slate and has had the support of the state's two Democratic senators, Alvin Barkley and Albert [Happy] Chandler. Donaldson is opposed for the governorship by Simeon S. Willis, former judge of the court of appeals.

VOTERS TO RULE TODAY ON COURT JOB FOR AURELIO

Disbarment Charges Dismissed.

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—A four judge Appellate court today dismissed disbarment charges against Thomas A. Aurelio and confirmed a referee's report that Aurelio did not know that the man described as helping him to obtain a state Supreme court nomination was "of bad character, an associate of malefactors."

The effect of the decision was to leave the next step in Aurelio's candidacy for a 14 year term on the bench at an annual salary of $22,500 to the 750,000 registered voters of Manhattan and the Bronx in tomorrow's election.

Five Week Controversy.

Today's ruling by the Appellate division of the Supreme court climaxed five weeks of controversy, which followed upon the disclosure by District Atty. Frank S. Hogan that Aurelio's Democratic nomination was brought about by Frank Costello, whom Hogan described as a slot machine racketeer.

In the interim, the Democrats and the Republicans, the latter who endorsed the nomination as a bipartisan measure, repudiated it. They failed to secure a special legislative session to authorize the withdrawal of his name, and later lost in the courts a fight to remove his name from the ballot. Each party, therefore, is supporting a substitute candidate.

Aurelio on Ballot.

Aurelio, however, will be the official candidate of both parties on the ballot.

Aurelio testified at the disbarment proceedings that he did not know the background of Costello, who testified that he had operated slot machines in New York and Louisiana, and was once a bootlegger.

"Frank Costello is a man of bad character, an associate of malefactors," Referee Charles B. Sears said in his memorandum to the court. "He has been convicted of crime. He has violated the law in many respects. I am of the opinion, however, that it is not established that the respondent knew the real character or bad reputation of Costello at any time before he received the Democratic nomination on Aug. 23, 1943."

Prosecutor Ill, Racket Trial Delayed 2 Days

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—Illness of Boris Kostelanetz, special assistant United States attorney, today caused a two day recess in the trial of eight men, seven of them Chicagoans, charged with conspiring to extort more than a million dollars from the motion picture industry. Federal Judge John Bright announced the recess. The eight on trial were described as former associates of George E. Browne, one time president of the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employes, and William Bioff, his assistant, both previously convicted of extortion.

CLOTHES LINES USED IN MAKING NEW SHOE SOLES

Soles made of clothes line and sash weight cord, wood, and felt, all certified to outwear leather and rubber, were introduced to Chicago yesterday at a shoe industry war conference in the Palmer House. Among the synthetic sole inventors who appeared to demonstrate their contributions was Elliott E. Simpson, former counsel of a house committee that investigated the rubber problem. Simpson, who also has made a synthetic tire, has specialized in the development of solings for nonrationed shoes made from noncritical materials. Conference spokesmen said the synthetic solings will serve to keep Americans well shod until the war ends.

Why a Woman Should Know About Post-War Planning!

WHEN this hard and cruel war has become only a memory, a series of battles discussed in a history book, what kind of life will your son and daughter face?

Will they have the opportunity to rise and prosper as they wish—or will they live under a system that regulates their lives and determines their destiny?

A lot depends on plans laid now. For military victory will eliminate only the threat of foreign invasion. It will not automatically bring about all the aims and ideals we're now fighting for.

That's why men in management positions today are trying to find answers to some mighty perplexing problems—problems they have never had to face before—problems which can be solved only by a public which understands them.

That these problems must be solved is obvious. For on their solution depend jobs not only for the 56,000,000 people who will want and need them when the war ends, but for the 1,500,000 youngsters who start looking for work every year.

Here are some of the questions that need answering—

Will Congress adjust taxes to leave business some "seed money" to cover the cost of reconversion to peace-time manufacture and of expanding and growing in order to provide more and more jobs and so keep the American enterprise system a going concern?

What will the government do with the plants it has built during the war? Will it close them up? Will it sell them to private business? Or will it operate some of them itself in competition with private business?

Will post-war foreign trade be subject to tight governmental regulations—or will business be able to compete for foreign materials and markets?

Can business look forward to able leadership in labor and management relations after the war, or is it in for a period of agitation and unrest?

Business and industry—and agriculture, commerce and the professions—want to be in a position where, when peace comes, they will be able to help provide the jobs people will want and need. If a political and economic environment favorable to the expansion of free enterprise is provided—if government can cooperate with business in the return to the ways of peace—then the future is filled with promise. Whether or not this environment is provided is up to the people.

And never before did the "voice of the people" have more important things to say.

LA FOLLETTE'S MAIL.

Recently we published an editorial calling attention to the double censorship of letters sent to this country by Lt. Col. Philip F. La Follette, former governor of Wisconsin, who is now on duty in the Southwest Pacific. We said there was reason to suspect that all his mail to this country was being opened and read. Our suspicions, as we explained, had been aroused by the fact that the editor of The Tribune had received a few letters from him, all of which had been opened. Inquiry among some of Lt. Col. La Follette's friends in Chicago disclosed that all the letters he had sent them had been similarly handled.

In ordinary course, an officer is his own censor, but it is to be expected that an occasional letter will be opened. Such evidence as was then available—and we now have more to the same effect—suggested that not an occasional letter but all the letters written by Lt. Col. La Follette were being scanned, as if he were an irresponsible tattler or a suspected spy.

If his correspondence is being subjected to a special and systematic surveillance, the explanation presumably lies in the fact that he played a leading part in the America First movement, a circumstance which the New Dealers could not forgive. They were determined to get something on him, if possible, and accordingly they were spying on his mail.

The Milwaukee Journal says there's nothing to it. "What is more likely than that a base censor should examine mail addressed to a newspaper, less [sic] inadvertently the newspaper publish something that should not be printed?" Here is another proof, if any were needed, that the Journal's pose of liberalism is only a pose, calculated to win circulation in Wisconsin. A genuinely liberal newspaper would not deliberately falsify the evidence in order to defend censorship.

But that is what the Journal did. It suppressed the fact that Lt. Col. La Follette's letters to private citizens had also been opened. It offered no evidence to show that any letter written to any one by the former governor of Wisconsin had not been spied upon.

The Tribune has received numerous unopened letters from soldiers in the Southwest Pacific. Perhaps it is unjust to charge the Journal with suppressing the fact that newspapers do get such letters because it may well be true that none of the soldier readers of the Journal care to write to it.

We have still to learn of any one who received a letter from Lt. Col. La Follette that had not been opened. On the other hand, readers have sent us half a dozen La Follette envelopes, all of which bear the label, "Opened by U. S. Censor."

Mr. R. B. Goodman of Marinette, Wis., who sent one of them, writes:

"I am inclosing the envelope of a letter I received from him last February, which he censored, but which was subsequently opened by the army censor. The letters I receive from my son who is an army captain in the North African area are censored by himself and not reopened by an army censor. The letters from my other son who is a naval lieutenant in Australia are passed by a naval censor without being opened."

Mr. Edward Toepper of 2607 S. Tripp avenue, Chicago, sends an "opened by censor" envelope postmarked Sept. 14, 1943, and writes: "I have had three other letters from Phil which have been opened by the U. S. censor."

Mr. W. H. Regnery of the Western Shade Cloth company of Chicago, sends a La Follette envelope, postmarked May 28, and opened by censor.

Another reader, a resident of Freeport, Ill., who asks that his name be withheld, sends three envelopes addressed to him, dated Feb. 12, May 18, and July 16, all of them opened by censor.

Nobody yet has produced a letter that was not so handled. The evidence is accumulating that the correspondence of a citizen who has served his country honorably in two wars and has twice been elected governor of a great state is being systematically scrutinized as if he were suspected of being an enemy agent.

The evidence already at hand is sufficient to warrant a congressional investigation to find out if, as seems to be the fact, the La Follette letters are all opened; and if so, who ordered it done, and why?

A REPUBLIC FOR ITALY.

If the United States is to have any part in setting up a government in Italy, that government must be a republic. There are hundreds of thousands of Italians who have lived in the United States. They understand what a republican form of government is and they know how to make it work.

Great Britain already has berated our state department, unofficially, because it has not co-operated in setting up an Anglophile France. England must not be allowed to interfere to its own interest in the government of free Italy. The sole interest of Britain in Italy is for exploitation, and the British are using American lend-lease materials to that end in Italy and elsewhere in Europe.

The United States taught the world most of what it knows about the rights of man. They had been all but extinguished in England at the time of our Revolution, and save for the success of Washington's army would have been lost, perhaps for good and all. England's defeat in the war forced the king to accept reforms he otherwise would have resisted successfully. The continental absolutisms eventually followed a similar course, but, whether they knew it or not, it was America's example that was guiding them.

The Italians will be wise this time to take the Constitution of the United States directly as their model. They will no doubt have to adapt it to their special circumstances, but its republicanism, the Bill of Rights, and its division of powers can be followed closely, and quite likely its federalism will help to solve many persistent problems arising from a wide variation between regions.

Had Italy had that kind of government in the early '20s it is highly improbable that the Italian people would have traded it for fascism and Mussolini. The fact that our form of government has survived all sorts of vicissitudes and our Constitution has been in continuous service longer than that of almost any other important nation cannot be stressed too strongly. Nations that want to enjoy domestic peace and prosperity can find no better model of government than ours.

STRIKES THAT CAN BE AVOIDED.

While a strike vote is in progress among 20 railroad unions a special Presidential board is considering the case of 15 nonoperating unions which for a year have been demanding a 20 cents an hour wage increase.

An emergency board assembled under the railroad labor act recommended an 8 cents an hour increase for the nonoperating workers, machinists, boilermakers, and other employes not engaged in operating trains. Railroad managements agreed to pay this increase, but it was set aside by Fred Vinson, stabilization director.

Meantime, the five operating brotherhoods are demanding pay increases from the railroads. Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation, said he did not believe there would be any railroad strike, despite the strike vote. The machinery of the railroad labor act requires workers to take a strike vote before their wage or other demands can come to arbitration.

Whatever settlement is arrived at between railroad labor and management should be prompt and fair, giving full recognition to the skill of the workmen and the heavy responsibility they bear for the safety of life and property. Much has been said about labor's feather bed abuses on railroads. Now would be an ideal time to get rid of these make-work rules thru offering labor a fair wage. This would be an honest contract, as welcome to the laboring man as it is to a nation which is trying to make every individual man's efforts count in fighting the war.

What has been said of railroad labor and its wage demands may very well be repeated as it affects John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers. The miners asked for more money and offered a new scheme, called portal to portal pay, as a means for getting the raise. The plan was rejected. A strike was called. The government seized the mines and broke the strike.

Lewis ordered his men back to work, setting a deadline at which time his men would again walk out if a settlement wasn't reached. The government returned the mines to the operators. Meanwhile at least one segment of the operators, the Illinois division, agreed to a compromise that looked as if it might work. But the war labor board rejected that plan.

The cycle has started all over again.

The public cannot help wondering how much of this grief happened to the miners because Mr. Lewis broke with President Roosevelt and has been in the New Deal dog house ever since. It certainly doesn't square with the pampering treatment accorded such favorite New Deal labor groups as the Communist led National Maritime union with Holy Joe Curran, the draft dodging fellow traveler, at its helm.

Our nation has grown and prospered, industrially and economically, on a fair record between labor and management. That is why the American laboring man has always had a larger share of the nation's wealth and privileges than any of his European co-workers.

This newspaper has often said that when labor allowed itself to become the bond-servant of politics, thru mistaken allegiance to the New Dealers in the expectation of high favors, it would suffer. Two great laboring groups, the railroad men and the miners, are asking now for a renewal of fair accord and for a fair contract. But the matter is out of the hands of management and in the hands of the burocrats. That is what is responsible for the strikes and the threats of strikes.

HOW LAWS ARE MADE.

President Roosevelt, acting apparently under his war powers, issued executive order No. 9346 forbidding racial or religious discrimination in the selection of employes by government contractors. The Associated Press reports from Washington that Lindsay C. Warren, controler of the United States, has voided this ruling. Mr. Warren said that the regulation could be disregarded where the United States could not obtain vital goods or services if the anti-discrimination clause remained in the contract.

This is a bit of burocratic shenanigan that should cause any one acquainted with constitutional government in the United States to lift an eyebrow. The chief executive enacted a piece of social legislation and the controler killed it.

This conduct squares with the kangaroo courts of the office of price administration and the startling edicts of the war man power commission, but it should be a solemn warning to those who prefer to live in a constitutional Republic governed by a congress, a judiciary, and an executive responsible to the people.

DRAMA IN THE AISLES.

The magnificent career of the late Max Reinhardt was summarized in the obituary news largely in terms of his productions of "The Miracle" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream," which were his greatest international successes as a stage director. These were highly publicized affairs, and there is no need to add to their legends. We would rather point to his first trans-Atlantic manifestation, which was called "Sumurun," and speak of its influence, which was extensive. "The Miracle" did not cause other producers to transform opera houses into Gothic cathedrals at staggering costs, but "Sumurun" put the runway into dozens of American musical shows.

This entertainment, which came to the United States in 1912, was a large scale pantomimic spectacle based on "The Arabian Nights." Reinhardt's most striking innovation as a producer was a defiance of the tradition of "the fourth wall." He sought to expand the drama beyond the footlights and to toss its story, or at any rate its players, out into the audience whenever possible. So his "Sumurun" had a runway from the stage to the rear wall of the theater, and over it, within reaching distance of the aisle seats, his large company of harem inmates, Nubian slaves, Arab chieftains, Damascus beggars and other creatures of oriental fantasy occasionally paraded.

* * *

New York producers of musical shows, especially the Winter Garden revues, embraced the runway idea with cheers. Here was a method for giving the customers a closer view of the chorus girls under the sanction of Art. Presently all Broadway revues had runways, with glimpses far more luscious than "Sumurun" had provided, and there was joy in the land. Reinhardt's principle of spilling performers into the audience became a source of great refreshment to the Tired Business Man. The hope that a chorus girl would eventually fall off the runway and into his lap inspired him to high commercial achievements.

* * *

Flo Ziegfeld had a glimmer of this method in "Follies of 1907," which was his first. He marched his girls, in drummer costumes, up the aisles, and was scolded by puritans for his brazen audacity. But five years later, on the "Sumurun" runway, Reinhardt gave the nation a higher view of things, and so established a custom.

FINAL VICTORY.

(Dedicated to those who have lost one beloved in the war.)

Do not mourn him, gone so young, so bright.
He has but followed an upward path that leads
To richer life, where joy will not take flight,
So put from you all tears and desolate weeds.
And if you think of battles, and the whine
Of bullets, or the shrieking bombs' loud thunder,
Refuse such thought; remember the thin line
Dividing Here and There—the infinite wonder
Of what he saw when eager eyes looked up
To vision Life, an unknown, beautiful thing
As full of happiness as a brimming cup
That holds no earth-bound sad remembering.
He is not dead, but marching straightly on,
The battle over, and the victory won!

The Great Stone Scots.

In these days of chain food stores and 4-H clubs, do you remember, old-timer, those favorite 2-H drink resorts owned by Hannah & Hogg in the downtown district, and one on West Madison street adjoining the Haymarket theater? They were distinguished by a stonelike effigy of a Highland Scot in full regalia, set on the sidewalk. One was on Randolph street next to Hooley's theater, handy for the boys who slipped out between acts. Another one was on Madison street under Sam T. Jack's burlesque show, where H. & H. adorned the wall with high class paintings, and a third one on Clark street south of Adams, where you could get bottled goods and lunch. The only free lunch was old cheese with hard crackers. The figure of a jockey costumed with whip in hand to form a hitching post ring also adorned the Randolph street site.

ETERNAL SEARCH.

Beside each smooth, secluded stream
Whereon a swan is whitely resting,
Long have I searched but only found
Frail ferns or downy cygnets nesting.

Long have I looked into the deeps
But only seen the still swan make
His alabaster double live
Within the quiet of the lake.

O, I have seen such loveliness
As Eden held beside its stream;
But it was Leda that I sought—
The dream beyond the dream!

Life Among the Clouds.

Have you ever seen the sun set from above the clouds? Never before has man been permitted to see the ineffable beauty of this world from above. The new third dimension of space we are now exploring is opening vistas of loveliness to us, the vision of which has been reserved only for angels. We can encompass the world in a day in the very near future of air travel. Imagine flying toward the setting sun at a speed so great the sun never sets. That is possible now at 75 degrees latitude. Time stands still.

The reason that I do is this—

And when yez are down, they go down,
And if yez are caught only half way up

WINGS FOR THE EARTHBOUND.

As we become more air minded we must grow air bodied. The adjustments which certain of our organs were obliged to make, with the coming of improved methods of travel, were slight when compared with those which are required for modern planes.

For example, any one who could cross the ocean in a sailing vessel could, with considerably more comfort, occupy a cabin on a steamer. When railroads replaced the stage coach, the hazard appeared far greater. But, when considered in the light of passenger miles, it was negligible.

Regardless of increased danger, daring and drama have characterized the birth of every new form of transportation. While the one who has been accustomed to an express train may not notice much difference when aboard a streamliner, the abrupt changes which take place between sea level and a mountain top, as in aviation, will demand many compensations.

There is a wide gap between the velocity attained by the Wright brothers, in their initial venture in flying, and that which is easily within the range of the latest machines. Today we can attain an elevation of 50,000 feet and travel 500 miles per hour. To become a participant, it is assumed that the ears, sinuses, balancing apparatus, lungs, heart, and other structures can adapt themselves readily to variations of pressure and oxygen concentration.

It is this latter gas which must be supplied at about 10,000 feet, particularly if that level is maintained for a half hour or longer. Vital air is essential if the individual reaches 15,000 feet for even a moment. It is also highly desirable from the beginning of the flight if the climb is 2,000 feet per minute. In fact, it is the usual custom among military aviators, when on night duty, to start oxygen immediately after the take-off.

After the war, civilian aviation will probably not call for the strenuous requirements of military maneuvers. Nevertheless, consideration will need to be given to altitude sickness and the influence of high speed upon the circulation. Otherwise, blacking out and other effects on the eyes, ears, and nose may become incapacitating. We now look to our physiologists to point the way in the prevention of heart failure under these new and abnormal conditions. In addition, measures must be found to prevent the entrance of bubbles of nitrogen into the tissues.

A single illustration will suffice. It has been learned that "flyer's belly" may develop as a result of repeated flights. The disorder is characterized by a fitful appetite, nausea and vomiting, and marked distress in the region of the stomach. Furthermore, restlessness may be extreme. In some cases, fatigue is abysmal.

Some of these sufferers are so insistent that the trouble lies within the abdomen that many an otherwise healthy appendix has been removed. There is but one thing to do. Transfer the candidate to a slower ship or give him an assignment which will take him out of the air, at least temporarily.

Commercial aviation has come to stay and we may as well make up our minds to school our sensibilities so that our physiological processes will keep pace with mechanical development. We have been land crabs long enough.

MAYBE MR. HULL CAN TELL US HOW THEY DO IT

Front Views & Profiles

By MARCIA WINN

They Work Alone.

Every avid reader of detective stories knows how thickly the pages are populated with bright young amateurs, sometimes united in holy wedlock or sometimes merely working together on a businesslike arrangement, who miss no opportunity to leap into a taxi and tell the driver: "Follow that other cab!"

This department began wondering the other day how often, if ever, this happens in real life. Consequently, in the interests of that pure scientific veracity which is the joy of this page, we began to catechize the gentlemen driving us around the city [at 10 cents a corner] on our innocent diversions.

The first attempt was unproductive. It was early in the day, and the driver was in unhappy, surly mood. "Naw," he said. "That's just in books. Wouldn't do it anyhow." "Why not?" we persisted. "Dunno," he said. "Just wouldn't. Got enough troubles now." That not only seemed reasonable; it was final.

The next one was more loquacious. "Sure," he said merrily. "We get requests like that every now and then. Not two people, tho. Just one. But I say, 'No, sir!' or 'No, ma'am' most of the time. Most of 'em are crazy. Jealous people, you know. A man trailing a babe, or a wife trailing her husband. Bad stuff, all of it. Most of 'em don't even have money to pay the fare. Drive 'em for two hours, and you're lucky if you get a 10 cent tip. On top of that, you get an ear full of somebody else's misery. No ma'm. I got enough of my own. I got smart to them people a long time ago. I follow a few blocks, then I lose it in traffic. Easy. Then I turn around and say to my fare, 'Sorry, those —— lights! Ruined us.'"

The next had a purely wartime adventure to relate. He received a call to an address on the west side, and when he buzzed the bell, the lady of the house rushed out. "Here," she said, "your customer is at the back door. Take this." And she pressed a note and a $5 bill into his hand. The note said: "You are to pick up my maid. She tells me she has to leave me for two weeks because she is ill. I think she is going to take another job. Please find out for me, and call me back." Well, the driver says he wouldn't have done it at all had the maid not begun to talk the minute she got in the cab. "I'm sick as I can be," she told the driver. "I'm so sick I'm dead on my feet, and that lady I work for won't believe me. She thinks I'm gonna quit her. I can tell it by the way she looks at me. But, Mister, I'm just sick all over." He took her where she wanted to go, and, sure enough, it was a hospital. So he called the lady and said, "Say, lady, you're nuts. She's sick all right."

The fourth driver apparently did nothing but follow other cars. "Get 'em all the time," he said happily. "Spies, husbands, wives . . . everything. Anything can happen in a cab. You ought to know that. Most of them are wives trailing their husbands, but sometimes it's the other way. Once I followed a car for two days. Sometimes we stopped for as long as four or five hours. Had to wait for them to come out and go on." "Who were 'they'?" "A man and a blonde babe. That's all I know." "And who was with you?" "His wife, of course!" in exasperated pity at this lack of comprehension. "And was she mad! Talked all the time. Told me everything about it. Do you know, she didn't even know that he knew this babe, one of her good friends, until she saw them hop in a car together. Then she hailed me. Boy, was she screamin'? She was canny, though. We could've caught up with 'em at any time, but she didn't want to. She just wanted to watch. She wrote down every stop they made and timed it. But that was all right with me. It was the biggest haul I ever made. My meter registered $400 when she finally decided to tell them what she thought of them, and she really told 'em too." "Did she have enough money?" "That's the joke of it!" he said. "She made him pay—and tip me, too."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

FARMER'S COMPETITION.

Bensenville, Ill., Oct. 29.—Three cheers for Mr. Ex-Block Captain who wrote about the war gardens. If half of the people who had war gardens had hired themselves out to farmers half of the time they spent in their gardens, they could say they were out for victory and make some money besides.

Instead, the farmer could not buy a hoe because all were sold as fast as they came into the store to war gardeners. The seed the farmer had to plant this year was not tested and was short and also very high in price. The best seed was put up in packs for war gardeners.

The insects were very, very bad this year. The best poison for cabbage worms was impossible to get. That also went to war gardeners in small packs. The next best thing was to find a friend who had a friend who could get something like it for you. The substitute was very good for the worms and they got fat on it. The loss of the farmers' cabbage was great.

Some people still had an idea the farmer was going to make a dollar for a change so up goes a ceiling on the stuff he sells. If the farmer got some of the good prices asked for fresh vegetables in the stores he would be rich.

The season and the amount coming into the market always took care of the price before. What they need now is a floor, not a ceiling.

A Farmer's Wife.

HYPOCRISY.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The present gambling investigation offers the grossest case of hypocrisy and inconsistency. Mind you, it is within the law to attend a race track and gamble to your heart's content, but betting on horses with a so-called bookie is a crime. Gambling on race tracks either should be outlawed, or it should be permitted within the city under similar control.

Alfred Decker.

HE'S NOT OUR ENGLISHMAN.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Doesn't your Englishman know that we are a nation of "mongrels," that we are proud of the melting pot to which the oppressed of all nations [including the British Isles] have contributed, and that because of this racism, either of Hitler's variety or of the variety the Englishman seems to espouse, will never be possible among us?

Helen Bugbee.

[A predominantly Anglo-Saxon mongrel.]

HOW TO START A WAR.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—So long as people will hog more than half the seat in a public conveyance, so long as people will engage in hair-pulling and fisticuffs, just so long shall we have wars. Post-war plans to insure world peace? Nuts! Brother, you can say that again. All right, I will—nuts.

Hep.

GIFT TO URUGUAY.

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 24.—According to an Associated Press dispatch on the front page of Sunday's Tribune, the United States government, thru the office of coördination of inter-American affairs, has presented $500,000 as a gift to the Uruguayan government, and Uruguay has accepted it. The money is to be "devoted to sanitation work and health measures."

Isn't that nice! It's a large sum of money. And we're head over heels in a war and in debt! The sum represents, roughly, for one illustration, the income tax on the salaries of $5,000 per year each of approximately 1,000 hard working American business men. It could be used to improve the sanitation and health facilities of the city of Chicago. It would help to build a decent plant to furnish pure drinking water for any one of our cities, such as Evanston, which now have water supplies that are not pure. It would buy about 10,000 Garand rifles, or 10 fighter planes, or, say, two big bombers. It would pay the interest on $25,000,000 of bonds at 2 per cent for one year. The money belonged to you and me.

The only way the United States government can get any money, in the final analysis, is by taking it thru taxation from the people who have to earn it. I know of no way in which it can lawfully give money away. Will some enlightened crackpot in Washington or elsewhere please tell me this:

What possible reason is there behind this gift? Why was this done? By what right or authority do you give $500,000 belonging to American men and women to people in South America for health and sanitation—to people about whom most of us know nothing, and, to be honest about it, people for whom we don't give a damn?

Anxious.

SOLD OR GIVEN?

Long Beach, Cal., Oct. 22.—Are we being sold down the river—Thames?

C. H. O'Neil.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

YOUNG BUSINESS MAN.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is it within the law for a minor to go into business for himself? If so, [2] is he required to pay income tax upon his profits?

C. A.

1. There is no law against a minor engaging in business, but from the point of view of persons dealing with him the transactions are not satisfactory since the minor is privileged to repudiate his business contracts.

2. Yes, if his income exceeds the exemptions. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

'LONELY HEARTS' HUSBAND ADMITS STRANGLING WIFE

Kills Her with Stocking as They Lie in Bed.

Paul A. Peters, 32 years old, was held without bond last night in the Kane county jail in Geneva after he confessed strangling his 19 year old lonely hearts club bride of less than a year in their Elgin apartment Sunday.

Paul A. Peters.

He said he strangled her with one of her own stockings as she lay beside him on a bed in their two room apartment at 751 South Liberty street, Elgin, because he believed she was about to become a mother, because he had no job and little money, and "I didn't want her to suffer too much."

His confession was made to State's Atty. Charles G. Seidel of Kane county, Coroner L. Victor Peterson and Chief of Police Joseph Huber of Elgin after an all-day grilling, part of which was conducted beside his wife's body in an Elgin mortuary.

Tries to Kill Himself.

After killing his wife, he said, he tried to commit suicide by drinking iodine, but was unable to swallow it.

"Sunday my wife made dinner and we ate about 1 p. m.," said Peters' confession, in part. "We both went to the bedroom and lay on the bed. I noticed a stocking on the floor beside the bed. I picked it up. At that time, my wife was lying on her stomach, with her head at the foot of the bed. She had her eyes closed.

Slips Stocking Under Neck.

Peters met his wife thru a lonely hearts club more than a year ago. They were married Nov. 14, 1942, in Carpentersville, four miles north of Elgin, Mrs. Peters' former home.

For a time they lived with Peters' mother, Mrs. Minnie Susak, 1340 Newport avenue, Chicago. They moved to Elgin a month ago.

Mrs. Peters quit her job at the Elgin National Watch company Saturday because she believed she was to become a mother. Peters was formerly employed by the Illinois Watch Case company in Elgin. He quit seven weeks ago.

Peters served four months in the Cook county jail in 1940 on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and six months in the Bridewell in 1941 on a fictitious check charge.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department answers questions covering problems related to the social welfare of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries to Sally Joy Brown.]

R. D. writes: "Does an army or navy officer receive an allowance which varies according to the number of his dependents? My son and his wife recently had a child, and I am wondering if he will receive an increased allowance."

ANSWER: No. Army and navy officers with dependents receive a set allowance, according to their rank, and there is no increase, in spite of the fact that the number of dependents may increase.

M. J. Writes: "My nephew died while a private in the army of a nonservice connected illness. His family understood he was sent overseas in May, but they did not hear from him until the end of July, when he had returned to this country. Since his death, the family has received as unclaimed all of the mail sent to him at his overseas address. They are desirous of learning the particulars of his whereabouts and activities. Is there any one to whom his mother can write for such information as can be released to her?"

ANSWER: Army officials suggest that the mother write to the commanding officer of the hospital in which the service man died.

M. V. writes: "Is a mother who has two boys in service, one in the army and one in the navy, entitled to an allowance from both boys? She has been informed that she has that right, because both sons contributed to her support in civilian life. She is a widow and has always maintained a home for her sons."

ANSWER: A mother, who has more than one son in the army or navy, may receive allowances from each one, if it can be shown that she is dependent upon each for a substantial amount of her support. There have been cases where as many as four sons have applied for family allowances for their mother, and the applications have been approved and authorized.

Mrs. T. O. writes: "My husband is in the navy and has the rank of a third class petty officer. I am expecting a child and would like to know whether I could obtain free maternity care but have my own family doctor as my physician. I would like to know if I am eligible for a baby's layette. I find it difficut to live on $50 a month."

ANSWER: You are entitled to free maternity care as administered by the state and may have your own physician attend you. Apply to him and bring information concerning your husband's rank, service number, etc. I am forwarding a bulletin which explains the procedure for obtaining such care.

In cases of need, I understand that the Navy Relief society, Great Lakes, Ill., can supply layettes.

Mrs. M. L. writes: "As the wife of an army officer, I have been traveling from one camp to another for many years. I have always done my marketing at army commissaries, and I am quite amazed at store prices in Chicago. I wonder if it might be possible to shop at the Fort Sheridan commissary, and if you can advise me as to how I can obtain identification and a commissary card. My husband is now in Africa."

ANSWER: Contact the commissary officer at Fort Sheridan for information as to your eligibility to use their facilities. I believe that if you will write to him and provide sufficient identification, he will advise you.

SOLDIERS TO REVEAL WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS MAN'S GI ARMY

Soldiers who have to execute the orders given by officers of the 6th service command are to be allowed to tell their superiors what is wrong with the army, Maj. Gen. Henry S. Aurand, chief of the command, announced yesterday at the closing session of a three day conference.

Beginning Thursday and continuing until Nov. 21, the 29,000 officers, enlisted men and women and civilian employes will be asked to tell Gen. Aurand how the army can save men, material, money, and time. Rewards for workable suggestions—which need not conform to any existing army regulations—will be promotions and decorations.

During the first two days of the conference, the 200 post, camp, station, and unit commanders of the 6th service command submitted 1,500 problems involving waste of time, money, men, or materials.

Nine hundred of the problems were solved at once; action has been taken on 100 others; 100 have been submitted to the war department for direction, and 400 more will require further study.

LACKS HIS DRAFT CARD, EXPLAINS: 'DRUNK 2 YEARS'

John J. Carney, 41 years old, 713 West 48th street, Chicago, was turned over to the United States marshal yesterday by Waukegan police after he had completed a 10 day sentence in the Waukegan jail for disorderly conduct.

Carney was placed in federal custody because he did not have a draft card. He was arrested 10 days ago in a women's washroom of a Waukegan beauty parlor.

"I didn't know where I was," he told police. Then he startled them with the assertion that he had been hazy as to his whereabouts for the last two years. "I was drunk all the time," he said.

Carney couldn't explain the absence of his draft card. "I signed up for something," he told police. "I thought it was the draft, but it must have been something else."

WAR AND PEACE ONE BIG FIGHT, SAYS MacLEISH

The lesson of the last war is that you cannot run a modern war in two sections, like a fast express, by separating the fighting from the peace, Archibald MacLeish, librarian of Congress, told the Sinai Temple forum, 4600 South Park way, last night.

"If you do," he added, "neither section will arrive. To believe, or to pretend that you believe, that the military war has no political implications and can have no political effects, is to frustrate the war prosecution and defeat its purpose."

STEVENS TAKES GUESTS AGAIN IN 1,100 ROOMS

The Stevens hotel was reopened to civilians yesterday after 13 months of occupation by an army radio school.

Out of town arrivals found that 1,100 of the hotel's 3,000 rooms were ready and, with few exceptions, rented.

The main lobby had a new grandeur about it. Its furnishings, rose colored tapestry chairs, with gold leafed framework, were purchased from the grand salon of the French liner Normandie.

Of the public rooms, the Oak room, the Old South room, and the coffee shop on the lower level were open for business. The work of 300 persons was necessary to put the $26,000,000 building into readiness for civilian occupancy.

Arnold S. Kirkeby said yesterday that the hotel, which he bought for $5,251,000, will be completely furnished by Jan. 1, at which time all the rooms and apartments will be opened to transient guests.

Police Will Open Another Safety Sticker Drive Today

The police department today will start a new drive against motorists whose cars are without safety stickers, John Szumnarski, vehicle license commissioner, said yesterday. Those arrested will be taken to court where their cases will not be disposed of until proof is shown that their cars have passed a safety lane test.

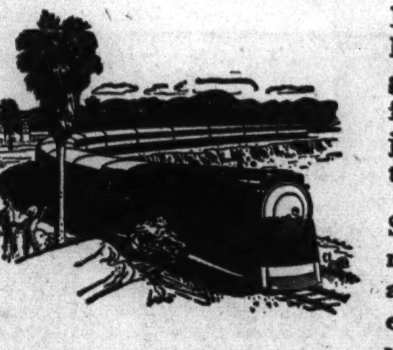
Southern Pacific offers you a good-paying railroad job in California or other Pacific Coast states



Here is your opportunity to live on the Pacific Coast or in the Southwest — to get a good job in an area with a great future. And, mighty important, to enjoy the milder, sunnier climate that tourists have always talked about.

Southern Pacific, West's biggest railroad, needs experienced railroaders and craftsmen, needs many inexperienced workers, too. S.P. is doing a huge war job—moving troops, tanks, guns, supplies. It will do a bigger job when the Big Push begins against Japan. S.P. will be an even greater supply line for the Armed Forces. If you want to get into important war work, here's your chance.

We need help all along our railroad . . . in Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah, Southern Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. This is a growing country, but there's lots of elbow room still. You'll like it out here.

WHY IT PAYS TO WORK FOR SOUTHERN PACIFIC

1. S.P. is a "front line" war industry. It serves more military and naval establishments than any road in the United States.
3. S.P. is in business to stay. S.P. helped build the West. It intends to continue.
4. S.P. offers you the benefits of the Federal Railroad Retirement Act, the advantages of a fine Medical and Hospital Service.
5. S.P. has the kind of job you'll like where you'll like to live.

Leaven

Did anyone ever call you a "yeast carrier"? Now, wait a minute—please don't become perturbed or concerned, but that's exactly what you are, and the fellow who calls you that, is one himself. In fact, we are all, actually, yeast carriers. Tiny yeast cells are in our hair, on our hands, on our clothes—in the air all around us—and they don't harm us.

The ever-present little fellows are always ready to go to work to change convertible sugar into alcohol anywhere—even in an uncovered glass of jelly or preserves on your pantry shelf, if you don't watch out.

Yeast is really a microscopic plant. You can't see a single cell with the naked eye, and there are many varieties, many of them actually serving useful purposes.

In the distilling industry, a special variety of yeast is used in the making of whiskey. It differs from the type used in making bread, or beer, or wine. And each distiller has his own pet culture which he guards jealously.

Busy little fellows these microscopic cells. They're often called "busy bees" in the distillery. Like the clock, they work 24 hours a day—and they've got a steady job. But, these many varieties of yeast that float around in the air, these "free riders," must be kept out of the grain mash so that they won't interfere with the pure culture yeast cells that the distiller uses. So every precaution is taken.

If you ever visit one of Schenley's distilleries, ask them to explain to you how they build up their yeast requirements from one tiny microscopic cell under sterile conditions, so that they can maintain a pure culture. You will also be shown how all the pipes (the plumbing) are sterilized after each operation with live steam; how even the atmosphere in the fermenting rooms is tested for bacteria count.

You see, while man has very little to do with the actual processes of fermentation and distillation, he can and does exercise control over these natural processes.

And, speaking of control, while discussing matters pertaining to whiskey, these are excellent days for controlling our luxury appetites. The manufacture of whiskey stopped in October, 1942. Distillers are making war-alcohol today—24 hours a day—seven days a week. The whiskey you are able to buy today was made way back in peacetime. When these stocks of aged whiskies are gone, there won't be any more. But there is enough to last—if used in moderation.

So, please "control" the amount you buy, and make what you do buy linger longer. And that reminds me, insofar as whiskey is concerned, the busy little yeast fellows are getting a well-earned vacation, but they'll be rarin' to go when they get the green light.

The green light now says—Back the Attack—Buy More War Bonds!

CHICAGO BOY CITED FOR WORK IN AXIS RAID

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—Gunner's Mate Third Class William J. Healy of 7134 South Indiana avenue, Chicago today was cited by the war shipping administration for courage displayed during an axis raid on a North African port last July.

William J. Healy.

The WSA reported Healy was one of three men of the navy gun crew assigned to the Liberty ship John H. Eaton, which was discharging supplies while moored between British and Norwegian vessels. A bomb struck the quay. The British vessel exploded and set off ammunition stores in the Norwegian ship. The blasts lifted the Eaton out of the water and flying metal fragments tore holes in her hull. Most of the crew reached the dock safely.

Healy and his comrades in the gun crew remained on the ship and threw lines to sailors from the burning ships swimming near-by.

Inherits Fortune

WAYNE W. LONERGAN.

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—The will of Patricia Burton Lonergan, pretty 22 year old heiress to a $5,000,000 brewery fortune, who was slain in her apartment last Oct. 24, was filed for probate today, and contained no mention of her husband, Wayne Lonergan, under indictment on a charge of first degree murder for the slaying.

The instrument which revoked all her previous wills and codicils leaves her entire estate to her 18 month old son, Wayne William Lonergan. An accompanying petition said the estate was valued at "over $10,000" in personal property.

Earlier, General Sessions Judge John L. Sullivan appointed Edward V. Broderick, veteran trial attorney who said he had defended "36 or 37 men on murder charges and never had a client go to the electric chair," as chief counsel for Lonergan. Lonergan, who Frank S. Hogan, district attorney, said confessed bludgeoning and strangling his wife in her triplex apartment in fashionable Beekman Hill, remained in City prison as police continued to search in the East river for his missing uniform.

FALLS IN BATTLE NEAR MOTHER'S FORMER HOME

Previously reported missing, Pvt. Richard D. Glavaz, 25 years old, 311 West 42d place, now is listed as killed in action, according to official notice from the war department received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Glavaz.

Pvt. Richard Glavaz.

Pvt. Glavaz died in the North African theater, and presumably in the Italian sector. He last was heard from in Palermo, Italy, near where his mother, Mrs. Barbara Glavaz, was born. Asked yesterday how she felt giving her son in battle near her birthplace, Mrs. Glavaz replied: "I am proud that he died as an American soldier."

Pvt. Glavaz had been in the army 2½ years. His widow, the former Marlene MacPherson of Boston, Mass., also survives.

PLANE FINANCED IN BOND DRIVE TO SALUTE SCHOOLS

The "Spirit of Norwood," a giant Douglas Skymaster purchased with war bonds sold last month in the Norwood Park region, will take off on its army acceptance flight this morning. It will circle over each of the 10 schools in the district that participated in the bond drive.

The campaign ended Oct. 2, when a total of $761,880 in bonds had been sold. The plane, said by army air forces officials to be the largest transport aircraft that flies, cost $500,000. It was built at the Douglas plant on Higgins road.

Huge ships of this type are used by the army to fly troops into a combat area, and to evacuate wounded. Following its acceptance flight, the plane will be turned over to the ferry command for delivery to a war front.

To Patrons of The Waldorf-Astoria:

Because of current conditions of congested travel and crowded hotels, we feel it our duty to reach Waldorf patrons with this frank statement of what is required to meet the situation.

In the first place, please give us notice in advance of your anticipated arrival and departure. But remember that such notice alone does not constitute a reservation. It must first be confirmed by us. Then, it is equally important to realize that transportation out of New York is difficult to obtain on short notice, because of the unusually heavy demands for railroad accommodations. Therefore, those coming here will find it wise to obtain out-going travel accommodations at the same time they secure accommodations to New York. Otherwise, departure delays are likely.

This whole matter becomes one of planning and cooperation. We are not asking you not to come to New York. We are simply suggesting, in your interest and ours, how to come.

Railroader—Take a look at the map at the bottom of this ad. See all those lines? They're railroads. The heavy lines are the Burlington and the light ones are a lot of other railroads.

Railroader—Yeh, and that's why you see the cars of so many different railroads in every Burlington train. You see, the Burlington is a link between railroads from the North, East, South and West. It serves 22 major gateways and has more than 200 places in its territory where cars are switched from one railroad to another.

2nd Soldier—The railroads must be playing mighty fast ball these days. I understand they're moving lots more freight now than they did during the last war.

1st Soldier—That's right, and I read the other day that they're doing it with lots less cars. How can they do that?

Railroader—Well, you can throw your bouquets to a lot of different folks on that score. The railroads have done a real job of getting every ounce of service out of every train. And don't forget the shippers. They're the boys who are cooperating where it really counts—in fast and full loadings, in smart routing and in speedy unloading and releasing of cars. Incidentally, the biggest shipper today is your Uncle Sam.

2nd Soldier—Sounds to me like another case of everybody working together to do a job that no one of them can handle alone. That's cooking American style, isn't it?

★ ★ ★

You're right, soldier, and the Burlington is proud to be among the railroads who have teamed up with an army of shippers, in handling the biggest freight transportation job in history. Private enterprise always has and always will thrive on tough assignments. Both the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Office of Defense Transportation have been on the job, too, with constructive wartime regulations.

AN ESSENTIAL LINK IN TRANSCONTINENTAL TRANSPORTATION

MRS. F. G. LOGAN DIES; DEVOTED WEALTH TO ART

Social Leader Succumbs to Illness at 81.

Mrs. Frank Granger Logan, nationally known as a patroness of the arts, and a leader in long established social circles in Chicago, died yesterday in her home at 1150 Lake Shore drive after a brief illness. She was 81 years old.

At her side were her sons, Stuart, retired investment banker; Waldo, an explorer, and Spencer H. Logan. Mrs. Logan's husband died July 18, 1937.

Mrs. Logan was the former Miss Josephine Hancock. She was born in Chicago, a daughter of Col. John L. Hancock, twice president of the Chicago Board of Trade during the Civil war, and a personal friend of Abraham Lincoln.

Donor to the Arts.

For nearly two generations Mrs. Logan was active in the cultural and social life of Chicago, and with her husband was a bountiful donor both in money and in time to the many arts. Their Lake Shore drive home, housed one of the world's finest private art collections.

In 1916 the Logans together established an annual series of awards which since have enriched winners by approximately $90,000.

Mrs. Logan was a talented poet, composer, and musician. One of her best known books of verse is "Lights and Shadows." Some of her lyrics have been set to music. One poem, "Greed," won for her the Linn A. E. Gale memorial prize.

For Sanity in Art.

The bizarre in art, unless it was outstanding, did not appeal to Mrs. Logan. She preferred sensible art, crusaded for it, and in 1936 founded and became president of the Society for Sanity in Art, Inc. to combat extreme, modernistic art.

Mrs. Logan's benefactions were not to the arts alone, however. She gave generously to medicine, scientific research and exploration, and was co-founder of the American College of Surgeons. The University of Chicago and Beloit college, Beloit, Wis., were especially remembered.

Funeral services for Mrs. Logan will be held in her home at 3 p. m. tomorrow, the Rev. Preston Bradley officiating. Burial will be in Oak Woods cemetery.

NEW WILL ADDS TO TANGLES OF PEASE ESTATE

The legal tangle surrounding disposition of the $100,000 estate of Edwin A. Pease, wealthy Aurora clubman who died Oct. 11 on a California bound train, and the half million dollar estate of Pease's father, John H. Pease, was complicated further yesterday with the presentation of a second will.

Edwin Pease's first will, drawn in 1913 shortly after the death of his father, was filed Oct. 19 in the Kane county Probate court. Attorneys for Pease's estranged widow, Clara, who inherited $1,000 under terms of the will, had indicated that an attempt to upset the document would be made.

The will that appeared yesterday, being filed immediately in Probate court, was drawn Sept. 14. It had been found in a trunk which preceded Pease on his California trip. Mrs. Pease is given dower rights under this will.

The latter will, however, does not specify whether it disposes of the elder Pease's $500,000 estate—which Edwin, as trustee, was authorized to do. If the will is thus interpreted, Edwin's first cousin, John S. Pease of Chicago, will inherit the bulk of the fortune, as state law provides that inheritance taxes on the estate in trust must be paid from Edwin's estate.

ARMY MAJOR'S DAUGHTER, 14, IS MISSING IN N. Y.

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—Search for pretty 14 year old Margaret Moore, daughter of an army major, was aided tonight by a sailor who said he recognized her from newspaper photographs as the girl a shipmate and he had talked to in Central park shortly before she disappeared Sunday.

The sailor, 28, went to police voluntarily after seeing the newspaper pictures. He said he had left his companion with Miss Moore in the park. Police sent out an alarm.

The girl is the daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Davis Dodge Moore. Moore, a doctor now serving in the European war theater, gave up his Park avenue practice a year ago.

FOUR OVERCOME WHILE FIGHTING APARTMENT FIRE

Three firemen were overcome by sulphur dioxide fumes and a fourth suffered a heart attack yesterday while fighting a fire in the basement of an apartment house at 6239-45 South Kedzie avenue.

The fumes, which escaped from a refrigerating unit, made it difficult to fight the fire. Other firemen suffered from the fumes. Those overcome are Chief Joseph Fleming of the 12th battalion, Lt. Joseph McGinn of company No. 123, and Fireman Joseph Phelan of engine company No. 88.

Capt. Gustav Gardner of engine company No. 88 was taken to Holy Cross hospital when he collapsed with a heart attack.

MOVIE BUILDING GIVEN EVANSTON RED CROSS UNIT

The four story Hoyburn building at 615-17 Davis street, Evanston, has been given to the Evanston branch of the Chicago chapter of American Red Cross by Balaban and Katz corporation, William Hollander, vice president of the theater company, said yesterday.

The building, which formerly housed the 850 seat Hoyburn theater and is valued at $30,000, will make it possible for the Red Cross, thru additional facilities, to extend its activities along the north shore. Harry L. Wells, chairman of the Evanston Red Cross branch, said that various home services will be operated in the area between the northern city limits of Chicago and the south limits of Waukegan.

Wells said the Red Cross will use the entire building as rapidly as it can be occupied.

BUILDERS STUDY SHIFT TO OTHER WAR PRODUCTION

Plans are being made by industry, labor, and government representatives to shift construction organizations to war work to bring airplane production up to schedule, overcome labor shortages in shipbuilding, and other war fields and produce war materials more quickly.

Joseph D. Keenan, WPB vice chairman for war production, said yesterday at the fall meeting of the governing and advisory boards of the Associated General Contractors of America in the Drake hotel that it is hoped the 500,000 new workers needed in war industries from now until February can be made up chiefly from construction organizations as they complete the declining volume of war construction.

The two days' session of the contractors' association will end today with discussions on technical subjects, and a report of the nominating committee.

POLICE AND FBI HUNT FOR SAILOR WHO FLED SHIP

Search for Sam Filimonove, 19 years old, the third of three sailors who deserted from their navy vessel in New York after they stole two Thompson submachine guns and 210 rounds of ammunition, was made by police and federal bureau of investigation agents in the Chicago area last night. Filimonove is believed to be riding in a gray automobile which the three stole in Portland, Me., about a week ago. His companions later were apprehended in eastern cities. Police said Filimonove habitually carries one of the guns concealed under his raincoat when he is on foot.

4c OUT OF TOWN LETTER RATE IS VOTED INTO BILL

Raise in Air Mail Charge Cut to 8 Cents.

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP).—A penny increase in the three cent postal rate on out-of-town letters was approved today by the house ways and means committee as it virtually completed action on a new tax bill providing $2,183,000,000 of additional revenue—80 per cent short of the $10,500,000,000 requested by the administration.

The committee, which previously jumped the local letter rate from two to three cents, also:

1. Put the airmail rate at eight cents instead of 10 cents as approved earlier. The present rate is six cents.

2. Doubled second class postal rates, but exempted newspapers and religious and church papers which retain present charges.

Amusement Raise Reduced.

3. Cut back to 20 per cent the previously approved 30 per cent rate against general admission to amusement places. The rate now is 10 per cent.

4. Decided not to reconsider its refusal to put new excises on soft drinks, candy and chewing gum, thru which the treasury hoped to bring in $365,000,000.

5. Sustained its approval of a boost from 10 per cent to 15 in the rate against local telephone bills.

6. Decided that individuals could not use excises, such as sums paid in general admission, tobacco and liquor taxes, as exemptions in making out personal income tax returns. This would mean $140,000,000 added federal revenue annually. The committee agreed to terminate all excise increases within six months after the war emergency. It voted to remove the excise exemptions now accorded the federal government, meaning the government would have to pay excises to itself.

7. Extended to synthetic rubber the present taxes on natural rubber.

Effective Date Uncertain.

No effective date for either the proposed new postal or excise rates has been decided upon. This would depend upon the time required for the bill to clear the legislative processes.

By today's changes the net amount in the bill was increased from $2,117,000,000 to $2,183,000,000. All the money is derived from boosted postal and excise rates and by an increase from 90 per cent to 95 in the excess profits tax. The committee has rejected all proposals to increase individual or corporation income taxes.

Strong indications developed over the week-end that the senate would join the house in repudiating the administration on its call for more and higher taxes, with members of both parties placing the emphasis on government economy.

Chairman Walter F. George [D., Ga.] of the senate finance committee said the ways and means group had "rendered a service to the country" by cutting back the treasury's tax program. He declared $5,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000 could be saved by closer checks on spending. This break between the administration and congress on tax policy caused a revival of reports that Randolph Paul, treasury general counsel, would resign. Friends quoted Paul as saying he had handled three tax bills before congress "and that's enough for anybody."

Proposed New Rates.

The proposed new postal rates and excises, after reshuffling, follow:

Liquor—Raised from $6 per gallon to $8. Beer—$7 per barrel to $8. Wine—Now 10 cents to $1 per gallon, to 15 cents to $2.

Cigars—Present excises of $2.50 to $20 per thousand doubled.

Electric light bulbs and tubes—Increased from 5 per cent of manufacturers' sale price to 25 per cent.

Jewelry—10 per cent retail, to 20 per cent. Furs—10 per cent retail, to 25 per cent. Luggage, handbags, wallets—Now 10 per cent of manufacturers' price on luggage only, to 25 per cent of retail.

Toilet preparations [soaps, tooth and mouth washes, dentifrices]—Now untaxed, to 10 per cent of manufacturers' sale price; other toilet preparations [lipstick, etc.]—10 per cent retail, to 25 per cent.

Local telephone—10 per cent of bill, to 15 per cent; long distance phone—20 per cent, to 25 per cent; telegraph, radio and cable—15 per cent domestic, to 25 per cent and 10 per cent international, to 15 per cent; leased wires—Nonserviced, 15 per cent to 20 per cent, serviced, 5 per cent to 7 per cent.

Transportation of persons—10 per cent, to 15. Transportation of property—3 per cent retained and to include parcel post.

General admissions—10 per cent, to 20 per cent. Cabarets—5 per cent of charge, to 30 per cent. Club dues—11 per cent, to 20 per cent of charge. Bowling—$10 per alley to 20 per cent of charge. Billiards—$10 per table to $20.

Postage—In-town letters, 2 cents to 3; out-of-town letters, 3 cents to 4; air mail, 6 cents to 8; second class mail, doubled, except newspapers and religious and church papers exempted from boost; third class, doubled; money orders, now 6 to 22 cents per order, to 10 to 37 cents; registered mail, now 15 cents to $1, to 20 cents to $1.35; insured and C. O. D. mail, doubled.

Pari-mutuel wagers—No tax now, to 5 per cent.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Mrs. B. E. Trotter, Paoli, Ind.]

THE QUESTION.

Did you ever make an innocent remark that caused you much embarrassment?

WHERE ASKED.

Blue Island.

THE ANSWERS.

Mercedes Sieben, bookkeeper, 1849 York street, Blue Island—My fiance and I went to the jewelry store to select a ring for me. When the jeweler brought out a tray of them I said there was none I cared for. I said the one I liked best was on display in the window. It cost twice as much as the others.

Jibi Miller, student, 300 Probress court, Gary, Ind.—I was talking to a young man and noticed that he kept resting his cheek on his hand as tho he were uncomfortable. I asked him if he had a tooth ache and later learned that he had just acquired a brand new set of uppers.

Mrs. L. S. Silvestri, housewife, 2145 Vermont avenue, Blue Island—Late one evening three or four guests dropped in unexpectedly. I was surprised to see them because they lived quite a distance from us. The first thing I said was, "O, we were just going to bed." I felt uncomfortable the rest of the evening.

Bruno D'Ercole, tavern owner, 12907 Mozart street, Blue Island—Our orchestra was playing on a special occasion when it was announced that we would be entertained by a guest singer. After she finished I said to the player beside me that I was glad things like that didn't happen often. Later I learned the girl was his sister.

Doris Zinser, telephone service representative, 12438 Maple avenue, Blue Island — I was reading the death notices. Many of the people listed there were past 60 and thoughtlessly I said that by that time a person had lived the most interesting part of his life. Several past that age heard me, and I felt very foolish.

Shirley McDermott, clerk, 2436 Grunewald avenue, Blue Island—I had asked the switchboard operator in one of the offices for a bit of information. She hadn't been so polite and I told the girl beside me that she had been "downright rude." The switchboard was open and the operator had heard me. I never felt comfortable with her again.

GROCER TO GIVE RATION TOKENS AS POINT CHANGE

Further information on new ration tokens expected to be ready for use by February was given yesterday by Edward F. Stegen, Chicago regional rationing executive in the office of price administration, as consumers began using war ration book No. 4. Green stamps A, B, and C from the new book became valid for purchase of processed foods.

Stegen said he had learned from Washington, D. C., that when the tokens are placed in circulation, the red and blue stamps in book No. 4 will be valued at 10 points each under present plans. A consumer buying rationed canned or processed foods, or meats and fats, will tear from the ration book the stamps needed for the purpose and will receive tokens from the store keeper for whatever change is necessary. The token then can be used at any time to buy other rationed items.

The ration "coins" will have a value of 1 point, Stegen said, and the OPA has contracted for the manufacture of 900 million, made of vulcanized fiber, in two colors, red and blue.

"ALL-BRAN LIVED UP TO ITS PROMISE!"

Says former sufferer from constipation!

If you've often despaired of getting the lasting relief you wanted, this unsolicited letter may offer real encouragement:

"Permit me to compliment you on your wonderful product, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN! It certainly lived up to its promises, with me! I'd been taking manufactured laxatives for a long time! But, no longer — thanks to KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN! I've adopted it as my stand-by!" Mr. Alexander Klein, 630 West 170th Street, N. Y. C.

Yes, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN really "gets at" one common cause of constipation—lack of sufficient "cellulosic" elements in the diet—because ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements! They work by helping the friendly colonic flora fluff up and lighten the colonic wastes for easy elimination. Not a purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out"! KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is simply a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If this is your trouble, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find welcome relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek, Michigan.

CANADA PAYING 78% OF HER WAR COSTS BY TAXES

Canada is determined to meet as much of its war costs as possible thru taxation and to throw as little of the burden, thru borrowing, on future generations not responsible for getting the country into the war, Lester B. Pearson, minister counselor of the Canadian legation in Washington, told members of the Chicago branch of the English Speaking union in the Blackstone hotel yesterday.

Lester B. Pearson.

Pearson said about half of Canada's national income is being devoted to the war. Of its own war expenditures, 78 per cent is being met out of taxes, he said.

"Our income tax figures tell the story," said Pearson. "A single person with an income of $2,000 pays $601 in taxes and compulsory savings. On $10,000 he would pay $5,112. If he were married and had two children he would pay $4,762."

By the end of 1943 Canada will have given two billion dollars worth of supplies to its allies as mutual aid and will have lent Great Britain 700 million dollars, tax free thru the war. Canada has more than 34 R. C. A. F. squadrons overseas today, and more than one-third of all the air crews of R. A. F. squadrons are Canadian, he said.

ALL FAGGED OUT IN FLIGHT, TURNS AND ROUTS FOE

Joseph A. Meersman, 6718 Onarga avenue, bleeding from cuts on his hands and face—inflicted when he grappled with a Negro in a soldier's uniform—broke away and fled.

"He was armed and I wasn't, and I felt I didn't have a chance against him," Meersman told Jefferson Park police. "I ran for two blocks and then I just couldn't run another step, I was so exhausted. I figured it was all up with me, but I turned and faced him. As I turned he skidded to a stop, then turned and started running from me."

Meersman said he just had stepped from his car in front of his home early yesterday when he felt a knife pressed against the back of his neck. It was when he was unable to wrest the knife from the Negro that he ran.

THIEVES GET SPARE TIRE.

Behind the scenes of shell production

In this modern war production plant 37 mm. steel cartridge cases are being turned out in vast quantities with the aid of efficient electrical operations.

Electric conveyors provide a steady flow of parts and a progressional movement through the various steps of processing. The draws (stretching operations) are made in huge electrically operated presses. The annealing is done in an accurately controlled continuous electric furnace, conveyorized salt bath and conveyor type oven. The finish is applied by an automatic spray machine and is baked in an infra-red oven.

In this war plant, just as in thousands of others throughout Northern Illinois, Electric Power is the vital source of energy ...the dynamic force that puts more production into every hour.

Electric Power Speeds War Production

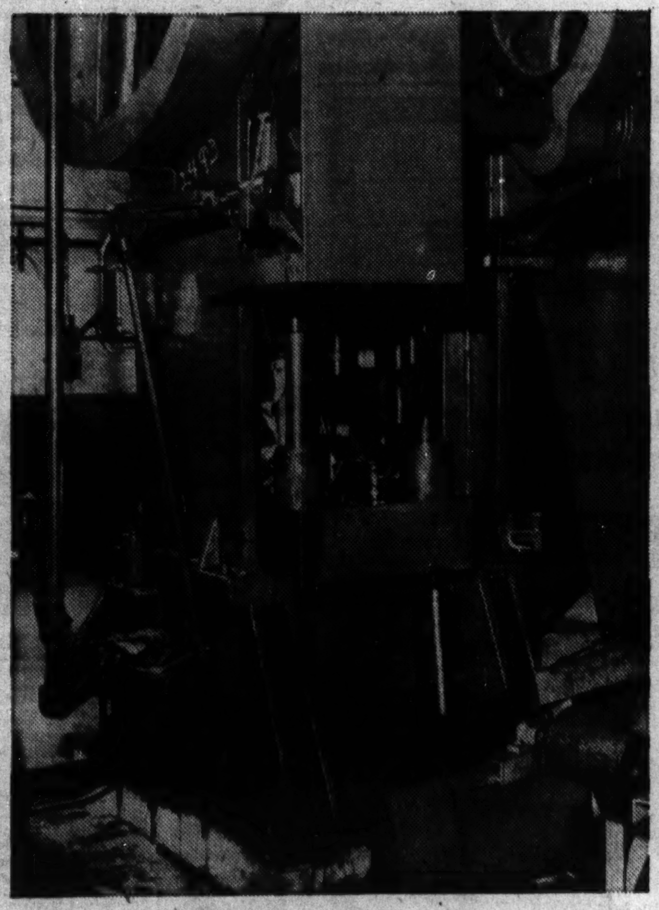
Because of its compactness, efficiency and ease of operation, the infra-red battery of lamps is used in baking the finish on shell casings. Casings have been removed from the foreground to show the calrods which heat the bottom of the shells.

The small, thick cups have been annealed in the controlled atmosphere furnace and are ready for the first draw (stretching process). They'll roll down to the presses at the rear.

Casings move past the spray guns, placed so that each casing is covered completely. Here one has been covered and others are entering the spray.



Draws are made in these big electrically driven presses. Drawn shells are pushed up to the conveyor by a hydraulic ram, and the conveyor carries them to the wash and furnace.

Internal spraying is the function of this electrical machine. The girl puts the shell over the revolving tube and the paint sprays into it. She does two at a time.

Chicago WAC Trainees Find Thrills in Skills

BY MARTHA MURPHY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Daytona Beach, Fla., Nov. 1.—Chicagoland women stationed at the Second WAC Training center here are adding special fillips of their own to the post.

Corp. Frances E. Clarkin, daughter of Mrs. Edith Clarkin of 328 Circle avenue, Forest Park, claims to be the "best tent patcher" in the post's tent city. Corp. Clarkin is a member of the cadre, a permanent nucleus group of non-commissioned officers, of the canvas-top city where new recruits are processed.

"I'm not only a good tent patcher, I'm a good sprayer as well," Corp. Clarkin says. "I spray paint and waterproofing so industriously that my blue denims will stand up by themselves. I'm a whiz at crawling under tents to grub out the palmetto bushes and the recruits really learn 'rock picking,' area policing or cleaning from me."

Among Corp. Clarkin's recruits is Pvt. Miriam Goldfaber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Goldfaber, 1352 South Avers avenue. Pvt. Goldfaber hopes rock picking is just the first step toward a WAC job at an airfield.

Corp. Marian Warrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Warrick of Watseka, also a member of the tent city cadre, excels at river guard duty. Several nights a month finds Corp. Warrick "walking" the river which borders tent city.

Pvt. Dorothy L. Crane, known as "Chickadee Crane" when she was a new recruit, entertains with hula dances at the service clubs while awaiting assignments from the cantonment area to field service. Pvt. Crane's hula skirt is an artistic arrangement of mops. A former dancer and office efficiency expert, Pvt. Crane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crane of 4220 Jackson boulevard.

Second Lt. Dorothy Irwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Irwin, 5111 Main street, Downers Grove, holds an army job which is far removed from her civilian employment. Formerly a home service adviser, Lt. Irwin now is a member of the staff of the post's motor transport training school. Included in her daily schedule are lectures on the intricacies of internal combustion engines.

A Chicagoland member of the center's physical training staff, 2d Lt. Billie A. Burrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Burrill of 212 Casseday avenue, Joliet, is used to excitement. Before joining the WAC Lt. Burrill worked as forelady of the fuses and boosters construction department of the Ellwood Ordnance plant. In Daytona Lt. Burrill is teaching physical training, first aid, and swimming.

What Would a WAC Like for Christmas? Above All It's Hosiery

"If you can't send a dozen pair, send one pair," officers advised parents and friends of girls in the service. "They must be of the prescribed GI shade, of course."

Cosmetics, too, are high up on the want list. However, Uncle Sam frowns upon the too bold use of mascara and eye shadow, so Yule donors were advised to be discreet and to "stick to the standard rouge, lipstick, powder, perfume, and cologne."

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

Two popular members of the civil service staff of the air cargo detachment of the service command of the army air forces are Miss Jessie Morgan and Miss Mary Gniadek. They are mechanics' helpers at the service command airport, 6013 South Central avenue, servicing transient aircraft, refueling the planes, and helping with repairs.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Jessie Morgan, mechanics' helper at army airport, servicing plane's fire extinguisher.

To obtain their civil service jobs they had merely to demonstrate basic mechanical skill. Miss Morgan was a tap dancer before she entered war work, and Miss Gniadek had a clerical position, two types of endeavor they were happy to give up for the duration in favor of the glamor of working at the airport.

Other young women in civil service, also working for the air cargo depot detachment, are three aircraft dispatchers, who handle the paper work of incoming and outgoing aircraft, giving the planes and pilots their clearance. Frank Urso, administrative assistant, said three more dispatchers are needed for the staff.

Women interested in these jobs, which pay $1,440 a year and more, depending upon skill, and which cover three shifts around the clock, may apply either at the civil service regional headquarters, New Postoffice building, or directly to Mr. Urso at the airport.

A Chicago business woman who gave up her career for the duration to serve with the navy is in town between assignments. She is Ensign Albina A. Miller who, before enlisting in the WAVES, was assistant to the assistant general manager of the Alaska railway, 333 North Michigan avenue.

Ensign Miller, who received her basic training at Mount Holyoke college, South Hadley, Mass., was stationed in Washington, D. C., until this week, in an administrative post with the department of naval operations. Her next assignment is in Seattle, Wash.

A native of Fairbanks, Alaska, Ensign Miller attended the University of Alaska, at Fairbanks, and was graduated from the University of Washington. The daughter of Mrs. Mary Miller of Fairbanks, she is the fourth in her family in service.

One of her brothers, Lt. Comdr. Henry L. Miller, a graduate of the 1934 class at Annapolis Naval academy, recently received the Legion of Merit for his part in the Doolittle raid on Tokio. A naval aviator, he assisted in training army flyers who participated in the raid and and was himself aboard the Hornet.

The Eddie Rickenbacker chapter of the Women's Defense Corps of America [W. D. C. A.] will meet at 8 o'clock tonight at 753 South Western avenue. Plans will be discussed for a U. S. O. party the latter part of November at which members will be hostesses.

The Rickenbacker chapter is composed of young women who plan entertainment for service men, pack baskets of food for hospitalized soldiers and sailors, sell war bonds and stamps, and do Red Cross work. Any one wishing to join the chapter should write to Miss Edythe Turkin, 1153 Independence boulevard.

Women Making Good as Welders, Asserts Labor Bureau Report

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 [Special].—Women working as welders in shipyards, aircraft factories, machine shops, munitions works, and all war industries are making good, Miss Mary Anderson, chief of the women's bureau in the department of labor, reported today.

"Despite the pre-war notion that to be adept at welding took years of experience, women have already effectively replaced men as welders in aircraft assembly plants and today not only weld on all types of metal but have mastered various types of welding—spot, arc, and oxacetylene [torch] welding—on engine mounts, manifolds, and other airplane parts," Miss Anderson's report said.

At one shipyard women welders were found to be working on the top decks of ships on the ways, at outfitting docks, and on the lower decks and deep in the holds.

Some drawbacks to women's employment as welders were reported. One welding school instructor said it was his experience that it takes two weeks longer to train a woman welder than a man. He also felt women tend to "give out" after five or six hours, tho he added that some very small girls make good welders. Other yards, however, reported women learn faster than men.

Helen Harvey Is Married to Army Officer

BY JUDITH CASS.

MR. AND MRS. ARLINGTON C. HARVEY just have returned from Boston, Mass., where they went to attend the marriage on Sunday of their younger Daughter, Helen, to 1st Lt. Leonard E. Sachs of the army. The news of Miss Harvey's marriage will come as a surprise to her friends along the north shore, as no announcement had been made of their engagement. The ceremony took place in the Statler hotel in Boston, with two of the bride's eastern friends, Miss Margaret Wellington and Miss Naomi Swan, as her attendants. Lt. and Mrs. Sachs are at home in Beacon street, Boston.

The bride, a graduate of Smith college in 1938, received her master's degree in architecture three years later from the Cambridge School of Architecture. Since then she has lived in Boston, practicing architecture there. Lt. Sachs, son of Leonard Sachs of New York City, received his degree from the University of North Carolina in 1931. He is well known as an expert in first editions and rare prints.

The Harveys' elder daughter, Mrs. Westray B. Hazzard, and her husband and their two children, Westray Harvey and Ruth Coryelle, recently returned from North Carolina to reside on the north shore. Until they are settled at their new address they are staying with Mrs. Hazzard's parents.

Engagement News.

Mr. and Mrs. Mellen C. Martin of Winnetka have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn, to Ensign Philip Mallen III., son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip T. Mallen, also of Winnetka. Miss Martin, who was introduced to society in the fall of 1939, attended the Hacienda del Sol and Finch schools. Her fiance was graduated from Cornell university in February, 1943, and received his commission at the naval reserve midshipmen's school at the University of Notre Dame last May. He will be sent overseas soon.

Capt. and Mrs. Donald L. Campbell of Northampton, Mass., announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Williston, to Lt. George E. Leonard Jr. of the army air forces. Miss Campbell's father, who also is with the army air forces, is stationed in Amarillo, Tex. Lt. Leonard, whose marriage to the former Jane Dutcher, now Mrs. Hugo Vogel, ended in a divorce last year, is stationed in Washington, D. C. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago law school.

Here and There.

Another issue of Something for the Boys will be on its way this week to 250 Chicago soldiers and sailors scattered from Italy to the South Sea Isles. The little periodical contains five pages of local chatter edited by Miss Lee Cudahy, whose father, Edward I. Cudahy, has contributed his office for the typing and mimeographing. Since the paper's first edition its staff has had a rapid turnover. George R. Nichols III., one of the most faithful contributors, left for Washington, D. C., several months ago to fill a post in the state department. Miss Eleanor Cochran, one of the original editors, has gone to Cambridge, Mass., as the bride of Ensign Louis Lee Hemingway Jr. Many of the early staff, including Miss Shirley Hopkins and Miss Diana Hill, are too busy with full time jobs to contribute as much time to the paper as they formerly did.

On Today's Calendar.

Mrs. Charles Davis will "do" the table from which coffee and tea will be dispensed at this afternoon's opening of the exhibition season at the Arts club. Mrs. Arthur G. Cable, hostess at the 4 to 6 p. m. tea, will be assisted by Mrs. Jacob Baur. Among those pouring will be Mrs. Joseph Stein, Mrs. George Arthur Kelly, Mrs. Ross J. Beatty, Mrs. E. V. L. Brown, and Mrs. Winterbotham Badger. Sidney Janis, who assembled the collection of American primitive paintings which opens the season, will not be here for the tea. However, he is scheduled to speak at the club at 11:30 a. m. Saturday.

"Behind the Embroidered Fan" is the provocative title of a talk which Li Ling Ai, Chinese actress, will present at 2:30 p. m. today before the Chicago Drama league, meeting at the Casino. Invited as special guests are Dr. Chang Lok Chen, Chinese consul; Miss Frances Whedon, Mrs. William S. Monroe, and the latter's sister-in-law, Mrs. William J. Calhoun. Mrs. William E. Vogelback will preside.

At today's meeting of the Cercle Francais, Dr. Robert Goffin, Belgian author, will talk on the subject of Carlotta, the ill-fated empress. The program also will include French songs by Mrs. Lois Holsman, accompanied by George Seaberg. Mrs. Paul Steinbrecher and Mrs. Allen C. Howes will preside at the tea table.

Cut This Out and Save It as a Practical Guide to Rationing

Here Are Recipes for Two of Dishes on Current Menus

Following are recipes for two of the dishes included in Mary Meade's ration budget menus this week:

Mexican Tamale Pie: Combine ½ cup cornmeal, 2 cups boiling water, and ½ teaspoon salt in top of double boiler. Cook 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. Chop ½ medium onion and ½ green pepper and brown in hot fat. Add 1½ cups cooked fresh tomatoes, 12 ounce can whole kernel corn, ½ pound hamburger which has been browned thoroly, 1 teaspoon salt, dash of cayenne pepper, and ½ teaspoon chili powder. Cook until thickened. Line square baking dish or pie pan with half the cornmeal mush, pour in meat mixture, and cover with remaining mush. Bake in moderately hot oven [375 degrees] 30 minutes, or until lightly browned.

Beef and Kidney Stew with Wine: Split 1 beef kidney [unrationed] lengthwise, remove tubes, and soak ½ hour in cold salted water. Cut ½ pound beef chuck or shoulder in 1 inch cubes, cut beef kidney in pieces, brown both in fat, and add 1½ cups boiling water. Add 1 teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper, cover, and simmer 30 minutes. Add 6 small sliced carrots, 3 cubed potatoes, 3 sliced onions, and more water if necessary, and simmer 20 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Blend ¼ cup flour with ¼ cup cold water and stir mixture into stew, to thicken gravy. Add ½ cup claret, burgundy, or any red table wine, and turn into baking dish. Garnish with mashed potatoes and bake in a hot oven [450 degrees] until browned.

Additional recipes will appear with Mary Meade's daily menus.

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

Insatiable admirers of the waltzes of the younger Johann Strauss may find the very name of "The Waltz King" an irresistible lure, but on the strength of what happened at the Civic Opera house last night I can think of no other reason for attendance on the musical brought from California at the behest of Boris Morros, a producer who has clung to Hollywood of late, and perhaps has not noticed how things change on the stage.

His show in three-quarter time describes itself as devoted to the life and music of that Strauss famous for "The Beautiful Blue Danube," the "Emperor" waltz, "Fledermaus" and so many more irresistible melodies that a dozen shows could be filched from their brilliance without stirring more than the top of the jeweled heap. It does use the music, but ineptly, snagging it in poor arrangements and miring it up with lyrics almost as dull as the incredible dialog.

As for the life story, available in any number of sources, no one expected anything more than a fictionized version. But here is Richard Bonelli, pictured as a dull dog always after the ladies, and when inspiration strikes him, it comes not to Strauss working at his desk, but to a man dreaming at a piano while the muses of the arts drape themselves over the keyboard and angel voices warble dreamily in the orchestra pit. Here, too, is Irra Petina, cast as a kind of caricature of Henrietta, Strauss' first wife. Actually, Henrietta was Jetty Treffz, a distinguished woman compared in London to Jenny Lind. Almost 10 years older than Strauss, she married him at the turning point of his career and was the keystone of his rising fortunes. Perhaps it doesn't matter, but the truth is a far better story than this far fetched fiction.

Most people remember "The Great Waltz" as an enticingly melodious show beautifully staged, but dragged down by a tedious book. "The Waltz King" makes that book, in retrospect, look like a masterpiece, so perhaps Moss Hart can quit pretending he never wrote it. The new show flounders in the mazes of a plot never worth unraveling, and it neglects to beguile the eye in the process. Settings hover on the garish side, and the costumes are no more inspired than David Lichine's choreography.

But Richard Bonelli sings in that warm, rich baritone, when he gets a chance to sing, and sometimes Miss Petina reminds you that she was better in opera than she is in operetta. There is a girl named Virginia Card who has a pretty voice, and there is, about 10:15, Tatiana Riabouchinska in the first of her husband's ballets. Still lovely, but with blonde sausage curls replacing the trim ballerinna's bun, she reminisced over the girl in "Spectre de la Rose," and for a fleeting moment you remembered the nights when she was thistledown clinging to the splendor of true ballet tradition.

Panhellenic Congress Promises Support to Women's Recruitment

Active support of the program to recruit women for military service was pledged here yesterday by the Panhellenic congress, central council of 21 college and university women's Greek letter fraternities, at the closing session of a three day business meeting. The delegates also voted a donation of $500 to the American Red Cross for the blood donor service.

The delegates implemented the commitment to support women's recruitment with a further pledge to foster a program "to urge girls graduating from college to consider seriously enlistment in the armed forces."

Mrs. George Cunningham of Berkeley, Cal., former national secretary and a member of Phi Omega Pi, was elected chairman of the congress, to succeed Mrs. M. C. Burnaugh of Chicago. Mrs. Burnaugh, who conducted the meeting, is a member of Beta Sigma Omicron. Miss Amy B. Onken of Chapin, Ill., a Pi Beta Phi, was advanced from the office of treasurer to secretary of the congress, and Miss L. Pearle Green of Ithaca, N. Y., a Kappa Alpha Theta, was elected treasurer. The conference, confined to discussion of business and war service, was held in the Medinah club.

Chauncey McCormick Is Acting President of Chicago Art Institute

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Chicago Art institute last Thursday, Chauncey McCormick, a vice president of the board, was elected acting president until the first quarterly meeting of the board next January.

The indications, from talks with the trustees, are that Mr. McCormick will be elected president at that time, which is the meeting designated by the institute's by-laws for the election of officers. The office of president was left vacant by the recent death of Potter Palmer, who headed the board of trustees.

Mr. McCormick's interest in the Art institute dates back to 1923, when he became a governing life member. He was named a trustee in 1925 and a vice president in 1933, serving in that same year as chairman of the highly successful art committee of A Century of Progress. Also at Thursday's meeting, John A. Holabird was reëlected to the board of trustees, on which he had served previously from 1925 to 1934.

Swank Gloves Top Off That Winter Outfit

BY REA SEEGER.

New gloves to make you catch your breath include fabulous fur trimmed models, the newest colored smoothies of fine, soft kidskin, street gloves of dark shades stitched in white and colored thread, and doeskins for dress parade. The colored kidskins are plenty exciting with wide trick cuffs to wear over the sleeves of your suit jacket or fitted dress sleeve. They are cut and seamed to puff in a most interesting outline, and the kidskin assures a slender elegance to the fingers.

Fur trimmed gloves add glamor and swank to the simplest costume of wool or velvet. Some are trimmed with a narrow band of fur down the outside little finger edge; others have cuffs adangle with half a dozen mink tails. Others have turnover cuffs of fur, the fur on the inside to be turned over the leather cuff of the glove. Brown fur on black gloves promises the right color accent for all smart coats or suits of black trimmed with brown. Black or red gloves are ideal with silky black Persian lamb fur trim, either in bands or on deep cavalier cuffs. Less ornate are the dull black gloves sharply defined with white stitches.

Designed for wear with street tweeds and heavy woolens are long swanky gloves of tan pigskin, long enough to wear crushed thickly over a long dress sleeve or a suit. White pigskins are stunning alternates for these tan pigskins to wear with smart, dull black street suits. High colored kidskins cunningly made with pinked scalloped edges are a special delight for simple suits and dresses. The colors range from scarlet, green, and yellow, to pink, blue, putty beige, ivory, mauve, and copper. They will remind you of fine French gloves of former years, soft, feminine, decorative, and very soignee.

"The Chimney Crashed"

By Alice Ormond Campbell

[Copyright: 1943: By Alice Ormond Campbell.]

SYNOPSIS: Lady Hyacinth calls at the office of her husband, Peter Gleam, and demands money for a venture in shipping antiques to America. With her are her two cousins, Joanna Fripp and Cyril Brockett. Wren Dancey is Peter's secretary; Sam Molesey, the bookkeeper; Harold, the office boy. The office has been bombed. Ronald, now Capt. Warre, calls to see his uncle. Sounds of falling bricks are heard in the inner office where Lady Hyacinth and Peter are quarreling. Peter suffers a stroke. During a violent air raid, Lady Hyacinth arranges for removal of furniture, by van, to Dorset. Parker, the cook, on her way to an air raid shelter, is murdered. Mike Riley, one of the van drivers, is the next victim. A bomb has sent Lady Hyacinth to the hospital with a broken leg. She sends Wren to Dorset. Soon Joanna appears at the cottage. The local constable's body is found near the brush with a service man's button in his hand. Cyril and Molesey arrive with Groucho, the cat. Groucho leads Wren and Cyril to a gruesome discovery. Police talk to Wren, Joanna, and Ronald, from whose coat a button is missing. Ronald and Wren search the cottage. Inspectors question Ronald about the missing button and then visit Lady Hyacinth, who insists there is nothing of value among her things. The broken mirror is removed to the shed. Lem Gallus, on the verge of arrest, skips out. The mirror has been tampered with. Secretly summoned, Harold arrives at Foxgloves. Sam and Cyril show him the local sights. As Ronald searches for Harold, Harold returns to the cottage, hunting for his knife. Ronald finds the body of Lem Gallus. Joanna tries to implicate Wren and Ronald. The police question Cyril, then Ronald. Molesey is asked to explain a telephone call.

CHECK-UP ON WREN.

In the misty darkness outside, the inspector stood pondering his newly acquired information. Three minutes later he was accosting a hotel manageress in her small, stuffy den.

"Americans?" she repeated. "Never did get any stopping here. Now, of course, they don't come over, do they?"

The inspector had drawn the heavy visitors' book toward him and was scanning the arrivals for the early part of last week. Setting his forefinger on a signature he asked, "What about her?"

The woman looked. "Think she was an American?" she scoffed. "English she was, same as you and me. That is"—less certainly—"if she hadn't seemed British born I'm sure I'd have noticed. Well, not old, anyhow. I don't know as I can get just a clear picture of her. Didn't see much of her. Medium sized." The manageress hesitated. "Medium dark. I seem to see her eyes as brown. Or hazel? I shouldn't say blue."

"Good looking?"

"Maybe. She wasn't feeling just her best. Droopy she seemed; and if you want to know what she did with herself the two nights she was here, that answer's easy. She stopped in bed."

"O?" The inspector pondered this innocent looking statement. "Suppose you show me her room?"

It was on the ground floor; it seemed she had particularly stipulated this, doubtless thru nervousness of raids. The one window gave on a stone passage which led from the main square and skirted on its opposite side a shadowy expanse of open space and low slate roof. Interrogated, the manageress drew in a hissing breath.

"That? Why, I'd have expected you to know! That's Gridley's poultry shed. A man was murdered there last Monday night, and not a soul in this hotel heard a sound. . . ."

Ten minutes later the inspector was racing back toward the lonely hamlet over the Dorset line.

"It's just not possible," she insisted. "I simply wasn't there."

The inspector moved to get a better light on her face. "So you continue to assert that you spent Monday and Tuesday nights in Auberley court, Kensington. Very good, prove it."

"I've told you, I don't know if I can." In her mind's eye she saw the wide rotunda of velvet carpet she had crossed twice—once to the elevator she had worked herself, the second time when, again solitary, she had tottered forth to the tube. "Some one may have seen me, of course. All I say is I—I don't think any one did."

"And"—skeptically—"you didn't take a taxi?"

"There weren't any."

Iron jawed, the inspector said: "There are two porters at the Rexminster station. Neither of them remembers carrying any bags up into the town."

"I'd only a light case and a—a dress box. I managed them myself."

"And took them to the hotel. On the second evening you slipped out and made a phone call from a public box. Isn't that so?"

"Phone call? No, certainly not." Back in her confused brain a memory stirred. "On Tuesday tho," she said slowly, "some one telephoned me. Or, rather, Auberley court. I've told Capt. Warre about it, and he thinks—"

"Never you mind what Capt. Warre thinks! If you did hold a telephone conversation with some one on Tuesday evening, give me the party's name, we'll try and trace—"

"But I don't know who made the call!" She recited her feeble piece, grilled by the detective's sardonic eye. "What's this for?" She stared down at the thick fountain pen thrust into her hand.

"Write your usual signature on this pad."

She did so. He held the specimen of handwriting to the light.

"Humph—yes. And is this your coat hanging on the door?"

It was. In the wavering half light Wren made out a little collection of the small toilet articles she had been obliged to leave in view since every inch of drawer space was crammed. They were neatly ranged now, in the manner of exhibits. A tiny metal tube was being held out to her. A lipstick.

"I see there's an American mark on this, Miss Dancey. Is it yours?"

"Yes, O, yes, only . . ." It happened to be the lipstick Joanna had requisitioned months ago. "That is, I've got two like that, and . . ."

"The hinged lid seems a novelty. It caught the hotel keeper's eye."

"O, it did?" Sudden sarcasm spurted. "And do you faintly suppose there aren't other American lipsticks knocking around England? Harrods' stocks these, that's where I bought my last. If this hotel woman noticed a lipstick and a coat and nothing besides . . . here, take me to Bexminster right now, or no, a better notion would be to bring the woman over here. I mean . . ."

Wren's certainty wilted. The staggering idea that the woman doubling for her, taking her name, could only have been Joanna Fripp lost clarity when she thought that Joanna, after all, might have spent those two critical nights at Framleigh. She saw herself hemmed in by quicksands of lies.

She must not make reference to the London horror which for the last seven hours had hung obsessively before her vision. Parker—skull battered, throat sliced, body thrown into a roped off bomb crater! That of all items had to be kept dark. Too vividly Wren saw the snowy concrete backstairs corkscrewing down from Lady Hyacinth's tiled kitchen. Too well she knew that in the confused 20 odd minutes directly following the cook's departure one of the various helpers could have taken this obscure way out, done what was necessary and returned by the same route without ever being missed. Just at that time each of them, she recalled, had been tailed off on a separate job, a room to himself. Ronald she hadn't seen at all till shortly before the big crash. . . .

"I mean," she fought on, "I'll welcome this identification! It ought to squash one utterly impossible charge. I can't dimly conceive why some other woman has been pretending to be me."

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

A healthy fear of what may happen is a good thing for declarers—when they can do something to protect themselves! When it is apparent, however, that certain dangers, if they exist, cannot be neutralized, it is just plain silly to let fear of these dangers distort the play. Consider this typical case.

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 diamond | 1 spade | 2 hearts | 2 spades |
| 3 clubs | Pass | 3 diamonds | Pass |
| 3 hearts | Pass | 4 hearts | Pass |
| Pass | Pass | | |

East-West should have gone to four spades as a cheap sacrifice against the four heart contract that should have been fulfilled, but perhaps they foresaw that South would ball up the play and make any sacrifice unnecessary.

West opened the deuce of spades; East won and for want of a better return led back his top diamond. Immediately, South acquired the fixed idea that this was a singleton diamond. Hence, at the third trick he hastened to take out trumps. It was only after he had led the ten from dummy and East had followed with the four that declarer awoke to the fact that he could not really protect himself against a singleton diamond. He could not afford to play the heart ace at this point, then to lead a second trump, because this would be a virtual surrender of two trump tricks. These, with the spade trick already lost and the club ace that would have to be conceded, would spell doom for the contract.

So, on second thought, declarer let the heart ten ride. West won and returned a diamond. East did not, could not, ruff, but declarer was almost as far from home as tho he had ruffed. For now, when a second trump lead was successfully finessed to South's eight and the losing spade queen was ruffed in dummy, South could not return to his own hand to draw East's trump king. When he tried to do so by leading to the club jack, West won and led a third diamond which East actually did ruff.

If declarer had knocked out the club ace before tackling trumps, he could have discarded two of his own diamonds on dummy's clubs; or if East stopped this by ruffing, could overruff East and in that way neutralize his trumps, eventually conceding only one trump trick, one spade, and the club ace.

Club Women to Aid Drive on Night Life of Teen Age Girls

Mrs. Walter M. Rennie, president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, yesterday announced that the organization soon will introduce a plan to aid civic authorities in ridding the downtown area of the teen-age girls who frequent its streets and night clubs during the late hours. Speaking in the Hotel Sherman at a meeting of the federation's 1st district, Mrs. Rennie urged that all club members coöperate in the plan.

"We may have to staff the loop all night, but we will have police protection, and if we can save one or two girls it will be well worth our while," Mrs. Rennie said. "We have the coöperation of the mayor, the police department, and the juvenile court. The generation of tomorrow is going to be made up of some of these young women and we must help to save them."

Good Morning!

"The sound of a voice that is still"—and the quietly reassuring photographic presence of the late Leslie Howard, one of the most beloved figures in the world of entertainment, dominate "Spitfire." It is the story of R. J. Mitchell and his invention, the deadly fighting plane, said to have saved Britain from the Luftwaffe in the 1940 blitz.

Mr. Mitchell, an air craft designer, was first heard of during the days of the Schneider international air races. . . . Then he had a vision of planes built like birds—monoplanes made in one piece—fuselage, wings, and all—whose speed would eat up the air. . . . His ideas were met with scorn [like those of another Mitchell] and his resignation was at one time accepted by the now famous Supermarine Aviation works of England. But he was recalled and gave England the Spitfire.

The flight of gulls was Mitchell's first inspiration. A ship should be built like a bird to fly like a bird. . . . When, visiting Germany on vacation, he learned that the Nazis were evading treaty obligations and in their glider plants were really turning out war planes, he hurried back to England and the work which was to hasten his death. . . . For doctors told him he must rest—and Mitchell knew there was no time for rest.

Mr. Howard directed and acted in the picture with the same sincerity, finesse, and meticulous attention to detail that always distinguished his work. He insisted that David Niven—who acts as his test pilot in the film—be given starring honors, and Mr. Niven proves worthy. It is he, as commander of a British air field, who tells the story of Mitchell that is unreeled.

Supporting roles are well played and photographically and scenically "Spitfire" is a fine achievement.

Yesterday's audience watched the movie with respect and interest.

Thru the Looking Glass

Most of us agree that a little crinkling around the eyes when a person laughs is rather engaging; it conveys infectious merriment and is a characteristic associated with a happy and gay nature.

However, there's a vast difference between a crinkle and a wrinkle, the latter being considered unattractive and something to be avoided as much as possible. And when the skin about the eyes is allowed to become excessively dry, the spontaneous lines induced by laughter, frowning, sun-squinting, or other facial contortions can become permanent. We wouldn't for an instant suggest that any one go "dead pan" thru life to avoid lines, but we would advise keeping the delicate skin well lubricated to discourage lines on the face.

An exceptionally good eye cream we've experimented with lately is a pure white, hard packed, fast melting preparation that is compounded of fine oils, suitably rich for their purpose. The cream is to be used sparingly. A fingertipful is sufficient for an overnight application. Apply it gently, taking care not to stretch or pull the delicate skin; pat it lightly over the lids and around the eyes. There is no need for heavy massage. The cream practically spreads itself and disappears with little coaxing.

Use the lubricant each night, allowing it to stay on thru the sleeping hours for best results. There can be no haphazard attempts at lubrication, allowing the skin to become dry and stiff for a period of time and then oiling furiously in an attempt to make up for neglect. Care must be consistent, a nightly routine. And good care will help immeasurably to maintain smooth, fine textured skin. LOUISE DOOLEY.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 1.—Irene Dunne's fans aren't moanin' low these days. She's got "A Guy Named Joe" and "White Cliffs of Dover" coming from Metro. Her next is "Road to Yesterday" at Columbia, and maybe she'll have Charles Boyer co-starring with her. They haven't been together since "Love Affair." Both Irene and Charles would like another one. . . . No, R-K-O isn't casting Errol Flynn and Charles Chaplin in "Are These My Children?" . . . Maureen O'Hara interviews her prospective maids at her manager's office to save gas. One applicant wanted $200 a month, a car at her disposal, two days a week off. "What! No breakfast in bed?" asked Maureen. . . . Dickie Moore, just turned 18, has been deferred until he gets his high school diploma. . . . Mayris Chaney gets her screen opportunity in "Weekend Pass" with Noah Beery Jr. and Martha O'Driscoll. . . . Jane Frazee teamed so well with Joan Davis in "Beautiful but Broke" that Columbia has signed her for three more. Her next has the dignified title of "Kansas City Kitty"—taken from that song, remember?

Jane Frazee.

He Blew—Nature Followed.

Joseph Schenck went to Mexico to be out of town and away from questioners while the Willie Bioff trial was on in New York and ran slap dash into a full fledged hurricane at Mazatlan. Walt Disney was also in the plane. 'Twas a hair-raising experience, until Disney happened to look out the window and saw a little Mexican burro, his tail blown straight up in the air by the gale, hardly able to keep on his feet, but calmly munching grass and paying no attention whatever to the storm. It was so funny Walt roared, called the passengers' attention to it, and they all laughed, which broke the tension and hysteria. Don't be surprised if that burro is starred in one of Walt's Zanies. . . . Since Metro has grabbed Radio Producer Norman Corwin, they're after Bill Spier. In fact, the raid is on for radio producers, and they're scarcer than hens' teeth.

Even in army camps soldiers take time out to remember motion picture stars and then do something about them. Samuel Colt did a protrait of Shirley Temple and sent it down to me by Pvt. Glenn Gallagher, so that I could make the presentation. . . . Lela Rogers will have a troup of 35 colored soldiers and WACs, known as "The Port Huachuca Follies" entertaining the boys at the canteen tonight. . . . While Turhan Bey walked around in thin cotton Chinese costume for the night shots of "Dragon Seed," the rest of the cast huddled around an open fire. Jack Conway said, "Tell me, character, is your blood warmer than ours?" "No," said he, "I've got on long woolen undies." . . . Director E. H. Griffith is back from Washington. While there he lived in Virginia because he found commuting easier than living in a closet.

For Free, Too.

Bing Crosby and Bob Hope were doing a golf tournament down south when they ran into Jack Pepper, who was entertaining at a little night club there. Jack asked them if they'd put in an appearance one night to help boost trade. They agreed. To get the crowd, he had 1,000 pamphlets printed, telling the good news. The night came, so did Bing and Bob, but not another soul showed up. Townsfolk thought it was a gag till Jack started phoning friends. They wouldn't believe it till Bing sang a song. By midnight the place was packed. . . . "Duffy's Tavern" will soon be visited by Bing Crosby's parents. If they talk as well over the air as they do in real life, Bing's going to grab 'em and sign 'em for his own show. . . . Our most gruesome sweater girl is none other than Red Skelton. . . . Tony Bennett, navy pilot who played with Clark Gable and Spencer Tracy in "Boomtown," was killed in action in the South Pacific.

Made Up for It.

Ronald Colman had a line to Edward Arnold in "Kismet" about 24 dancing girls: "My daughter would make these look like swamp rats." After the take, he came down off the throne and said, "I'm terribly sorry, girls, the speech was written that way. I think you're all awfully good." . . . Michele Morgan is off to New York to join husband Bill Marshall, who's rehearsing "Winged Victory." . . . Mrs. David Bacon, since the mysterious death of her husband and her operation, has been living at the home of Laird Cregar. She'll go to Florida any day now. . . . Sonny Tufts was offered free room and bath in an auto court if he would allow the proprietor to put a sign over the front of the place reading, "Sonny Tufts in residence here." . . . Arthur Murray, while a bus boy at the canteen, watched a boy in uniform do an exhibition dance, found out he was about to be discharged from the army, grabbed him, and now Stanton Harris is under contract to Arthur Murray. . . . Lt. Van Heflin completed his radio training in Washington, D. C., before being sent overseas. . . . Dudley Murphy's first Mexican film will be a musical based on Acapulco.

Hobbies Giving Morale Boost, Says Collector

The "old spinning wheel in the corner," like other collectors' items, is helping thousands of war brides and mothers of soldiers to spin away the lonely hours of their fighting men's absence, it was reported by Miss Lucille Behrens of Blue Island, Ill., one of the youngest exhibitors at the Chicago Antiques Exposition and Hobby Fair, which opened yesterday at the Hotel Sherman.

Miss Behrens said that most of her new customers are women whose sons or husbands recently went into the services.

"Hobbies are wonderful remedies for the blues," she continued. "China dogs, old quilts, lamps, and other items make good companions, and their collection keeps the mind of the collector off his worries."

Miss Behrens started her work seven years ago, when she traveled thru the New England states to buy antiques for the shop which she conducts in her home at 2428 York street, Blue Island. Later she began a series of shorter trips thru the midwest. On one trip to Marseilles, Ill., she purchased a whole estate, house and all, to obtain possession of 15 old quilts.

Her stand on the mezzanine of the Hotel Sherman, one of the hundreds of exhibits in the show, is well stocked with chinaware, glasses, miniatures, and other antiques. Pride of the exhibit is the old baby carriage, built for an infant in 1870, which shows the wear of several generations. The buggy, the size of a present day doll carriage, is made of wood and leatherette.

"It's not made for comfort," Miss Behrens explained, "but it certainly must have served its purpose."

Miss Behrens said most of her customers are enthusiastic collectors who buy her wares for the sake of enlarging their own stock. Others, she reported, make the purchases to furnish old homes with furniture in keeping with the period of the building. A few, she added, buy antiques to lend authenticity to tales told of imaginary ancestors.

The hobby show is the 13th of its kind held in Chicago under the management of O. C. Lightner and sponsored by Hobbies, a magazine for collectors.

Taking analysis—a cold, calm, impersonal analysis—I truthfully can say that I have good looks and personality [was voted the most popular girl in school], my intelligence is better than average [scholastic record for four years was 92.5 per cent], I'm quick, accurate, neat; I have three and one-half years' experience behind me [including a year of legal stenography]; I'm willing to work. And yet, somehow, I've never been able to find a job into which I could put my heart. Perhaps one of the W. C. G.'s [or W. C. B.'s] can tell me what a girl needs in order to rate a job with a future. An eager listener awaits the answer.—M. H.

Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat

Tasty Point-Saver—Sausage Potato Boats!

In a tizzy over points? Pork Sausage Potato Boats is a big, grand-tasting meat meal that saves points for you two ways!

First, of course, Star Pure Pork Sausage is a good point bargain because it's all delicious meat. You can serve 4 persons with only ½ pound! Second, the sausage drippings supplant your precious butter as seasoning for the mashed potatoes.

Start with a ½ pound of Armour's Star Pure Pork Sausage links. You'll like Star Pork Sausage because it's rich, delicious . . . and made fresh every day in Armour's spotless kitchens!

Fry links slowly for 12 minutes, pouring off fat as it accumulates. Bake 4 large potatoes 1 hour, then cut off tops, scoop out and mash the inside. Season with sausage drippings and grated onion, using about 1 tbsp. fat and 1 tsp. onion for each.

Add heated milk and beat until fluffy. Fill shells with mashed potatoes, place 2 sausages on top of each and place under broiler to brown. Serves 4.

Keep Child's Accessories in Handy Places

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Did you ever have such a high shelf in your closet that you dreaded to get things down from it? Did you ever live in a house that, while pleasant, was built with so little closet space, and cupboard space, and storage space that it was a tax on your will power and patience to keep it in order? Did you ever have a kitchen inconveniently built and arranged? Did you ever put off for days stitching up those long rips in your sheets or putting in new hems because the sewing machine and motor were way back in the corner of the closet under the stairs?

Small children have many parallel obstacles in the performance of their daily necessary habits in the average home. A house should be arranged with the convenience of the children of the family in mind, if they are expected to gain skill and self-reliance. We must help them to help themselves in various practical ways.

Everything your small child has to use in the bathroom should be adjusted to him. His towel rack or rod should be low. A broad low box [perhaps one that comes from the grocer's] will raise him just enough so he can scrub his hands and brush his teeth and reach his own little animal soap comfortably. Powder of any kind must be kept out of reach.

In your little boy's or girl's bedroom clothes rods or hooks should be placed low; there should be a foot stool and at least one low chair. Boxes and low shelves, and even baskets for blocks will encourage orderliness, even tho we can't be adamant about it with our young children. In fact, if you achieve perfect orderliness with even your older ones, you're a super-woman.

These suggestions will start you off. But one I must add, since the "small ones" find it such a satisfaction. Buy or make a broad low table and chair for your child's very own. We have detailed directions for making them.

EXPECT ILLINOIS MINERS BACK IN PITS TOMORROW

Await Action by Lewis at Parley Today.

George F. Campbell, president of the Illinois Coal Operators' association, said last night that he believed all striking coal miners in Illinois would be back at work tomorrow or Thursday as a result of President Roosevelt's seizure of the nation's mines.

All mines employing United Mine workers were shut down yesterday and 60 per cent of the members of the rival union, the Progressive Mine Workers, AFL, had joined in a sympathy walkout, Fred Wilkey, secretary of the operators' association, said.

Awaits Lewis' Action.

Wilkey last night declined comment on the effect the President's action would have on the situation in Illinois. "We can only wait and see what develops at John L. Lewis' policy meeting tomorrow [today]," he said.

Illinois' 25,000 members of the UMW are said to have remained away from the pits yesterday because of the war labor board's refusal to approve a working contract between the UMW and Illinois operators which called for a wage increase of $1.50 a day.

Altho Lloyd Thrush, president of the Progressive Mine Workers, declared stoppages by his members unauthorized, mines employing PMW men in Macoupin, Peoria, Knox, Madison and St. Clair counties expected to shut down because of sympathy walkouts.

Average 30 Day Supply.

Supplies of coal in the Chicago area for both industrial and home users were said by coal dealers to average about 30 days' supply. Steel companies, which use special purpose coals from eastern mines, were believed to have about 14 days' supplies.

Oscar E. Hewitt, Chicago commissioner of public works, revealed he had written Fuel Administrator Harold Ickes, asking that in case of any coal rationing program, the city's pumping stations be given special consideration in order to protect the city's water supply.

Tells City Supplies.

The seven city pumping stations have on hand an average of about 38 days' supply of coal, ranging from 22 days at the Mayfair station to 83 days at the Lake View station. The city hall and county building, which are heated from a common heating plant, have 24 days' supply on hand, Hewitt said.

The Sanitary district reported that only one of its four sewage treating plants is dependent on coal. This one, the southwest plant at Stickney, has only a 15 days' supply, and operations there would be seriously handicapped if this supply cannot be augmented, it was said.

DETTMAR AMONG FIVE PROMOTED TO CAPTAINCIES

Promotion of five first lieutenants to the rank of captain and four second lieutenants to the rank of first lieutenant was announced yesterday by Col. John T. Rhett, commanding officer at Fort Sheridan. Among the new captains is Fred H. Dettmar, public relations officer, who formerly handled public relations for the Chicago Motor club. Also made captains were Robert Casey Dempsey, former Associated Press state wire editor at Centralia, Ill., and Hollace L. Cox, assistant post engineer who formerly was an engineer in the Chicago office of the Montgomery-Ward construction department.

Strike of 8,000 Miners in Canada by UMW Edict

CALGARY, Alta., Nov. 1 (AP).—Skeleton crews were maintained at coal mines in Alberta and British Columbia today after more than 8,000 miners quit work at midnight in protest against government delay in dealing with demands for higher wages. The general strike, first in nearly 20 years, was ordered in the two provinces by district 18 of the United Mine Workers of America. At Ottawa, labor department officials termed the strike "definitely illegal."

Four Sisters Join Marines Together

On Way to Camp

Four sisters, enlisting in the women's marine corps en masse, departed from the Union station last night for training camp. The girls, all of Sacramento, Cal., are Delphine, 25 years old; Flora, 27; Ida, 23, and Muriel Biaggi, 21. Accompanying them were 200 other marine women recruits. The train on which they were traveling and their destination were regarded as military secrets. Sgt. Cyrus E. Baker of the marine recruiting department was in charge of the contingent.

GETS A RISE, BUT NO RINSE, OUT OF YEN FOR BLONDE

Peter Fanta, 36 years old, a furniture dealer who lives at 2529 South Pulaski road, was such a fickle fellow that his wife, Viola, 33, of 936 North Massasoit avenue, never knew from one rinse to another whether he'd want her to be a brunet, a redhead, or a blonde.

Yesterday, when she came before Judge Joseph Sabath in Superior court on her suit for separate maintenance, her attorney, Victor Frolich, told how it was. When they were married in 1939 she was a natural brunet and Fanta said he loved brunet hair. But pretty soon, the lawyer said, Mrs. Fanta discovered that her husband preferred red hair.

"So, eager to please, she dyed her hair red, and everything was fine again," Frohlich said. "Then, it turned out, Fanta thought blonde hair was nicest, but my client demurred and refused to dye her hair blonde."

Judge Sabath appointed Alvin Kayner a special commissioner to determine the amount of maintenance Fanta should pay.

IF YOU FIND NO FUMIGATOR IN FUMES, GIVE UP!

A man telephoned THE TRIBUNE last night and asked for information about fumigating chemicals.

MURRAY CLAIMS CIO MEMBERSHIP OF 5¼ MILLIONS

BY GEORGE HARTMANN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 1.—Membership in the Congress of Industrial Organizations now is 5,285,000, President Philip Murray disclosed today in his address of welcome at the opening session here of the CIO's sixth constitutional convention.

CIO leaders informed the convention that more than 2 million unorganized workers will be added to the CIO rolls during the coming year.

See Labor Draft Hint.

The delegates heard a message from President Roosevelt which was widely interpreted as a warning against the imminence of some sort of national service legislation. Both the CIO and American Federation of Labor have recorded opposition to all forms of labor draft laws.

The message from Mr. Roosevelt said that the mobility of labor was a desirable situation at the beginning of the war in enabling remote plants and shipyards to recruit necessary help, but that a point has now been reached where it is essential to stabilize personnel and employment around any given plant to "keep the same people on the same job so far as is humanly possible."

Predicts "Sacrifice."

"This will often mean considerable sacrifice to individuals but this is the kind of effort which will be asked, and which I know will be delivered by the workers of America once they understand how vital it is both to the war effort and to the maintaining of reasonable balance in the cost of living," the President said.

The national anthem was played in a blacked-out hall with a spotlight illuminating a large American flag in a ceremony preceding the opening of the convention. Below the American flag hung the flag of the soviet union, with its orange colored hammer, sickle, and star on a red background.

Altho 29 other allied flags were hanging from the balcony circling the hall, the soviet flag was the only one visible in the blacked-out hall except the American flag.

Custodian of Jewel Box Freed of Larceny Charge

Frank Kapitan, 27 years old, 1346 East 61st street, a machinist, was discharged yesterday by Judge William V. Daly in Felony court on a technical charge of grand larceny. The charge was preferred because he was found in possession of a box of jewels. The gems had been placed in his care Saturday night in a tavern by George Anderson, 61, of 1116 East 42d place, a loop jeweler, who was taking them home to work or over the week-end.

FARR REPEATS DEMAND TO END COUNTY POLICE

Action of the October grand jury in indicting Chief Hugh McCarthy and a number of county highway policemen makes even more imperative the abolition of the Cook county police, Newton C. Farr, president of the Civic Federation, said last night before the Fellowship Forum in Mandel Brothers' tea room.

Farr said the federation had recommended to the county board in its budget survey, even before the grand jury took action, that the highway police department be done away with. Should the board fail to act on that recommendation, Farr said, the federation had urged a reduction in the number of policemen.

As the result of budget surveys made by the federation in 1940, Farr told Forum members, a saving of more than $1,000,000 was made in city expenses and $600,000 by the sanitary district. Savings in the county budget were negligible because the county board refused to adopt any but minor recommendations, Farr said.

NEW BOWLING QUALIFICATION DEADLINE IS SET

Tribune's All-Star Trials End Nov. 19.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The Chicago qualifying rounds for the third annual All-Star individual match game bowling championship, to be conducted by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America over the Auditorium Service Men's Center lanes from Dec. 4 thru 12, inclusive, were extended yesterday by a special decision of the All-Star committee.

The preliminaries at the five local centers were scheduled to have ended Friday evening, but now have been moved back to a Nov. 19 deadline. The round robins among the eight men leading at each of the five sites were set for Nov. 6, 7, 13, and 14, but because of the change in the deadline for establishment of those eight fields, the once around competitions are now set for Nov. 20, 21, 27, and 28.

The committee took action because of the fact that a number of the unseeded bowlers who must qualify locally in order to earn roles in the main event will be competing during the coming week-end in Buddy Bomar's diamond medal individual event at the Marigold and Byron Schoeman's doubles classic at the Logan Square Recreation.

Gets Second Chance.

Any bowler in Chicago may enter the trials at the five qualifying stages. The fee for each three game test series is $2 and bowling. If a bowler is not content with his first effort, he may roll another three games for another $2 fee and bowling. The eight leaders on three game totals at the end of the trials on Nov. 19 will then go into the round robin battles.

The round robins will consist of seven four game blocks, in which each pinman will meet his seven rivals. Two blocks will be bowled on Saturday afternoon and evening, Nov. 20, at each of the five centers; two more on Sunday afternoon and evening, Nov. 21; two more on Saturday afternoon and evening, Nov. 27, and the seventh and last block on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 28. All afternoon blocks will begin at 2 o'clock and all evening sessions at 7 o'clock.

The two leaders at each of the five sites at the end of the round robins will qualify for places in the main December event in the Auditorium.

Five Qualifying Centers.

CASCADE BOWLING CENTER, 3825 West Madison street, Lloyd Wevang.

Circle's Total Highest.

Paul Young, manager of Rose Bowl, has thus far attracted the largest number of seekers after places in the big Auditorium show, a total of 143 bowlers having tried their skill on the alleys of the south side establishment. Leading the top eight at Rose Bowl is Andy Melant, who scored a 655 series in his third effort.

The highest total to date at any of the five places is the 693 posted by Arthur W. Circle at Al Long's Monte Carlo. The Cascade Center leader in the set being conducted by Lloyd Wevang and Sandy Sandberg is Jim Kennedy, a health department employe for the last 16 years, who fired 224, 223, and 203 for a 650. Clarence Jackson, secretary of the Windy City league, is runnerup at Cascade with a 630, off of games of 205, 200, and 225. Johnny Small, the marathon star, is another leader at the west side lines with a 597. Lyman Bolger and Mike Hechinger of Garden Recreation have Bill Balle and his 633 as their pacemaker. Clarence Porter, machinist's mate, second class, from the Glen View air station, is top man with a 640 at Ralph Olsen's and Jack Samuelson's Bowling lanes.

Sportsman's Charity Crowd Bets $613,395

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Sportsman's Park yesterday opened its week of charity racing with perfect weather conditions prevailing and the stands packed as usual. The Community War Fund, the Service Men's Center, and the Illinois Veterans Services will get the proceeds of this final week of Chicago's racing season.

The betting handle for the first of the six charity days was $613,395. On the corresponding day last year it was $295,274.

The speedy Marion Collins got home two lengths ahead of Sharpshell in a seven furlong allowance event, feature of the afternoon's program. Racing at odds of a little better than even money, she moved up between horses approaching the stretch and came on to win handily at a payoff of $4.20. Boom On was third.

Skoronski Rides Winners.

Tony Skoronski, who is leading the jockeys at Sportsman's Park as he did at Hawthorne, rode both of the horses which figured in a $17.40 daily double—Hadatime in the first and Three Bangs in the second. Individually, they paid $6.80 and $7.60, respectively. With those prices, a substantially larger double might have been expected but a lot of the fans apparently decided to string along with Skoronski and lump his two mounts together.

Hadatime stayed up with the pace thruout but he scored by only a nose over Liberty Flight when he tired, after disposing of Ann-A-Vish in a spirited duel. The latter finished third.

Three Bangs Wins Easily.

Things went more smoothly aboard Three Bangs. This horse took command in the stretch and drew away to win by three and a half lengths over Chance Tea. Leo's Brandy was third.

Hill's Palm yesterday continued his series of exceptionally good performances by winning for the fifth time in seven starts this month. Five purses in a month is a record of consistency which few horses could match.

Hill's Palm delivered his successful effort yesterday in a seven furlong dash which drew six horses of the $2,500 class. He came home two and a half lengths ahead of Hard Twist, Flying Double being third. Despite his excellent record, Hill's Palm paid off at $7.60.

Rykovich, Star Irish Back, Is Ill at Home

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 1 [Special].—Julius Rykovich, star sophomore right half back on the Notre Dame varsity, is confined to bed at his home in Gary, Ind., with a stomach ailment, Coach Frank Leahy was advised today by the family physician.

Rykovich went home for a visit over Sunday following Notre Dame's 33 to 6 victory over Navy in Cleveland last Saturday. He may not return for several days, the coach was told. With the No. 1 right half back missing as practice started for the Army game in New York next Saturday, Bob Kelly, sophomore from Leo High school in Chicago, worked out with the first team today.

Lujack at Quarter Back.

Another newcomer in the starting lineup was Johnny Lujack, sophomore quarter back who will succeed Angelo Bertelli in that position. Bertelli left today for Parris Island, S. C., with 89 other special trainees to begin marine corps officer training. Among the group was Andy Phillip, former University of Illinois basketball star.

Lujack has been understudy to both Bertelli and Creighton Miller, left half, in the team's six winning games to date. Bob Hanlon, freshman full back from Leo High school, Chicago, was tried at left half back today as Coach Leahy sought a player to succeed Lujack as second stringer in that position. If Hanlon can master the details of his new position he will be alternated between left half and full back for the remainder of the season.

Only Sophomores Available.

The choice of a No. 2 quarter back to understudy Lujack will be made from among the only three available candidates—all sophomores—Frank Dancewicz of Lynn, Mass.; George Terlep of Elkhart, Ind., and Steve Nemeth of South Bend.

George Case, champion base stealer of the American league, will be the highest paid Senator next season. . . . Al Vaccaro, former football guard at Georgetown university, has been reported missing in action. . . . Andy Farkas of the Redskins, who claimed the flattest feet in the National Football league up to this season, now concedes that honor to Frankie Sinkwich of the Lions, who, it is said, can use his shoes for table tennis paddles. . . . This department hopes that the universities which are starting their football games a half hour later than usual are aware that some of them will be finished by lamplight during November.

SEEK RIGHT END AT MARQUETTE; BENKENDORF OUT

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 1 [Special].—The search for a right end was the main business today as the Marquette university football team started preparations for Sunday afternoon's game here with the Iowa Pre-Flight eleven.

SEAHAWKS TAKE LONG DRILL IN FUNDAMENTALS

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 1 [Special].—The Iowa Seahawks spent another day reviewing offensive and defensive fundamentals today as they began preparations for what Coach Don Faurot expects will be a hard battle Sunday with Marquette. The review was principally for the new men who joined the squad last week.

Passing and kicking came in for considerable attention, Faurot confining most of the work to light drills. Some contact work is scheduled for tomorrow with heavier sessions Wednesday and Thursday.

BERTELLI GONE, BUT MEMORY OF SKILL LINGERS

Game Goes On—4 Big Ones for Irish.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Notre Dame's football team, undefeated in six games, now advances to a climatic month of its season in which it will face Army, Northwestern, Iowa Seahawks, and Great Lakes in succession. Seventy-two thousand—a sellout crowd—will watch the Irish and the Cadets in Yankee stadium Saturday.

This Notre Dame team already has been compared with the school's undefeated national champions of 1929 and 1930. Obviously, however, Notre Dame must continue victorious and thus, if additional incentive were needed to point the importance of Saturday's game with Army, it is supplied by the fact that Johnny Lujack now will take over the duties performed for six games by Angelo Bertelli. The Irish quarter back ended his season in the game with Navy and has been transferred from Notre Dame to Parris Island, S. C., for marine training.

Had Teammates' Confidence.

Notre Dame has lost a superlative forward passer whose record this season in six games was 25 completed passes in 36 attempts, 10 for touchdowns. But Notre Dame also has lost a field general who had mastered the possibilities of the T formation. His teammates have had confidence in his generalship and this was founded as much on Bertelli's three years' experience as on the success of the plays he called.

Bertelli's forward passing record for three years follows:

| | *G. | P.A. | P.C. | T.D. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1941 | 9 | 123 | 70 | 8 |
| 1942 | 11 | 165 | 74 | 11 |
| 1943 | 6 | 36 | 25 | 10 |

*G.—Games played. P. A.—Passes attempted. P. C.—Passes completed. T. D.—Touchdowns.

Bertelli's three year record was 169 completed passes in 324 attempts for an average of .522. These passes scored 29 touchdowns and also created opportunities for many others.

They Pay Off on Scores.

The number of touchdowns clearly indicates Bertelli's value as a forward passer for the mere percentage of completions does not necessarily mean anything. Davey O'Brien, the former Texas Christian passer, who set a record for completions while playing professional football with Philadelphia, never has been ranked as equal to Sammy Baugh and Cecil Isbell in the National Football league because many of the passes were completed for short gains.

Passes into the flat zones, particularly those completed behind the line of scrimmage, always should be caught since the secondary defense generally permits the completion and is satisfied to have the receiver covered. Attempt of the secondary to intercept these short flat throws may lead to touchdowns or long gains if the effort fails.

Behind Bertelli's record is his knowledge of when to throw. Bertelli never has pitched passes merely to build up his own record and in many cases he has deftly created the opening in opponents' defenses by selection of running plays which preceded. This also works in reverse, for Bertelli likewise has created openings for quick thrusts into the line by the half backs by opening up a defense with the threat of his passes.

Irish Attack to Suffer.

Loss of Bertelli will cut down the efficiency of Notre Dame's attack. In experience he is irreplaceable and no college man this year can match his accuracy in passing. Moreover, Lujack has had little game experience at quarter back principally because it would have been unfair to Bertelli to remove him from competition solely to provide experience for Lujack.

However, Notre Dame still has one tremendous asset on which its running attack has been based. The Irish line remains intact for the Army game and that line has been called the best in the country. Certainly, it has speed no other team has shown. And finally, Notre Dame's defense will not be handicapped by loss of Bertelli. Lujack is a fine tackler and knows his assignment, which is expected to be defensive right half back, the position Bertelli played for the last two years.

BACK IN THE MAJORS

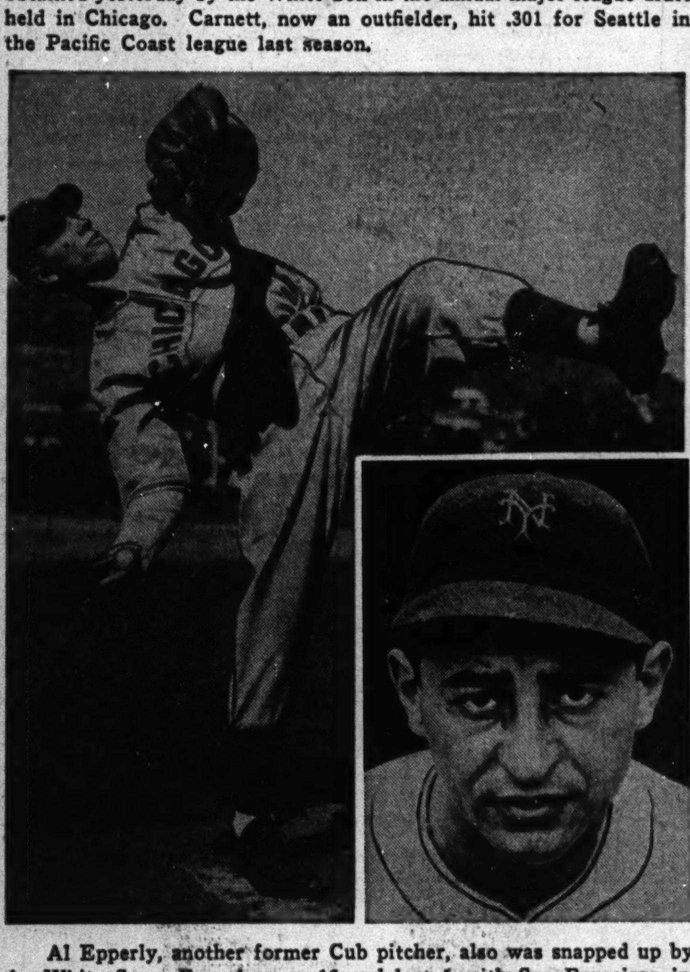
Ed Carnett, one time Cub southpaw pitching prospect, who was obtained yesterday by the White Sox in the annual major league draft held in Chicago. Carnett, now an outfielder, hit .301 for Seattle in the Pacific Coast league last season.



Al Epperly, another former Cub pitcher, also was snapped up by the White Sox. Epperly won 16 and lost 5 with San Francisco in 1943. It's back to New York for Phil Weintraub (inset), a Chicagoan who once was with the Giants. Phil played first base for Toledo of the American association in the last campaign and his old employers drafted him.

Johnsos Seeks Rope to Hang Tackling Dummy, Packers

BY EDWARD PRELL.

What does a professional football coach do on his theoretical day off—with Green Bay coming up as the next opponent?

Yesterday afternoon Luke Johnsos, one of the Chicago Bear coaches, secluded himself in his Evanston home and drew up a few new plays to spring on the Packers. Then he worried about whether New York — that's what every one calls him — of the Wrigley field maintenance staff, had located a vital piece of rope.

And last night Luke talked to a group of Boy Scouts, telling them the advantages the American kids have over those of other nations. But you can bet he was thinking of Sunday's game, too, during the oration.

Johnsos Says Outcome Will Depend on Final Five Minutes.

"Gosh," said Luke, who has met the Packers both as player and coach, "those guys always are rough for the Bears. I guess we'll be 8 to 5 favorites but I tell you Sunday's game is a tossup. The outcome will depend on which team has the ball the last five minutes."

The Bears will start preparations at 9 o'clock this morning for the game which will decide the western section championship of the National league. That's half an hour earlier than the regulation beginning and only emphasizes the importance attached to the battle.

It's no joking matter — that frenzied hunt for rope. The hempen strands of the tackling dummy broke last week and the coaches blame this circumstance on the erratic tackling of the team in Sunday's victory over the Detroit Lions. Mr. New York has visited all the shops in the Wrigley field neighborhood without success, so Johnsos intimated Groundskeeper Bobby Dorr's veteran employe had better not report today without the rope.

The Bear coach likewise looks for a high scoring game. He pointed out Don Hutson has played 50 minutes in each of the last two Packer games. Asked why Don has been playing so much, the Packers' coach, Curly Lambeau, is reported to have replied, "To get him in shape for the Bears."

Canadeo Wrests League Ground Gaining Lead from Clark.

Tony Canadeo had a big day against the New York Giants Sunday, both as a passer and as a runner and actually wrested the league ground lead from the Bears' Harry Clark.

Tho the Bears have lost five players since they first met the Packers in that 21 to 21 draw last September, Johnsos figures the team perhaps is in better shape with game No. 2 coming up. This is his logic:

At least four players—Bulldog Turner, Danny Fortmann, Hampton Pool, and Johnny Siegal—were hobbling from injuries suffered in an exhibition game. Of course, Siegal since has joined the navy, but the other three are in top condition.

Mr. Famiglietti Serves Notice He's Still with Bears.

"The Bears won't be so strong in reserves, but shucks," says Luke, "we used to play 50 and 60 minutes a few seasons ago." The newcomers, and these include Bronko Nagurski, are in better condition and know the system of play better by having performed in five subsequent games.

Most pleasing development of Sunday's game was the hard running of Gary Famiglietti. He looked like the Famiglietti of 1942 who was third in the league in scoring and gained 503 yards to lead all full backs. Against the Lions Sunday, Gary carried the ball 12 times for 73 yards.

BUY EPPERLY AND CARNETT, ONE TIME CUBS

Majors Select 15 in Chicago Meeting.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Fifteen ball players were promoted to the status of major leaguers yesterday by medium of the annual draft of minor league talent. Representatives of 12 of the 16 major clubs assembled in the office of Commissioner K. M. Landis and in 20 minutes completed a piece of business for which most of them had traveled long distances.

Eight of the 16 clubs failed to file a claim personally or by mail, indicating a fairly well spread notion that the quality of talent available was limited. Among those not drafting were the Cubs, who have 40 men on their roster, the winter maximum. But the White Sox picked off a pair, who, strangely enough, once were Cub property.

The Sox caught Edwin Carnett, Seattle outfielder, who when a Cub, had ambitions to become a pitcher. He batted .301 last season. The other fellow destined to undergo Boss James Dykes' critical eye next spring is Al Epperly who turned out 16 victories against 5 defeats for the San Francisco Seals the past season.

Wilson and Gallagher Attend.

Instead of drafting, which would have necessitated making room on his 40 player list, General Manager Jim Gallagher brought along his field boss, Jim Wilson, who, according to rumors, is going to be pitched out as soon as arrangements can be made.

The "Fire Wilson" campaigners were slightly taken back by the fellow's appearance but claimed they found consolation in the fact that he refrained from talk about the future. He insisted nothing has been said to him one way or the other about 1944 and, of course, Mr. Gallagher never has been even slightly talkative on the subject. Wilson will remain in town for several days.

The Giants, who finished eighth in the National league, indicated their desperate state by having four representatives at the meeting and drafting four players. From Toledo they took First Baseman Phil Weintraub, who was a Giant five seasons back. From Minneapolis they claimed Pitcher Ewald Pyle, who was traded to that club in midseason this year. The other Giant draftees are Hugh Luby, a second baseman from the Oakland, Cal., team, and George Hausman of New Orleans, also a second sacker.

May Draft Others.

The draft list of 15 may be swelled because the majors have three days in which to make selections by mail. The draft of yesterday was as follows:

Giants—First Baseman Phil Weintraub, Toledo; Second Baseman Hugh Luby, Oakland, Cal.; Pitcher Ewald Pyle, Minneapolis; Second Baseman George Hausman, New Orleans.

Red Sox—Pitcher Clem Hausman, Kansas City.

Browns—Catcher Henry Helf, Milwaukee.

Tigers—Infielder Eddie Mayo, Louisville; Infielder Joe Orengo, St. Paul.

HAWKS STEP UP SCORING DRILLS FOR CANADIENS

Rookie Goal Tender Is Lauded by Thompson.

Chicago's Blackhawks, off to an inadequate start Sunday night before the largest opening crowd in hockey's history, practiced long and earnestly in the Stadium yesterday in an effort to attain something pertaining to coördination, a department that was sadly lacking on the part of the forwards in the opening game, which went to Toronto, 4 to 1.

Work on Offense.

Manager Paul Thompson praised the work of Hec Highton, 20 year old rookie goalie, against the sharpshooting Leafs, but the youngster received little offensive help from his more experienced teammates.

Doug Bentley, Bill Thoms, Mush March, Cully Dahlstrom, Fido Purpur, and Johnny Gottselig, who were confidently expected to provide the offensive fireworks for the opener, fell far below their accustomed standard. Manager Thompson announced last night that he will concentrate on the scoring department in preparations for the meeting with Dick Irvin's Canadiens, who will oppose the Hawks Thursday night in the Stadium.

Campbell to Play.

Altho nervousness played its part i· Highton's pro debut, three goals were the result of rebounds, the terror of all net minders. The other was a deflected puck from either the stick or body of one of his own teammates. The concensus of opinion among the Hawks' players is that Highton, with a couple of breaks in the Hawks' favor, would have won the game. The Bentley-Thoms-Mosienko trio accounted for the only Hawk goal.

Clem Harnedy, the University of Southern California goalie, is still under the Hawks' physician's care, suffering from arthritis and will not be able to participate in workouts for at least three weeks.

Crisler Tells How Sports Help Soldiers

Attacking reformers who carry on their campaigns against football and other collegiate and competitive sports in peace as well as in war, Fritz Crisler, athletic director of the University of Michigan, addressed the weekly Quarter Back luncheon yesterday in the Terrace room of the Morrison hotel.

Crisler, himself a graduate and former football star at the University of Chicago, took issue with the action of Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the university, in abolishing intercollegiate football at that institution. "When an educator at a university on the south side of Chicago abolished football," Crisler said, "he asserted that the teachings of athletic coaches served no real purpose to students. Maybe we coaches have not helped much in the advancement of education, but I suggest that the teachings and the competitive sports that athletes have picked up on the nation's gridirons have served these boys well in the present war."

Dorais Supports Stand.

Charles [Gus] Dorais, coach of the Detroit Lions of the National Football league, supported Crisler's views on the importance of football.

Doug Mills, athletic director of the University of Illinois, referred to the Illini football players as the "Vanishing Illini" in that athletes leave the campus weekly to report for duty elsewhere with the army, navy, or marines.

Wailers Hear Purdue Trio.

Pictures of the Boilermakers' 32 to 0 conquest of the Badgers were shown. Speakers included three members of the Purdue athletic board of strategy, Athletic Director Guy [Red] Mackey, Head Coach Elmer Burnham, and Line Coach Joe Dienhart.

The second physical examination for boxers eligible to compete in the 13th annual Catholic Youth organization amateur tournament will be held in C. Y. O. center gymnasium, 31 East Congress street, between 6 and 8 o'clock tonight.

ROY LEWIS WINS OVER JOYCE IN MARIGOLD BOUT

Fight Decisions

LAST NIGHT'S RESULTS.

At Providence, R. I.—Lulu Costantino knocked out Donnie Maes [4].

Roy Lewis, 1940 Golden Gloves featherweight titleholder, beat Jimmy Joyce of Gary in a bristling eight round bout in Marigold Gardens last night. It was a split decision, Referee Tommy Thomas and Judge James McManus voting for Lewis while Rube Metz, the other judge, called it a draw.

Joyce's right eye was closed in the third round, but in the fourth Jimmy scored with a right to the solar plexis, which almost ended the contest. A series of rights cut open Lewis' mouth in the fifth.

A crowd of 1,324, which paid $2,238, saw three of the four supporting matches end in knockouts, decisions going to Otis McGraw, Detroit, Mich., middleweight; Isadore Miner, southside welterweight, and Gene Simmons, Indianapolis, Ind., 163 pounder.

McGraw floored Richard J. Lewis of Denver, Col., for the count in the second round; Miner knocked out Danny Freeman of Ashtabula, O., in the first, and Simmons sent Bishop Murphy to the canvas for the count, also in the first round.

Dan Merritt, Cleveland, O., heavyweight and a former Chicagoland Golden Gloves champion, won a decision in eight rounds over Eddie Sarkesian, also of Detroit.

IN PEACETIME, Old Grand-Dad was a rare treat because of its rare quality. Now it is rare for other reasons—the Old Grand-Dad distillery is occupied with war work, and all that is available for sale must come from stocks laid by before the war. This is not enough to meet increased wartime demands, with the result that your dealer is likely to sell out each shipment as quickly as it is received. Don't be discouraged though; he will receive more, and your patience in asking for it again and again will in due time be rewarded.

Please be patient. We're doing our best to spread our prewar stocks of Old Grand-Dad fairly—as we are now engaged in war production of alcohol.

MORE TROUBLE FOR BADGERS; 5 PLAYERS LOST

Blow Falls as Team Is Preparing for Wildcats.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 1 [Special].—Trouble struck the University of Wisconsin football squad again today when five more navy V-5 trainees, one of them a regular on the varsity squad were transferred. Bob Letz, regular right guard; Dean Lowe, center who has been inserted to play when the Badgers are on the defense; Bob Clarke, regular quarter back thru most of the early season games; Farnum Ferguson, tackle, and Bob Zerwer, an end were today ordered to Chicago. Also leaving, but previously announced, was Ken Laird, center.

Loss Is Severe.

The loss of these men will be a severe blow to the shorthanded Badgers as they prepare to tackle tough Northwestern. Coach Harry Stuhldreher announced today that Ray Dooney, full back and naval trainee at the university, would captain the Badgers in the game against the Wildcats. Dooney played fine ball against Purdue and gained more yardage than any Badger back has in any single game this season. He played freshman football at Notre Dame before going into service. Dooney did not join the Badgers until mid-season.

Some cheer came to the Badger camp as Don Kindt reported after an absence of several weeks due to a leg injury and Jake Eulberg, regular right end who has missed the last two games, revealed that he was ready to go. Clarence Esser, tackle, injured for the past three weeks, is also believed ready to get back into action as is Clarence Self, back, who has been out for two weeks.

Newcomers Check In.

Two newcomers who reported a week ago, Charles Schoenherr and Gordon Taylor will be given every chance this week to break into the regular lineup. The pair are powerful looking backs, but must still learn the Badger attack.

The game will be Wisconsin's Homecoming and should attract the best crowd of the season.

WILDCATS TAKE REST.

Coach Lynn Waldorf called off football practice at Northwestern yesterday, not because the Wildcats underrate Wisconsin, their next opponent, but because the navy and marine players on the squad were on leave. They will report today for the start of the new term in the V-12 training program.

Nick Vodick, who is being groomed to take over Don Buffmire's job at full back, sparkled offensively and defensively against the Gophers. His sharp tackling was one of the bright spots of the game from Northwestern's point of view. Bill Adler, making his first appearance as understudy to Otto Graham, looked impressive as a ball carrier.

Fred Lauer, freshman guard, and navy trainee has been assigned to the naval V-12 training program at Notre Dame.

SOCCER SCHOOLS FOR BOYS WILL START TODAY

The first four of the nine soccer schools for boys, sponsored by the Chicago Sports association in cooperation with the International Soccer league, the Illinois soccer commission, the Chicago park district, and the athletic department of the board of education, open this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

On the northwest side, the youngsters may register at Jefferson park, Wellington and Hoyne avenues. The west side boys will start at Sparta stadium, 22d street and Kostner avenue, with the south siders appearing in Yates stadium, 82d street and Yates avenue. The other five schools will start their classes later in the week.

SAILORS COUNT BRUISES; READY FOR WARRIORS

Four key back field men—three of them starters—were on the sidelines yesterday as the Great Lakes Bluejackets ran thru a brief limbering up drill before starting preparations for Saturday's game with Camp Grant at the naval training station.

Half Backs Steve Lach and Emil Sitko and Quarter Back Paul Anderson of the starting unit reported injuries after Saturday's 32 to 6 victory at Western Michigan. Ray Jones, Lach's No. 1 relief man, also was nursing a leg injury.

Sheppard Stops Brown in 11th; Breaks Foe's Jaw

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 1 (AP).—Curtis Sheppard, Pittsburgh Negro, scored an 11th round knockout over Big Boy Brown tonight in a scheduled 12 round bout in the Coliseum. Brown, 245 pound Detroit Negro, was swung around by a terrific right to the chin which broke his jaw, and bleeding from the mouth he tumbled thru the ropes after motioning Sheppard away.

Roy Zeff Captures City Amateur 3 Cushion Title

Roy Zeff won the city amateur three cushion billiard title by defeating Clyde Stultz, 35 to 18, in the Wabash avenue Bensinger's recreation last night. Zeff had a high run of seven, to four for Stultz. Robert Greenberg and Ernie Macey will meet at the same place tonight to determine the runner-up of the tournament.

Purdue's Task of Rebuilding Eleven Begins

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 1 [Special].—Deprived of 13 members of the undefeated Purdue football squad including mainstays of both line and back field, by transfers of marine and navy V-12 students, Coach Elmer Burnham will be forced to wait until Wednesday when remaining members of the squad return from furloughs and vacations before launching his reconstruction program for the Minnesota game in Minneapolis on Saturday.

GOPHERS TAKE LIGHT DRILL.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 1 (AP).—Dr. George Hauser gave the Minnesota football aspirants a comparatively light workout today as he sought replacements for Bill Garnaas, quarter back who is being transferred by the navy, and Bob Graizgier, injured in the game with Northwestern last Saturday.

Graizgier was confined to the university health service with a leg injury. Hauser had Bill Peterson and Red Williams practicing kicking in his efforts to find a replacement for Garnaas as the team prepared for its game with Purdue Saturday.

RESUME PLAY IN TENPIN DOUBLES MEET TONIGHT

Inland Steel Completes Fifty Years of Service

1893 - 1943

Eight men gathered around a table in Chicago on the afternoon of October 30, 1893—fifty years ago. They were men who saw and understood the needs of the rapidly growing Prairie Empire.

They had come together to found the Inland Steel Company, to purchase a dismantled rolling mill, to place it in operation during a period of war panic and business stagnation. After months of effort the mill was started and in the first year 5,600 tons were rolled into many useful forms for steel-hungry industry and agriculture.

Years passed—some in peace and plenty, others in war or depression. Steadily the little company forged ahead in the quality and the acceptance of its products. Land soon was acquired at Indiana Harbor, where Inland constructed its first open hearth furnaces and rolling mills. Expansion continued—blast furnaces, coke ovens, continuous mills, ore mines, coal mines, a limestone quarry, a fleet of freighters, a thoroughly equipped metallurgical laboratory—until Inland Steel Company was in full control of essential basic materials and the quality of all its many steel products. Production had climbed to 3,300,000 tons annually. Then came World War II.

Almost over night Inland, with modern mills and thousands of skilled steelmakers, turned to provide the steel to defend our country—to win against aggression. Today, fifty years after its founding, Inland is sending its output to men who fight. When peace comes Inland again will send steel to men who build.

OCTOBER WAR PLANE OUTPUT EXCEEDS 8,200

Tops August's Peak by About 600.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 [Special].—After months of striving the aircraft industry last month achieved a production pace which, if continued, will give the United States an output of close to 100,000 planes annually, it was learned tonight.

The October production was in excess of 8,200 airplanes [some officials said it would be closer to 8,300] for the first time since the war production program got under way. October output compares with a September total of 7,598, and 7,612 for August, the previous record.

Record in Big Bombers.

War production board officials are jubilant over the October figures. They explained that the total included a record number of heavy bombers. The "weight per plane" in the last month's production, they said, will show a sharp increase from preceding months—an indication that heavy bomber schedules are being met.

Official announcement of last month's production is expected from the WPB tomorrow. Executives said today they are particularly pleased by the October showing because of the many difficulties faced in aircraft production in the last several months.

Some Models Scrapped.

Frequent changes in designs, the scrapping of some models of planes entirely, and development of bottlenecks in the output of highly important parts combined to slow down output thru the summer, and to hamstring the efforts of industry and war agency officials to get production back to normal levels.

Another handicap which threatened satisfactory output for some time has been the man power problem. Development of the west coast man power program has helped alleviate the difficulties on that score along the Pacific coast and its adaption to other aircraft production centers is expected to relieve the general situation.

BREWSTER PACT WITH LABOR HAS WLB SANCTION

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—The war labor board today approved amendments to the labor contract at the Brewster Aeronautical corporation on recommendation of a referee who reported that the relationship between union and management, once explosive, is now "a splendid one." The contract covers plants at Long Island City, N. Y., Newark, N. J., and Johnsville, Pa., which have been the subject of congressional investigations because of strikes and low production records. Henry J. Kaiser, chairman of the board, recently appointed new management personnel.

Henderson Predicts Big Unemployment After War

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—Unemployment reaching 4 million by the end of 1944 and possibly three times that many jobless by the end of 1945—assuming the defeat of Germany next spring—was forecast in a study just completed by the Research Institute of America. The staff which prepared the survey is headed by Leon Henderson, former price administrator, and Leo Cherne, editor in chief for the institute.

Stock Market Prices Recede in Light Trade

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—Specialties, including liquors and a variety of peace rated stocks, made a relatively good showing in today's market altho many leaders never were able to get out of the minus column.

Aiding issues with a favorable post-war outlook was the text of the Moscow conference proceedings confirming intentions of allied coöperation both during and after the war. This had been pretty well discounted in the market, however, and gains in most cases were moderate. A number of regular and extra dividends helped individual shares. Commitments were trimmed in numerous instances pending tomorrow's election holiday.

Trading Is Slow.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 0.1 of a point at 50.7. Trading generally was slow altho sizable blocks of low priced issues put volume at 648,660 shares compared with 668,010 Friday.

Stocks benefiting from extra payments to shareholders were Decca Records, Standard Oil [N. J.], and Sears Roebuck. Braniff Airways came on the big board for the first time today and sold at 14 in the morning but slipped to 13¼ after declaration of an initial 15 cent dividend. American Distilling added 2 points.

BOND PRICES LOWER.

New York, Nov. 1 (AP).—The bond market was irregularly lower today but losses were mostly small and there were a few substantial advances.

Atlantic Coast Line 4s, collateral 4s and 4½s moved up 1¼ to 2⅝ points on news the road had about 6½ million dollars for debt retirement thru tenders. Central of Georgia's Chattanooga division 4s advanced 4½ points to 57¾ on sale of 5 bonds and Kansas City Southern 3s and Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis 4s each improved around a point.

The majority of reorganization rails and medium priced issues of solvent companies closed lower.

CHICAGO LIST SAGS.

Declines predominated in less active trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, altho 6 issues attained new 1943 highs. Among the more active, Standard Dredging closed unchanged at 2, with trading accounting for 1,450 of the total transactions of 17,000 shares.

STATE NO-PROFIT UNITS MUST FILE TO DO BUSINESS

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 1 (AP).—An estimated 11,000 domestic and an undetermined number of foreign not-for-profit corporations operating in Illinois must list for the first time after Jan. 1, 1944, their registered office and agent with the Illinois secretary of state's office.

If not-for-profit corporations domestic to Illinois fail to comply within a 90 day period they are subject to dissolution, corporation department officials said today in interpreting a new act passed by the last legislature.

PATCH POCKETS BAN LIFTED TO SAVE ON LININGS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—The WPB lifted the ban on patch pockets in men's wool garments today to conserve lining materials which are in short supply. It was explained that full or half linings are unnecessary in men's coats, which can be finished in what the industry calls "skeleton trim," if patch pockets are used.

The ban against flaps on pockets, on all except Cossack and lumber jackets, was continued. Sleeve cuffs will be permitted on boys' outer wear and mackinaws, to allow lengthening sleeves for growing boys.

The order also permits adding an inch to the in-seam length of cotton and rayon trousers to compensate for laundry shrinkage. All curtailment on the use of wool cloth linings were removed.

'Expediters' Slow Freight, Says Eastman

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation, today asked shippers to restrain "so-called freight expediters" who he said interfere with railroad operating efficiency and slow freight movement generally.

"It recently has come to my attention that numerous shippers of railroad freight are employing so-called freight expediters in an effort to speed up the movement and delivery of particular cars of freight," Eastman said.

Subjected to Inquiries.

"These individuals watch the progress of cars between origin and destination and attempt to expedite their movements thru terminals, yards, and transfer points. They subject yardmasters and other operating men to frequent inquiries and are constantly trying to obtain preferential movement of the cars in which they are interested."

Eastman said the practice cannot be tolerated because the expediters "waste time and hamper performance of the duties of the yardmasters and other railroad employes."

Lauds Railroads' Effort.

"The railroads, carrying a load of freight traffic surpassing anything in their history, are exerting every effort to move it as expeditiously as possible," he said.

"By and large, their freight performance to date has been nothing short of remarkable. Despite the high level of operating efficiency already attained, moreover, active efforts are now being made to effect a further increase of 10 per cent in the over-all efficiency of freight car performance."

STUDY REVEALS TRICKS LURK IN RENEGOTIATION

Plants with Varied Lines Least Hit.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

How tricky are the results of contract renegotiation is illustrated by results achieved in individual cases.

Several factors bring about unusual results in some cases. A company whose facilities are fully devoted to war production is likely to come out with a lower rate of profit than a concern which retains some part of its civilian business.

The first step in contract renegotiation is to determine the percentage of a company's total volume subject to renegotiation. This question itself may be difficult. After it is settled the government negotiators decide what profit the contractor should be allowed on his war business.

Hypothetical Cases Cited.

Using hypothetical cases, contractor A, whose business is entirely for war, may be allowed a profit, before taxes, of 8 per cent of his sales. Contractor B, only 50 per cent of whose business is renegotiable, is allowed the same rate on his war business. But contractor B may earn twice the rate of profit on his civilian lines and the net rate on his total volume will greatly exceed that

County Considers Two Bids on Debt Funding Bond Issue

Relative merits of two bids for a county bond issue of $8,346,000 will be considered this afternoon by the finance committee of the Cook county board.

Halsey, Stuart & Co. and Seipp, Princell & Co. are the bidders, and it is expected that their representatives will be present at the hearing to explain any points not clear to the commissioners.

Deputy County Controler Richard J. Daley and County Auditor Lee J. Howard analyzed the bids yesterday afternoon and found a narrow margin between them. They said that on one basis the Halsey, Stuart bid was low and that on another the competing firm was lower.

Spread Is in Interest.

"If we figure on calling the bonds as our option provides, at the rate of $500,000 a year, beginning Oct. 1, 1945," said Daley, "the Halsey Stuart bid will cost us less interest. If we are not able to pick up the option dates and the whole issue runs to 20 years the Seipp, Princell proposal will save about $7,000 in interest charges."

The Halsey Stuart proposal was to buy the entire issue at an interest rate of 2¼ per cent, and to pay the county, in addition, a premium of $120,000. This firm also offered to take $3,620,000 of the bonds separately at the rate of 2 per cent and pay the county a premium of $36,851.

Legality at Stake.

Seipp Princell offered to take $3,633,000 at 1¾ per cent and the remaining $4,713,000 at 2½ per cent. The $3,620,000 Halsey figure and the $3,633,000 bid by Seipp Princell were listed as money to be paid by the county to satisfy a court judgment held by the city. The approximate sum of $4,700,000 represents the claims of county creditors. [The proceeds of the bonds are to be used exclusively in paying off obligations of the county government contracted before Dec. 1, 1942.]

Both firms specified that the legality of the issue must be attested by counsel. Both named the legal firm of Chapman and Cutler as acceptable, and Seipp Princell added "some other" firm satisfactory to them.

County officials said that Chapman and Cutler were willing to endorse the coverage for the judgment but had not, as yet, approved the bond issue for the other debts. They said they did not think it would be good business to separate the sum needed into two parts.

NAT. DISTILLERS TO BUY CENTURY FOR 28 MILLIONS

National Distillers Products corporation has entered into a contract to purchase all the capital stock of the Century Distilling company, wholly owned subsidiary of Allied Mills, Inc., Peoria, Ill., for 28 million dollars, it was disclosed yesterday with the issuance of a call for a special meeting of the Allied Mills stockholders on Dec. 8, to consider approval of the transaction. The sale already has been approved by the company's directors.

The Century distillery in Peoria has a capacity of 600 barrels a day, altho production of whisky and gin has been suspended since the facilities were converted to processing alchohol for the government in April, 1942. John B. De Haven, president of Allied Mills, said the subsidiary normally contributed about one-third the parent company's annual profits.

LAG IN OUTPUT TRIMS INCOME OF INT. NICKEL

Shortage of Labor Slows Operations.

Unfavorable operating conditions resulting from a shortage of labor are reflected in the lower profit trend of the International Nickel company of Canada, Ltd., Robert C. Stanley, chairman and president of the corporation, which normally produces about 85 per cent of the world's nickel output, said yesterday in issuing its earnings statement for the nine months ended Sept. 30. Net income was $23,205,451, equal to $1.49 a common share, against $24,377,124, or $1.57, a share during the 1942 period.

Robert C. Stanley.

Altho directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share, Stanley said the adverse conditions may cause a further decline in earnings, with a consequent reduction in the dividend rate for 1944.

Coca-Cola Earnings Rise.

Net earnings of the Coca-Cola company during the quarter ended Sept. 30 rose to $6,678,553, equal to

RYE LEADS ALL GRAINS HIGHER AFTER DECLINE

Winter Wheat Ceiling Has No Effect.

Rye led other grains in a broad advance after a break on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday, rising 1⅝ to 2½ cents a bushel from the early low and closing ¾ to 1⅝ cents higher. Wheat gained ½ to ⅞ cent, oats ⅜ to ⅝ cent, and barley ⅞ to 1⅛ cents.

Scattered liquidation appeared early, but later heavy buying of rye was attributed to commission houses with eastern connections, which led to short covering. There was nothing in the news to account for the buying wave, brokers said.

Part of the wheat strength was attributed to a possibly higher price for bread mentioned in a Presidential message to congress on the administration's subsidy and food program.

Ceiling Has No Effect.

Announcement of a ceiling of $1.66 a bushel on No. 1 red winter wheat at Chicago and St. Louis failed to affect prices. Ceilings on this type wheat have been expected for several months, as supplies were abnormally low. Experts held that the scarcity rose from the government program to reduce the acreage, making other crops more profitable than wheat. No. 2 red winter sold in Kansas City at $1.61, or 1 cent a bushel above the ceiling.

The 34 states east of the Rocky mountains are covered in the office of price administration wheat regulation. It will also cover wheat grown in the 14 western states, but marketed in eastern points. Wheat marketed at Pacific slope terminals is exempt, as is hard wheat.

Still Below Parity.

Neither western soft wheat nor hard wheat have reached parity prices, and the OPA has no jurisdiction over wheat prices below parity. In announcing the ceiling, OPA said the regulation was necessary to check a rapid rise in soft wheat prices which began in July, and would certainly increase the cost of living unless halted.

Expiration of a government guarantee that farmers who sold cash corn on or before Oct. 31 might share in any increase of the ceiling, if announced prior to Nov. 31, brought a big decline in country offerings. Purchases were estimated at 25,000 bushels, the smallest in more than a month.

More new corn is moving, but buyers were not anxious to take it.

KELVINATOR WAR PLANTS SHUT BY SECOND STRIKE

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 1 (AP).—Production of propellers for war planes was halted at two Nash-Kelvinator company plants here today for the second time in less than a week when nearly 5,000 men walked off the job.

The walkout started with one shift in the Mount Hope plant at 2 a. m. and spread to other shifts and the other factory until the final shutdown at 9:30 a. m.

Police were called to the plant gates at 7 a. m. and said two automobiles were blocking the gates. Lt. Victor P. Scavarda of the police department said pickets were patroling the gates.

Workers struck last week for about 24 hours in a dispute over management's disciplinary actions.

GENERAL PRINTING INK.

Please review the General Printing Ink corporation.—G. D.

Answer: The company provides more than 50 per cent of the ink used by domestic magazine publishers in addition to supplying ink to newspapers and job printers. With the curtailment of printing in 1942, the company diverted a large part of its facilities to war production and established a division which manufactures industrial finishes.

By the end of last year, two of the plants were operating 100 per cent on war work, two at 50 per cent, and others to a lesser degree. The company also does some business in lithographic machinery and supplies. Plants are operated in Chicago, New York, Jersey City, Rutherford, and Harrison, N. J., Norwood, Mass., San Francisco, and Toronto, Ont.

General Printing Ink operated profitably thruout the depression altho 1932 earnings fell short of preferred dividend requirements. Dividends have been paid regularly on the common shares since incorporation of the present company in 1929. Payments last year totaled 30 cents a share.

CATTLE MARKET RECOUPS SOME OF RECENT LOSS

Lower Receipts Help in Price Rally.

The cattle market at the Chicago stock yards rallied yesterday from the 10 months' lows established late last week when the new regulations on cattle prices confused the industry. Farmers reduced shipments, and 15 to 25 cents a hundred pounds was recovered by some kinds.

Arrivals totaled 15,000 head, compared with 22,521 a week earlier, the smallest Monday total since the middle of August. New York buyers paid $16.60, the steer top, and Chicago packers paid up to $16.35. The majority sold from $14.25 to $16.

Hog Receipts Rise.

Heifers were strong to 25 cents higher. Stockers, feeders, and bulls went 25 cents higher. Calves sold steady.

Disclosure that the war food administration had warned producers that the hog floor price of $13.75 may not hold this winter brought heavy liquidation from farms, the opposite result sought by the WFA. Prices for many good 200 to 270 pounders fell to within 50 to 60 cents of the "floor" in late trading.

The top for the day was $14.55, off 5 cents from last week's close, and the average, at $14.30, showed 10 cents loss.

Pushes Cutter Stocks.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—The war food administration today issued a "statement of policy" to the meat industry to encourage accumulation of canner and cutter beef—lower grade cuts—during the current peak production season to meet civilian needs in the 1944 spring and summer months.

If control of frozen and cured meats is resumed, inventories of canner and cutter beef accumulated prior to Jan. 1 will be exempted, at least until July 1, 1944, WFA said.

OPA AUTHORIZES HIGHER CEILINGS ON LIGHT PAPER

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1 (AP).—OPA, to stimulate production of lighter weight papers in order to stretch present short supplies, today authorized premium prices above standard weight paper price ceilings for the lighter weights of groundwood specialty papers, to be used soon in many magazines and books.

The lightweight papers were not previously produced in "A" grades. Price differentials will be fixed on a sliding scale for each pound of reduction under 31 pounds per 500 sheets measuring 25 by 38 inches. Prices for paper weighing 22 to 23 pounds per 500 sheets, the lightest practicable weight, will take a 33 per cent price premium.

Seeking to encourage production of steel warm air furnaces, OPA authorized manufacturers to increase by 9 per cent their ceiling prices for these products. The increases, effective tomorrow and covering coal, gas, and oil-fired units, boost retail prices by the same margin.

BUS PASSENGERS GAIN IN OCTOBER 1ST TIME IN 1943

The Chicago Motor Coach company's traffic increased for the first time this year in October, the first month of universal transfers, the company said yesterday. The office of defense transportation curtailed bus line service late in 1942.

Revenue and transfer passengers totaled 6,500,168 in October, against 6,454,242 a year earlier, an increase of 0.07 per cent. In the first 10 months of the year 59,229,562 passengers were carried, a decline of 1.7 per cent from the 60,259,229 carried in the corresponding 1942 period.

REVEALS TRICKS HIDDEN IN U. S. RENEGOTIATION

Makers of Similar Items Affected Differently.

More striking is the diversity of results flowing from renegotiation when profits after taxes are compared. Contractors C and D operate in the same industry, doing approximately the same volume of business. Both are engaged in similar war production jobs, their performance records being roughly comparable. Contractor C, however, is better situated from a tax standpoint. His base period profits and financial set-up make him less vulnerable to the excess profits tax than contractor D.

Rate Same; Profits Vary.

Under renegotiation both companies are allowed approximately the same rate of profit before taxes, but contractor C, more fortunately situated, emerges with more money to put in reserves or pass on to stockholders than contractor D altho both have made the same contribution to war output.

The big, diversified manufacturing companies have had fewer complaints to make against renegotiation than the small, single product manufacturers. Manufacturers that turn out a wide range of products usually have a few on which they lose money. They depend on the more profitable items to make up the losses. A manufacturer who handles only one line has to make money out of it or quit business.

May Exceed Peace Net.

Under renegotiation a big manufacturer may actually get a better price on a normally unprofitable product than he does in peace time. This is because his contracts are repriced on an "over-all" basis. He is allowed a rate of profit based on his entire operation. The fact that he has unprofitable items increases the allowable profit on other production. This is not so with the single product manufacturer. He may be the lowest cost producer in his field, but the rate of profit allowed him may actually be cut when a competitor, making the same product, gets a better price.

Labeled "Secret Taxes."

Critics of the renegotiation procedure have described it as secret taxation. Decisions that affect, vitally, the welfare of individual enterprises are made by members of renegotiation boards, guided only by their own judgment and the policy guides proclaimed by the heads of the government procurement agencies. There is no provision for court review of the awards.

It is comparable, in some respects, these critics declare, to the excess profits tax. It is levied, however, without legislative standard. Because the rate is not known the full impact of the levy cannot be anticipated. The very fact that the results of its application are uncertain makes it a double hazard in the eyes of the business man whose solvency depends on his ability to accurately estimate all the elements that enter into his operations.

CLARK DEFENDS TAX ASSESSING AT FULL VALUES

Presses His Plan Despite Prophecy of Loss.

County Assessor John S. Clark said yesterday he would issue a statement today on his intention to assess Cook county property at 100 per cent of value.

Apparently unperturbed by the charge of Philip Collins, director of the state department of revenue, that the plan would cause great confusion and perhaps cost the county's taxing bodies large losses in railroad taxes, Clark indicated he felt it was time to do something toward simplifying and equalizing assessments all over the state.

Gets "Sound Legal Advice."

"Whatever I do will be with competent legal advice," the assessor asserted.

Collins said the state department of revenue assesses railroad property and capital stock of Illinois corporations in Cook county at about $155,000,000, or 31 per cent of full value. The 31 per cent, he said, represents, theoretically, the weighted average factor of full value over the whole state. A Cook county 100 per cent assessment, he said, would mean a 60 per cent figure on the assessment of railway property and capital stock over the state.

If the department's assessment here rose to $300,000,000 under this system, Collins said, the tax rates might go down so much that the rails and capital stock might produce millions less in local taxes.

Denies Correlation of Rates.

Clark said there was no correlation of tax rates over the state and that county assessors used reduction factors varying, between counties, from 15 to 75 per cent.

The courts, he added, had always condemned any assessments made at less than 100 per cent of value, but had "condoned" them under special circumstances as in the public interest.

SOLDIER TO FACE COURT TODAY IN T-COUPON THEFT

Pvt. Walter McElroy, 18 years old, formerly of 933 North Mozart street, was brought back to Chicago from Jackson barracks at New Orleans, La., yesterday by Detective Edward Witry to face charges of larceny in connection with the theft of thousands of T coupons good for 2,000,000 gallons of gasoline. He will be arraigned in Felony court today.

Julius Sherwin, assistant state's attorney, who unearthed the alleged theft, said that McElroy worked for the Ansell-Simplex Ticket company, 2844 Chicago avenue, last summer, and in June found a job there for a juvenile whom he used in his scheme.

McElroy allegedly set aside defective T coupons. The boy was supposed to destroy them but spirited them away, said Sherwin. Then, he said, several men were approached to sell and distribute the coupons. One, Anthony Coconate, 17, was recently sentenced to federal prison for hijacking. Officials of the office of price administration say that only 5 per cent of the several hundred thousand individual coupons have been recovered. According to Sherwin they have been traced from Rockford, Ill., to Milwaukee, Wis.

6 LIQUOR FIRMS SUED BY OPA FOR MILLION DOLLARS

Defendants and the amounts sought from each are L. A. Weiss & Co., 134 North La Salle street, $338,448; J. R. Hyde, 139 North Clark street, $467,000; Sam Freedman company, Cincinnati, $84,091; Biscayne Distributing company, Inc., 2749 Sheffield avenue, $9,322; R. L. Buse Co., Cincinnati, $20,165, and Esub & Co., Cincinnati, $31,781.

Jack H. Oppenheim, attorney for the OPA regional office, who filed the suits, said all the defendants except Hyde are accused of selling liquor above ceiling prices to Hyde, who thereupon sold it to the Seagram Distributing company of New York.

The suits were assigned to Judge William J. Campbell.

SUSPENDS MEAT DEALER'S TRADE FOR 13 MONTHS

W. M. FcFarland, chief OPA hearing commissioner in Chicago, announced yesterday he has ordered a 13 months business suspension for Christ Euthimiadis, operator of a meat market at 4858 Cottage Grove avenue, for violation of ration regulations. The order is effective Dec. 1. In September, Euthimiadis was found guilty of overdrawing his ration bank account by 21,418 points and was suspended from business for six months, with the provision the suspension would be stayed after 15 days if he could place his account in order. New charges of ration violation were filed later by the OPA and after a hearing the heavier penalty was agreed to by stipulation of the OPA and the meat dealer.

Fire Alarms in October Total 2,679, Gain of 408

There were 2,679 fire alarms in October, an increase of 408 over the number for October, 1942, Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan reported yesterday. There were six "extra" alarms last month, in which additional apparatus was called in, against three in October a year ago.

Charles Danny weeping.

With the arrest of Mrs. Charles B. Danny at her home yesterday, the five members of the Danny family found themselves widely dispersed in various jails and institutions about the city.

Danny, 36 years old, a tool grinder, was arrested Sunday night in an intoxicated condition at Clark and Huron streets. He and his wife were booked by Hudson avenue police on a charge of abandoning their children, who were found suffering from neglect and hunger in their home, 1661 Vine street, Sunday, after neighbors reported the parents' absence.

Margaret, who is 8 years of age and the oldest of the three children, was taken to the Juvenile home by police. Her brother, Charles Jr., 3 years old, and sister, Jean, 11 months old, were removed to St. Vincent's orphanage.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny are to appear in the Court of Domestic Relations this morning. Mrs. Danny told Detective J. Howard Summers that she left home Saturday morning for her job at Frank Karg Drug company, 1029 West 47th street, thinking her husband would arrive soon to care for the children. Feeling ill, she said she went to her mother's home at 3010 Emerald avenue, but decided to "get drunk" when she reached home Sunday night and found her husband and children gone. Danny was treated at County hospital for a black eye before being locked up at Hudson avenue police station.
